Senate Faces Finance Issue On Work-Relief

Several Proposals Are Presented As President Wins On Bill

HUGE PROPOSED FUND APPROVED

Opponents Fail In Effort To Reduce $4,800,000,000 Work-Relief Sum

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 20.—After voting President Roosevelt two smashing victories against efforts of the conservatives to slash his $4,800,000,000 Work Relief bill, the senate today faced the question of providing for payment of the huge appropriation.

The question was raised by Senator Thomas (D) of Oklahoma, in an amendment, calling for mandatory inflation of the currency through silver. Thomas said it would not raise revenue directly to finance the huge relief program but it would so expand the currency as to make it easier for taxpayers "to secure funds for payment of the taxes necessary to meet this staggering debt burden."

Proposals Suggested

Two other proposals to pay the cost directly were waiting consideration. One plan, by Senator Wheeler (D) of Montana, would finance the bill by issuing U. S. treasury notes to be retired over a long period of years. This inflationary plan would switch the financing of the government's shifting debt burden from short-time interest-bearing notes to non-interest bearing paper money. Wheeler said the paper money would have the same financial stability as the short term notes, since both were supported only by the faith and credit of the government.

The other proposal, introduced by Senator Townsend (R) of Delaware, would force the administration to start balancing the budget. It would prevent expenditure of any part of the $4,000,000,000 Work Relief fund until the government issued long term bonds, similar to Liberty bonds, and financed their amortization through imposition of new taxes. It would not affect the $880,000,000 set aside for direct relief.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

A new high mark for the winter was set at the Jameson Memorial hospital today, when the census showed 102 patients undergoing treatment in the institution.

Pa Newc is still of the opinion that some study should be given the traffic situation at the Public Square, since the new Federal building is in use. Pedestrians are at a big disadvantage most of the time in crossing the streets, because of the traffic going so many different ways. Some safety stations in the square would probably help some.

Wouldn't it be fine if a revival of painting up buildings around the city could be started this spring. It would help the appearance of the city a lot.

With the coming of spring the dog nuisance is becoming more than ever noticeable in some parts of the city. Owners of dogs are required to keep them on their own premises, but there are many who allow them to roam all over the neighborhood.

Mystery Woman Has $173,000 In Possession

(International News Service)

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Mar. 20.—Battle Creek police today were endeavoring to solve the mystery of a woman amnesia victim who was taken off a train here, with cash and securities on her person totaling $173 000.

The woman sullenly refused to answer most questions. She identified herself first as Mrs. Isabelle May Mchie of Elgin, Ill. Then she said her name was Mrs. Isabelle May McCoy, New York City.

The money was found in an envelope in a black handbag the woman carried. An additional $661 was found wrapped in a cloth in her berth on the train, after it had left for Lansing police were informed.

Dr. William Dugan, who attended her at a hospital here, said she became violently hysterical shortly after her arrival.

Democrats Lose State Battle In Pike County

(International News Service)

MILFORD, Pa., March 20.—Ralph E. Kelder, Republican, today was the elected state representative from Pike county, succeeding the late Edward L. Labar, Democrat, who died one month after taking the oath of office for his fifth term on January 1.

Kelder, a former postmaster at Matamoras, received 2031 votes in yesterday's special election. His Democratic opponent, Joseph V. Vogt, of Shohola, received 1990 votes.

Pike county had sent a Democratic representative to the lower house for the last 15 years. G. O. P. leaders today hailed the victory as the "first straw in the wind" of public sentiment since Governor George H. Earle assumed office.

To Resume Work On Some Projects

PROBABLY 500 TO BE AFFECTED

Authority was received today by W. Leslie Wilson, acting RWD administrator, to resume operations here on Monday, March 25, with approximately 500 men put back to work. The allocation of funds is for the balance of March and the first part of April.

While this will not put back to work any large proportion of the men on the RWD rolls it is a start back towards a resumption that it is hoped will include the entire list. For the present the jobs in New Castle that will be resumed are Cascade street, Balph avenue, Harbor road and the Taylor street sewer. Others are also being considered.

All men who are to report on Monday morning will be notified by the State-Federal Employment Office Mr. Wilson stated.

Motor Club To Meet Thursday

STATE PRESIDENT ONE OF SPEAKERS

All arrangements for the annual meeting of the New Castle Motor Club have been completed, B. N. Hanlon, manager of the club stated today. The meeting will be held Thursday evening at eight o'clock in the Castleton Hotel and all members of the club are urged to be present and bring a non-member friend.

President Ralph Bolsinger will preside over the meeting. The reports of the various committees will be heard and the annual election held. Five governors will be selected out of a list of candidates that have been named by the nominations committee.

President S. Edward Gable, state president of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation will be present and speak and Lieutenant Thomas Boettner, of the Pennsylvania State Police will also speak. Special music is being provided by Prof. Alan B. Davis of Westminster College. The Westminster quartette and other artists will be on the program.

This annual meeting will be one of interest to the members and all motorists. For this reason it is urged that a large attendance be present.

Founder Of Cook Forest Is Dead

(International News Service)

COOKSBURG, Pa., Mar. 20.—Business leaders today mourned the death of Anthony Wayne Cook, 80, founder of the Cook Forest state park, Clarion county, who died at his home here yesterday.

Cook was a grandson of John Cook, a pioneer county settler who acquired large tracts of land, one of which later became Cook Forest, the only large existing tract of virgin White Pine east of the Mississippi. Cook aided his father in the establishment of a lumber business in this section, with mills at Cooksburg and Pittsburgh.

In addition to his lumber and Mill holdings in this state, Cook also held property in Maryland, West Virginia and on the Pacific coast.

Will Improve Water Service

WORK TO START SOON ON PROJECT

Announcement was made today of plans for the erection of a 132,000 gallon booster station water tank which will be located on Gibson street, by the New Castle Water company. The contract for the steel tank has been let to the Pennsylvania Engineering company and all materials possible of purchase in New Castle will be purchased here. The cost of the station will be approximately $8,000.

Some months ago the water company purchased a piece of ground on Gibson street, lying between Long avenue and Arlington avenue, from Charles McCandless. A permit was secured from the city and the contract awarded. Additional contracts will be awarded for the construction of pipe lines. All work will be done by private contract.

The purpose of the booster station tank is to increase the pressure on the East Side and the Sheep Hill district. In past years the Chestnut street tank has served these two districts. During the peak load season, in the summer months, the pressure on the East Side has not been up to the company's standard of service and to bring it up the new station is being installed.

Work will start on the construction of the tank and the building some time in early April. It will be completed in time to handle the summer demands in a satisfactory manner.

Hospital Aid Bills Presented

Senator Batchelor Presents Measures For Lawrence County Institutions

Introduced by Senator Alonzo S. Batchelor, appropriation bills for various Lawrence County institutions have been presented to the General Assembly. The bill for the Jameson Memorial Hospital asks for $42,000. For the Almira Home Association, $7500, for the Margaret Henry Children's Home, $15,000, and for the Ellwood City Hospital, $18,000. These figures represent increases.

"SEAGOING" PASSENGER TRAIN CRAWLS THROUGH KENTUCKY FLOODLANDS

Mitchell's Fate Rests With Jury

JUDGE HILDEBRAND GIVES INSTRUCTIONS

Fate of James Mitchell, charged with the murder of his wife, Evaline Mitchell, is now in the hands of the jury. Arguments by defendant's counsel, Walter S. Reynolds, were made at the opening of Lawrence County court this morning. He reviewed the evidence at considerable length contending that the shooting and the circumstances surrounding it, tended to show that it was accidental, as claimed by Mitchell. There was nothing in the case, he argued, to show that there had been a quarrel, or that Mitchell had premeditated killing his wife.

District Attorney Mont L. Ailey, for the commonwealth, drew attention to testimony which, he claimed, showed that Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell had been engaged in arguments previous to the murder. He also pointed out that one of the witnesses had said that she had heard Mitchell threaten to kill his wife. He believed that the testimony, taken

Communists Are Accused In Race Riots

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 20.—Mayor LaGuardia today ordered a probe into the communistic plot which incited the race riot in Harlem, New York's Negro section, in which many were injured and more than 100 persons arrested.

District Attorney Dodge charged outright that the rioting was started by Communists.

Dodge said that those arrested would be taken before the grand jury to tell what they know of the Communists' plot.

Ten prisoners have already been questioned by Assistant District Attorney Price.

"I conferred with the mayor," District Attorney Dodge said. "We are going to show these Communists who defy our laws, incite riots and inspire revolution that they can't get away with it?

Snow Fences Are Being Taken Down

State Employes Are Storing Snow Barriers Erected Along Highways

Work of removing the snow fences, which are erected along the important highways of the state during the winter time, to prevent snow from drifting out onto the roads, has been started here, Superintendent H. W. Lightner stated today.

In addition, some little maintenance work is being done in various sections of the county, taking care of slides which have occurred since the freezing weather let up, etc

No general work program for the county has been laid out yet, awaiting the action of the state legislature in allocating funds for this purpose.

Mining Town Fire Damaged

(International News Service)

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., Mar. 20.—The mining town of Kinloch, three miles from here, was saved today after fire had destroyed four homes and damaged a fifth. Volunteer firemen formed a bucket brigade and doused the flames from water obtained from a nearby creek.

The fire started in a one-story cottage owned by Samuel Mails. The blaze was caused by an unknown gas explosion. Three men were seen running from the dwelling shortly after the blast. No one was in the house at the time.

Speedy Action Urged By Earle

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—Appearing before the senate in support of the administration constitutional program, Gov. George H. Earle today urged immediate action to make revision of the state's basic law possible this year.

He announced appointment of an advisory committee to lay the ground-work for a constitutional convention which he urged should meet June 4 as now provided in the administration bill in the hands of the senate constitutional changes committee.

This committee, Governor Earle said, represents every shade of political thought in Pennsylvania. Its members will be asked to go to work at once to prepare changes in the state's 60-year-old constitution to speed revision once a convention actually meets.

Three Men Stage Daring Robbery

Pose As Electricians And Ransack Massachusetts Home Of Valuables

(International News Service)

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Mar. 20. Three "electricians" today staged a $55,000 robbery at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Woodacre.

One engaged the Woodacres in conversation about electric wiring. Working in another part of the house, the other two removed a 500 pound safe containing $2,500 in cash, a coin collection valued at $1500, a quantity of old gold, and nine non-negotiable papers worth $50,000.

The trio of "electricians" departed in an automobile before the robbery was discovered.

Says Action Is Threat Of War

(International News Service)

PARIS, Mar. 20.—France is convoking the League of Nations council to consider Germany's re-armament as an issue comprising "a threat of war." Premier Pierre-Ettenne Flandin declared in the chamber of deputies today when he said the step was being taken under Article XI of the league convenant.

"The peace of the world is at stake," Flandin declared in revealing Article XI was being invoked.

Hopkins Calls Governor Earle To Washington On State Relief Plans

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—Summoned by federal authorities, Gov. George H. Earle today planned a trip to Washington next Monday to plead for continued federal relief assistance on the grounds his administration is exerting every effort to raise state funds.

He was asked to come to Washington by Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins to explain "what steps Pennsylvania is taking to pay its fair share of relief burdens." The federal government has carried Pennsylvania's entire relief load since February and money is available now only until the end of this month.

With his emergency tax bills raising revenue from gasoline, tobacco, amusements and utilities through the Democratic house, Governor Earle was expected to outline to Hopkins his contention that the administration has done everything it could to provide state funds. He also was expected to point out that he has moved for constitutional revision to permit state bond issues

No Arrests Yet For Axe Murder

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Pa., Mar. 20.—Despite a combined hunt by state, county and various local police agencies, the murderer of Howard Sidley, 30-year-old gas station proprietor of the Mercer-Grove City road, is still at large. Spurred by the $500 reward offered by the county commissioners, the hunt gains in intensity, but thus far clues are scarce.

Sidley was buried on Tuesday. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sidley of Pardoe. Sidley was murdered last Saturday in his store near the Bessemer Coal mine. Revenge is thought to be the motive for the murder.

Sunday Fishing Bill Is Passed By House Today

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—After heated debate, the house today passed finally the Larue-Moore bill permitting Sunday fishing with rods and lines. The vote was 119 to 71.

Leading the debate against the bill, Rep. Harvey Surface, Snyder, declared it represented another attempt to "break down" the state's "blue laws" of 1794.

Surface declared Pennsylvania was still a "Quaker State" but Rep. Clinton A. Sowers, Philadelphia, objected to having the bill made a religious issue.

May Postpone Robot Flight

(International News Service)

OAKLAND AIRPORT, Cal., Mar. 20.—A heavy drizzle and cross-winds threatened to delay the scheduled 800 mile test flight over the Pacific today on the government's radio-controlled robot plane.

The crew of the big twin-motored plane arose at 5 a. m. but doubted whether a takeoff could be made in safety from the soggy runway with the capacity load of 1590 gallons of gasoline.

House Passes More Tax Bills

MEASURES NOW UP TO SENATE

By ROBERT F. GORMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—Passed by a unified Democratic house majority that battled down stubborn, well organized Republican opposition four more of Gov. George H. Earle's emergency tax bills including the widely opposed gasoline tax boost today joined seven other administration revenue measures facing an uncertain future in the G. O. P. senate.

Strict party discipline was enforced by administration leaders as the gasoline, tobacco, amusements and utilities gross receipts tax bills, together estimated to yield $68,717,000 for the biennium, were passed by the Democrats. They boosted to more than $84,000,000 the governor's tax bills now held in the Republican senate.

Victory was made possible by an alignment of Democratic forces in the hours immediately preceding votes on the measure after the Republican minority listened to over-

Shenango Pottery Orders Increased

Employes Now On Four-Day Week Schedule For Time Being

Orders received by the Shenango Pottery Company in the past week have increased production to the point where the 550 employes of the plant are working four days per week. In order to care for the orders another kiln has been put into production temporarily.

While the increase in orders does not mean the employment of any additional men or women it has increased the working time and pay envelopes of those employed.

In the past months a great deal of ware for the government has been manufactured, to be used in the C. C. C. camps. No prediction as to future business was made by James M. Smith president of the plant, except to say that they were prepared to handle whatever came.

France Strengthens, Relations With Russia—U. S. Stays Aloof In European Crisis

(International News Service)

Acting in concert following definite word from Washington that the United States would keep its hands off what it deems a purely European problem, Britain, France and Italy arranged for a tri-partite conference today as France protested to Berlin over Chancellor Hitler's conscription decree.

Developments in leading capitals were:

Paris—France decided to appeal to the League of Nations and strengthen her bond with Soviet Russia as a note of protest over Reich rearmament was drafted and arrangements concluded for a meeting with Britain and Italy.

London—Captain Anthony Eden, Lord Privy Seal, nominated to represent Britain at the conference, which will precede foreign secretary Sir John Simon's Berlin visit.

Geneva—Rumanian Foreign Minister Titulescu enroute to Geneva carrying message reported to threaten immediate rearmament by the little entente if Hungary revives conscription.

Moscow—Press charged Britain's policy in crisis directed toward aiding Germany's plans for a "war of revenge."

BERLIN CONDUCTS AIR RAID TEST

Darken City To Foil Air Raiders

Test Is Most Successful Is Report By Military Officers

CITIZENS UNDER POLICE ORDERS

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Mar. 20.—Awaiting details of the new Reich conscript army promised by Defense Minister Werner von Blomberg for today, Germany enthusiastically hailed the success of record post-war tests showing that Berlin is as safe from aerial attack as military aeronautics can make it.

The instruments of blind flying would be necessary to locate this sprawling capital of 4,000,000 population under conditions prevailing when 30 pursuit planes and third bombers flew over the city last night.

City In Darkness.

From 11 p. m. to midnight not a shaft of light was to be seen by the planes of the new "Richtofen circus", named after Mannfried von Richtofen, war ace, and 30 bombers criss-crossed Berlin in the recreated air force's first maneuvers.

Black paper or cloth covered every window. Doors could be opened only when a second door, leading into a lighted chamber, had been closed. Cars were allowed to use only parking lights. Street lamps were doused, turning white ways like Leipzigstrasse and the gay Kurfuerstendamm into streets of the dead.

The hour of absolute darkness was preceded by an hour of semi-darkness, during which all bright street lights were turned out.

Every citizen was under police orders to carry out his part. A captain was appointed for each apartment house to see that no lights were exposed. These officers are permanent and form the skeleton of an organization that will plunge Berlin into stygian blackness within a few minutes of any air raid siren's alarm in the future.

Twelve airdromes with underground hangars and a seaplane base in a nearby lake are reported to be under construction around Berlin.

Residents of the Kreuzberg area near Tempelhof air field were ordered "under cover" from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. today as daylight air raid maneuvers followed the night tests.

Realistic targets were provided and warning sirens whined out the alarm when bombers swooped over the town.

Air officials pronounced last night's "black-out" a "complete success."

tures from Governor Earle on behalf of his $203,000,000 program but refused to yield. The bills were passed as the governor was called upon by Washington to resume the state's share of unemployment relief.

House Passes Gas Tax

The $40,000,000 gasoline tax bill passed 113 to 87 with eight votes to spare. The bill imposing a two per cent gross receipts tax on utilities, private and municipal, estimated at $11,500,000, was adopted 115 to 85; the $6,000,000 amusement tax 117 to 82 and the $11,217,000 tobacco tax 116 to 83.

The votes indicated to observers administration forces were still in control of the lower chamber and that the other tax bills, including the $100,000,000 six mills personal property tax listed as a special order of business tonight, will pass in the lower branch without difficulty. The state and counties would share equally in the personal property tax, to be collected by the department of revenue.

Indicating last minute switches, more than a half dozen members who voted for passage of the gasoline tax filed reasons for their action with the house clerk, explaining they were opposed to the bill but voted affirmatively in the absence of more acceptable measures to provide funds for the needy.

Would Cut Salaries

Rep. H. G. Andrews, of Cambria, Independent Democrat, was the first member to take the floor at the beginning of the four-hour debate. Declaring he could "no longer go along with the administration tax program," the outspoken Johnstown editor presented a program of his own. No emergency program should be submitted to cover more than a one year period, Andrews said, proposing a five cent gasoline tax for three months to be gradually reduced to three cents, cuts in the salaries and wages of state employes and passage of a sales tax. He asserted the administration program would bankrupt Pennsylvania business and industry.

With the house at fever pitch when the gasoline tax bill was called up for a vote, Rep. William E. Zimmerman, Montgomery, arose and made his maiden speech in the legislature, declaring Pennsylvania motorists already pay an average gasoline tax of $16.85 a year compared with an average of $12.66 for the nation. Rep. Clarence Ederer, Montgomery, also opposed the gasoline booster, urging instead economy in government and federal aid in proportion to the state's share of federal taxes. While cabinet officers trod the sidelines making a final tally of Democratic votes, other Republicans voiced opposition to the measure until the vote was finally taken.

as a whole, warranted the jury in returning a verdict of first degree murder.

Following the arguments Judge R. L. Hildebrand delivered his charge in which he reviewed the evidence on both sides, calling attention to the points in which it seemed to conflict. He then instructed the jury as to different kinds of verdicts which they could bring in. If a first degree verdict, was found, he said the jury had a right to say whether it carried with it imprisonment or the death penalty. The jury retired about noon.

Tuesday Afternoon

Testimony in the case against James "Thin Dime" Mitchell, was concluded Tuesday afternoon in court room number one. Mitchell is charged with having murdered his wife on the morning of February 12.

Mitchell testified in his own behalf and told of the various incidents in his home after midnight of February 11, which lead up to the shooting of his wife. He said that because of the arrival of Robert Mitchell and his bride, it was necessary to utilize the davenport in the living room for a bed. This was to be used by the senior Mitchell and his wife.

He said he had gotten out bed clothes and had built a fire in a stove, and advised his wife not to make the bed until the room got warmer. He remembered that his rifle was in the bedroom and said he didn't want it there, and went in to bring it out. As he brought it into the living room it exploded and his wife said "I'm shot." Mitchell said he called several doctors in an effort to get immediate attention for his wife.

Defense Changes

After establishing an accidental shooting theory, the defense then called several witnesses to prove that Mitchell was suffering from delirium tremens and was unable to distinguish between right and wrong. Drs. Eliah Kaplan and E. F. Henderson testified that they had examined Mitchell as members of a lunacy commission but found him sane. They testified that he was just getting over the effects of delirium tremens. Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard and Deputy James Wardman also testified to Mitchell's queer actions in the jail and said they had put him in the padded cell a number of times.

Dr. Garnett was called and said that Mitchell had called him about 4 or 4:30 on the morning of February 12 to come over and attend his wife, but said the man had not said anything as to what was the matter with her. Harry Antilas a restaurant keeper on East Washington street, said Mitchell had been in his restaurant several times making calls and seemed confused.

Darrow Witness Before NRA Probers

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—Visibly aged, but fiery as ever, Clarence Darrow came before the senate finance committee today to blast the NRA.

The big committee room was packed with spectators and a long queue stretching down the hall outside. Donald R. Richberg, NRA policy head, was an interested spectator.

Darrow explained he was chairman of the board named by the president to investigate charges the NRA fostered monopoly and was too hard on small business.

"I knew nothing about the NRA," he said. "But I hadn't been in very long until I got the idea that the NRA made it harder for the people who didn't have anything, and easier for those who did have something.

Mongah Mine Is To Be Reopened

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 20.—Closed for ten years, the Mongah mine of the Pittsburgh Coal company is being conditioned preparatory to resumption of operations, C. E. Lesher, vice president of the coal company, announced here today.

An increased market demand for coal prompted the reopening, Lesher said, but he is unable to estimate the number of men who will be given employment. This, he explained, would depend on the tonnage officials decide to take from the workings.

A crew of men have been engaged in making repairs and clearing out the mine for the past several days.

FRANCE TO MAKE APPEAL TO LEAGUE ON GERMAN MOVE

for Chancellor Hitler's decree re-establishing compulsory military service, France today decided to appeal to the League of Nations, drafted a sharp note of protest to Berlin, arranged for a tri-partite international consultation and strengthened her relations with Soviet Russia.

These four momentous steps, exceeding in every respect the mild action undertaken by Great Britain following announcement of the Reich conscription decree, were decided upon at a three-hour meeting of the French council of ministers.

France's league action means, according to governmental sources, that an extraordinary convocation of the league council to sit as a tribunal to judge Germany's infraction of the Versailles treaty will be requested.

This was announced early this afternoon in an official communique which was followed by a statement from the foreign office to the effect that British, French and Italian statesmen would meet her on Saturday to thresh out the problem.

This meeting is regarded as of greatest significance, as it will take place immediately before Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary is due to start for Berlin for his long-delayed conference with Chancellor Hitler.

Strong Protest

The French note of protest to Germany, due to be handed in this afternoon and generally predicted as much stronger in tone than the British communication, was drafted after long and careful deliberation. Its text will be made public here following its receipt by the German foreign office.

No date was mentioned for France's protest to the league council, nor was any definite time set for Laval's visit to Moscow.

The latter step will undoubtedly meet with the firm approval not only to Soviet Russia but of France's small continental allies also. The latter have persistently advocated a stronger bond between Russia and France ever since Germany began to cast off the shackles of the Versailles treaty, culminating in her startling decision to restore a full-fledged army of conscripts.

Britain To Make No Bargain

London, Mar. 20.—Britain will strike no binding bargain with Germany during the week-end conversations scheduled between foreign secretary Sir John Simon and Chancellor Adolf Hitler, the house of commons was assured today.

In connection with the forthcoming visits to Berlin and Moscow, Dudley Jack Joel, conservative, asked assurance that parliament would not be committed without prior knowledge to any possible modification of the Versailles treaty.

"The visits will be purely exploratory," Sir John said.

Captain Victor Cazalet, conservative, raised the question of Russian private and national debts to Britain in connection with the forthcoming visit of Captain Anthony Eden to Moscow.

They will not be discussed, Eden said.

"Our conversations," he added, "will be mainly concerned with the position arising out of the present political situation in Europe."

HOPKINS CALLS GOVERNOR EARLE TO WASHINGTON

for relief, explaining that while this program has been passed by the house the Republican senate has taken no action.

Govrnor Earle's budget provides $15,000,000 in state funds for relief for March, April and May, the money to be raised from quick revenue producing taxes such as the gasoline increase and the imposts on amusement and tobacco. Another $120,000,000 allocation is recommended for the next biennium. No legislation specifically appropriating the money has been offered by the administration, pending final action on the tax proposals.

Deaths of the Day

Thomas Stephenson.

Thomas Stephenson, aged 79 years, of 804 Harbor street, passed away on Tuesday afternoon at 12:40 o'clock, climinating two years of illness.

Mr. Stevenson, born in England on April 23, 1855, the son of Thomas and Alice Stephenson, had lived in New Castle for the past 42 years, and was a member of the Christian and Missionary Alliance church.

He had been preceded in death by his wife, Mrs. Katherine Tierney Stephenson, August 16, 1934, to whom he had been married for 55 years.

Surviving are four sons, Thomas Stephenson, Jr., of Swissvale, Chris, William and Joseph of New Castle; two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Foster and Mrs. Joseph Bartley of Detroit, Mich.; 20 grandchildren, nine great-grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Mary A. Turner of New Castle.

Funeral services will be conducted from the late residence on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with Rev. J. Henry Boon, pastor of the Christian and Missionary Alliance church, and Rev. Richard Owrey of the People's Mission in charge. Interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. Tresa Brino

Mrs. Tresa Brino, aged 72 years, widow of Anthony Brino, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Vito Ionnelli, 418 Hawthorn street, at noon Tuesday. She had been ill for three months.

Mrs. Brino, born in Italy, had lived in this country for 35 years. Her husband died in 1931. She leaves, in addition to Mrs. Ionnelli, another daughter, Mrs. Dittora, also of New Castle, and one son, Pasqualino Brino, of Cleveland, O.

Funeral mass will be celebrated at 9:30 a. m. Friday in St. Vitus church, and burial will be made in St. Vitus cemetery.

Mrs. Lincoln H. Kelly.

Mrs. Florence Ruby Kelly, aged 38 years, wife of Lincoln H. Kelly, of 230 Fairmont avenue, died in the New Castle hospital at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening, from complications following a surgical operation. Mrs. Kelly had been in a critical condition for several weeks.

She was born in New Castle on April 11, 1896, the daughter of Ella and J. G. Moore, and had passed her lifetime here. She had a large number of friends, all of whom were deeply saddened by her illness and death.

Mrs. Kelly was a member of the Madison Avenue Christian church, located in the Seventh ward where she had been raised. She was also a member of the Rebecca Chapter and the Wimodausis.

She leaves her husband to whom she had been married for 22 years; two daughters, Grace Elaine and Ellen Maxine; and her mother, Mrs. Ella Moore.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon from the residence, with Rev. W. W. Sniff, pastor of the Madison Avenue Christian church, in charge. Burial will be made in Graceland cemetery.

The funeral will be private. Until 11 o'clock Friday morning the body will lie in state at the residence.

John J. Smith

Pneumonia, contracted three days ago, brought death to John J. Smith, aged 81 years, in his home, 714 West Washington street, at 7:30 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Smith was born in Pittsburgh on January 22, 1854, the son of John and Sarah Dean Smith. For 40 years he had resided in New Castle and was engaged as a glass worker for a part of that time. He was a member of the Wesleyan Methodist church.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Ella R. Axton Smith, who is very ill. They had been married for 54 years. In addition, there is one son, Harry A. Smith, of New Castle; three daughters, Mrs. Frank LaClause, Mrs. Charles Thayer and Mrs. D. M. Coe, of Akron, O.; two brothers, Fred Smith, of Detroit, Michigan, and William Smith, of Pittsburgh; a brother-in-law, William Thomas, of Pittsburgh, and ten grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements have not been made as yet. Interment will take place in Graceland cemetery.

Until the time of the funeral the body will be at the Ritchie funeral home.

Mrs. Justina Roberts

Mrs. Justina Roberts, aged 82 years, died at her home, 268 West Falls street, at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday night, after a short illness.

She had lived in New Castle for 11 years and was a member of St. Luke's A. M. E. Zion church. When residing in Florida, Mrs. Roberts was a member of the Household of Ruth.

She had been preceded in death by her husband 18 years ago. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Anna Allen, of Florida, and Mrs. Rebecca Mason, of New Castle; three sons, Eugene and Richard, of New York City, and Theophilus, in Florida; one sister, Mrs. Charlotte Curry, Florida; one brother, Isaac Curry, Florida; seven grandchildren; two great-grandchildren, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be at 2 p. m. in St. Luke's A. M. E. Zion church with Rev. M. L. Meeks in charge. Burial will be made in Greenwood cemetery.

Time Of Funeral

Funeral services for Leroy Clark, Jr., of West Grant street, will be conducted at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon in the Union Baptist church on Grant street, with Rev. C. D. Henderson in charge. Interment will be made in Graceland cemetery.

Funeral Of Mr. Flynn

Solemn requiem high mass was celebrated in St. Mary's church at 10 o'clock this morning for the late Festus Flynn, of West Washington street.

Celebrant was Rev. Fr. Herbert A. Bisky, chaplain at the St. Mary's home, Rochester, N. Y., nephew of Mr. Flynn. Rev. Fr. W. M. S. Galvin was deacon, and Rev. Fr. Leo S. Watterson was sub-deacon. The service at the grave in St. Mary's cemetery was in charge of Rev. Fr. Bisky.

Pallbearers were Luke Eagan, John Maher, Joseph Martin, Robert Guinagh, Patrick Conway and Joseph Hannon.

Mr. Dahlberg Funeral

Funeral services for Carl O. Dahlberg were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence at 603 Raymond street, with Dr. E. A. Crooks, pastor of the Reformed Presbyterian church, in charge.

Pallbearers were John Katela, John Campbell, Arthur Dahlberg, Frank Reed, Edgar Gilbert and Harry Haltman. Interment was made in Greenwood cemetery.

William Junior DelPrincipe

William Junior Vincent DelPrincipe, infant son of William and Madeleine DelPrincipe, of 823 Fulkerson street, died at 1:30 a. m. today.

The infant was born on January 14, this year, in New Castle, and was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. DelPrincipe. He leaves in addition to his parents, his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent DelPrincipe, and Michael DelBene.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Mr. Moseberger Funeral

Funeral services for Michael Moseberger of Steubenville, O., were conducted at 1:30 p. m. Monday in the Ritchie Funeral Home with Rev. J. George Knipple, of the Emmanuel Evangelical church, in charge.

Friends of the deceased served as pallbearers. Interment was made in Greenwood cemetery.

THOMPSON IS GUILTY IN ADULTERY CASE

In the case of the commonwealth against William Thompson, charged with adultery, which was tried at Lawrence County court before Judge James A. Chambers, the jury returned a verdict of guilty, as indicted.

BOY SCOUT Activities

WESLEY EXHIBIT THURSDAY

Scoutmaster Peter Grittie, Jr., and his scouts of troop 13 of the Wesley M. E. church will sponsor a public exhibition of scout work in the Wesley church on Thursday evening, March 21, at 7:30 o'clock.

Merit badge work and other scout activities will be exhibited at the show.

TROOP 2 MEETS

Monday evening in the First Baptist church members of Boy Scout troop No. 2 held their regular meeting. Jack Court opened the session. Following devotionals, Thomas Reese took Good Turns. Assistant Scoutmaster Kimmel Barbur, Jack Court and Montgomery Rodgers conducted tenderfoot initiation. The following boys, who successfully passed, were awarded badges by Mont Rodgers, Assistant Scoutmaster Kimmel Barbur and Jack Court: Mike Zoltani, Charles Kerestely, John Koch and Rudolf Schunk.

Scribe, Ray Ludovici.

CROWD AT HIGHLAND U. P.

Twenty-one scouts, four scout candidates, three leaders, six committeemen and three visitors took part in a lively meeting which Troop V-18 held at the Highland U. P. church last night.

The program brought special features in addition to regular meeting procedures.

First came the assembly, then an inspection, the opening ceremonies, business and the announcement of an April 5 dinner for the troop and then the special features. Committeeman certificates were presented by C. B. Sproull, a V-18 committeeman, while boys' certificates were presented by Scoutmaster Harry Miles. Assistant Scoutmaster George Winters led the boys in games following that and Assistant Scoutmaster Cy Schaller and Senior Patrol Leader Al Ubry conducted a signalling demonstration. A rope-splicing instruction period was conducted by T. Elwood Iddings.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 20.—Hearing on the application of R. M. Kline for the right of operating motor vehicles as a common carrier between points in Lawrence county was continued today to a future date which will be set by the Public Service Commission.

Initial hearing on the application was to have been started before the commission but was continued when witnesses for the applicant were unable to appear.

Kline seeks the privilege of operating vehicles as a common carrier for the transportation of property between points in the borough of Ellwood City and within a radius of three miles thereof, and from points in that territory to other points within a radius of 100 miles.

Aviation is arousing great interest in the Netherlands, and a proposal has been made to make Amsterdam a world center of air traffic.

M. C. CIRCLE BANQUET AND ELECTION TUESDAY

Sixty members of the M. C. Circle of the Third U. P. church assembled for their annual banquet and election of officers Tuesday evening in the men's class room of the church, when Dr. and Mrs. S. B. Copeland, Miss Anna Love and Mrs. Katherine Palmer as special guests.

At 6:30 o'clock the participants sat down to tables perfectly arranged in St. Patrick fashion, green and white tones predominating, where a bountiful menu was served. Mrs. Elizabeth Henderson was in charge of the social committee, and the committee under Mrs. Edna Lutz were responsible for the unique decorations.

During the beginning of affairs, Mrs. Copeland, who with Dr. Copeland will leave soon to reside in Wheeling, W. Va., where the latter has accepted a call to the United Presbyterian church there, was presented with a lovely gift in behalf of the class. The organization was named for Mrs. Copeland, and her services in the past have been most gratifying. This was an expression of their appreciation and she responded in a gracious manner.

A program followed, with Mrs. Kathryn McEntire in charge. Pep singing with Mrs. Thelma Lutz leading and Mrs. Blanche Coulter, accompanist, was the first feature. Mrs. Irene McKibben as toastmaster, introduced each participant in a novel way, adding much to the enjoyment of the occasion.

A playlet, "One Man On the Jury," was presented by a group of girls taught by Mrs. Ruth McCann and vocal solos were beautifully given by Mrs. Clarence Boston, with Mrs. Charlotte Emery playing her accompaniment.

The evening was concluded with a business period, when election of the following officers occurred, for the ensuing year: Mrs. Edith Wiles, president; Mrs. Edna Lutz, vice-president; Mrs. Pearl Rice, recording and corresponding secretary; Mrs. Kathryn McEntire, treasurer; Mrs. Anna Kildoo, magazine secretary; Mrs. Charlotte Ishler, thank-offering secretary.

Their next meeting will be an event of April 16, the place to be decided.

Mrs. Wilson Historian.

In connection with Monday's meeting of the Woman's club, at which new officers were elected, Mrs. William Wilson was named to serve as historian with the group this year.

LOCAL GUESTS AT GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Walker and children of Maryland avenue have returned from Galeton, Pa., where on Sunday they attended the golden wedding celebration of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Walker.

At noon a family dinner of 28 covers was served, relatives being present from this city, Coudersport, Wellboro, Sabinsville, Gaines, all in Pennsylvania, and Bath, N. Y. Decorations throughout the home were distinctive, in that much of the green and yellow crepe paper streamers used had beautified the home of Mrs. Walker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hyde, 23 years ago for their golden wedding. Cut flowers in the two tones decorated the table and rooms where in the afternoon upwards of 100 friends called to extend happy wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker, the latter of whom was formerly Ida Howard, have an only child, R. H. Walker of Maryland avenue. There are three grandchildren, Dorothy, Virginia and Ray Walker, Jr. Mrs. Walker is in her 68th year and her husband is 74. They are both enjoying good health and had a happy day recalling events of 50 years ago and since. Both received handsome gifts, among which were sums of money.

SERVICE STAR LEGION HAS SOCIAL EVENING

A social evening for Service Star Legion members was enjoyed at the home of Mrs. J. F. Titus, Edison avenue, Tuesday, which took the form of a St. Patrick's party. A large number shared the occasion.

Informal pastimes featured, and in bingo, prizes were awarded to Mrs. Hattie Nowling, Mrs. Rebecca Strong and Mrs. Belle Whiteman. When the entertainment was concluded the hostess served a dainty menu in keeping with the present season, and her table was beautifully decorated in green and white appointments.

Mrs. Nell Johnston was a special guest.

On April 2, members will gather at the Legion home for a business period, followed by card and bingo contests.

Concludes Visit

Mrs. Nettie Borland Thompson Johnson, has returned to her home in Meadville, after a several days' visit at the home of Mrs. S. J. Callahan of Moody avenue.

MAHONING CLUB HEARS "FORCED SHRUB" TALKS

Mrs. I. C. Bowman, West Madison avenue, received the Mahoning Garden club women in her home Tuesday for their regular meeting which was most interesting with discussions on "Forced Shrubs."

Members brought branches of cherry trees, pear trees, rose bushes and numerous other specimens, which had been taken inside and nursed along, forcing them to bloom much ahead of time. The process used for each was told and little details explained which proved instructive.

Mrs. W. H. Leight, program chairman, introduced Mrs. C. H. Clark, who gave a splendid paper on "Planting And Herb Garden," followed by another article on "Removing the Winter Mulch" by Mrs. E. C. Hulbert. Mrs. C. H. Cook was awarded the prize at the close of the meeting, for having the best collection of forced shrubs.

At the appointed hour the hostess served refreshments at a table centered with a beautiful bouquet of forced iris. In her living room she displayed an exquisite cluster of pussy-willows, which caused much comment.

Announcement was made that the Mahoning Garden club was invited to join the East Side Garden club at the county meeting to be held in the Third U. P. church on April 4.

Roll call was responded with "My Favorite House Plant and Why."

Mrs. C. H. Clark of Sunnyside, will have members for their next meeting.

MARTHA LODGE HAS TENTH ANNIVERSARY

Martha lodge, No. 10, celebrated the tenth anniversary of their organization Tuesday evening in the First Congregational church, on Reynolds street. Guests were members of the Star of Wales lodge, True Ivorites of America, the assembly numbering perhaps forty, nine of this number being past presidents, the tenth, Mrs. Myfanwy Thomas, living out of the city. There were three grand officers in the group.

Mrs. Mae Turner, the present president, officiated, the regular routine being carried out. Later the meeting was thrown open for interesting talks by members of both lodges.

Invited to the dining room for lunch, the guests were seated about two long tables graced with large birthday cakes, with greetings to the lodge outlined in colored icing. Green and yellow tones predominated. The committee serving consisted of Mrs. William Johns, chairman, Mrs. Sol Davies, Mrs. Griff Lewis, Mrs. Reese Price.

A delightful feature was the presentation of a beautiful bouquet by Griff Thomas to Martha lodge, the flowers being divided among the past and present presidents.

KENSINGTON LUNCHEON AT WALMO RESIDENCE

Mrs. F. G. Haydon, of Walmo, received as guests in her home yesterday afternoon, members of the Tuesday Kensington for a 1 o'clock luncheon. A tasty menu was served at a table attractively decorated in seasonal tones, where covers marked for nineteen. Aides were Miss Sadie Metzler, Mrs. Charles T. Metzler and Mrs. W. O. Williams.

Mrs. Charles Carpenter, of Chagrin Falls, O., who is visiting her mother, Mrs. Fred Beard, of this city, was a special guest of the kensington.

A period of informal pastime ensued, and their next event will be announced.

Vets Auxiliary

Hadassahs Purim-Birthday Frolic At Field Club Largely Attended

Most successful and outstanding as one of the seasons most enjoyable affairs, was the dance given Tuesday evening in the New Castle Field Club, by New Castle Chapter of Hadassah, in celebration of Purim, and Hadassah's twenty-third birthday.

The occasion was attended by guests numbering five hundred, and its double significance was indeed evident with the Purim cakes and other refreshments, which combined the birthday idea. Mrs. Jack Kulkin was chairman and Mrs. Phillip Levine, co-chairman, and under their splendid leadership, a group of cooperative committees shared in the evening's success.

To a program of snappy and melodious tunes provided by a popular orchestra, the girls in exquisite formal attire, with their escorts, enjoyed dancing from the hours of 10 until 1 o'clock.

During the intermission, a floor show featuring Miss Jane Day and Miss Anna Snoko, talented dancers, was presented, and their numbers were well received.

The card room was opened to others not desiring to dance, and at the close of the contests, a lovely prize was presented to Mrs. Edward Master for high honors.

Including many prominent guests of New Castle, others were present from Butler, Ellwood City, Sharon, Youngstown, O., Kittanning, Warren, O., Pittsburgh, Beaver Falls, and many other surrounding vicinities.

All departed, voting it an evening of entertainment that will long be remembered, as delightful in every way.

The proceeds realized, will be used for the Hadassah medical organizations in Palestine, the establishment of the Medical Centre to be built on Mt. Scopus in Jerusalem to be known as Rothschild Hadassah University Hospital, and other medical centers.

An all-day meeting of the S. O. B. kensington will be held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Harry Barnes, Wallace avenue.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE HONORS S. C. WOOD

S. C. Wood, E. Meyer avenue, had a pleasant surprise Monday evening, when upon returning home from a neighbor's, he found a group of 45 guests gathered to celebrate his birthday.

The evening was spent in playing 500 and games of various kinds and at midnight a delicious lunch was served. The hostess had for aides her mother, Mrs. E. R. Houston, Mrs. W. J. Wolheter, Mrs. Florence Henery and Mrs. Mildred Atkinson.

Out of town guests were the honored guest's mother, Mrs. Alice Wood of Oil City; Mr. and Mrs. J. Norman Wood, Beaver Falls; Mrs. John Bollinger, Miss Beryl Bollinger, Mr. and Mrs. Tho Walls and son Teddy, Grove City; Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Clair McKim and daughter Nancy Lee, Ellwood City; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Atkinson, Stockdale, Cal.; Misses Mary and Inez Cox, Clifford Cox, New Wilmington; Carl Alborn, East Brook; Cecil and Nelson McConahy, Harbor Bridge.

Mr. Wood received many handsome gifts.

Lindner Class Elects.

Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday evening to the members of the Lindner class in the Highland U. P. church. The hosts and hostesses for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Pearson Furst, Mr. and Mrs. John Brinton, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lee and Mrs. Frank Goodwin.

After the teacher of the class, Charles G. Lindner, gave the opening address, the following officers were elected to serve during the coming church year:

President, Arthur Lowman; vice presidents, Mrs. Frank Goodwin, Mrs. Clifford Bradford and Mrs. Henry Brenneman; secretary, Mrs. Harry Hitchings, and assistant, Mrs. Ruth Drake; treasurer, Henry Brenneman and assistant, Harry Bilzi.

It was reported by the treasurer that $125 had been spent for church activities in the past year. The class voted to continue sponsoring the church nursery.

Plans Changed

W. O. club members have changed plans for their meeting for Thursday evening. Instead of a birthday dinner downtown, they will have an evening gathering in the home of Mrs. Sue Fleeger, on Harrison street.

PATRICIA ROWLAND SINGS FOR CANTOR

Not often are little tots of 5 years accorded a private interview with Eddie Cantor and Rubinoff, so that to little Patricia Rowland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Rowland, of 809 East Main street, this occurrence yesterday in Pittsburgh, was a rare privilege.

The young miss, who is quite talented for her age, sang several songs for the famous duo and after her performance they presented her with a box of chocolates which she is treasuring greatly, today.

Vempo Club

Mrs. John Ridley of Edison avenue, graciously received the Vempo club Tuesday afternoon at 1:30. Cards formed a delightful pastime during the afternoon, the prizes falling to Mrs. Collins Weaver and Mrs. Catherine Freese. Light refreshments of candy and nuts were later enjoyed.

The next meeting will be in two weeks, the hostess uncertain.

Students Recital.

Kathryn Nessle Allen presented a number of students in a recital on Tuesday evening in Highland U. P. church, with a large number of parents and interested friends present.

(Additional Society On Page Six)

Six Musketeers.

Members of the Six Musketeers were entertained in the home of Vivian and Edna Vogan on Haus avenue at their weekly meeting last evening.

The evening was spent in games and music, and later delicious refreshments were served by the mother of the hostesses. Those present were Wanda Fulton, Marjorie Allen, Mary Louise Joyce, Vivian and Edna Vogan and Pauline Burgess.

THE RECKLESS PEDESTRIAN

LAST year the automobile fatality record touched an all-time high, with a total of 36,000 killed. One of the worst aspects of the record was the pedestrian toll.

Those who believe that accidents involving a car and a pedestrian are always the fault of the motorist, are sadly mistaken. In five out of every eight accidents in which a person on foot was killed by a car, the pedestrian was entirely to blame.

Thirty-four per cent of the pedestrians who were killed while walking on the wrong side of the road. Eleven per cent of the pedestrian fatalities involved children playing in the streets. Nine per cent of the fatalities resulted from walkers stepping suddenly out from behind parked cars into the stream of traffic. It is a significant fact that, in 1934, the rate of death per pedestrian accident was 45 per cent worse crossing in the middle of the block than at the intersection, and 74 per cent worse crossing against signals than with them.

The careless walker, like the careless driver, constitutes a grave problem that must be definitely solved if we are to lower the automobile toll. The cure for pedestrian recklessness is purely up to the individual—all the traffic laws in the world cannot make a person walk properly on streets and highways if he is congenitally careless. Obey the signals, never cross in the middle of a block—and keep your eyes open and your mind busy with the problem of safely reaching your destination. That advice amounts to "life insurance" for the pedestrian.

BEAUTIFYING THE ROADS

Warren Van Dyke, secretary of highways, is to be commended for his programme of highway beautification. The project cannot be duplicated from an aesthetic standpoint, and it should provide useful employment for those on the federal re-employment rolls.

According to announcement the work is to include planting of highway banks and slopes with vines and shrubs to prevent and control erosion, which in former years has increased maintenance costs. This should improve driving conditions and increase highway safety.

Trees and flowering shrubs will be planted to increase roadside beauty and dead trees, which constitute a traffic hazard, will be removed or trimmed. Thus the scenic routes of Pennsylvania, made beautiful by nature, herself, will be further improved by the hand of man. In many instances the ungainly sights occasioned during construction of the roads will be replaced by natural surroundings.

SEEK TO COLONIZE ALASKA

One of the unexpected by-products of the depression is going to be a renewed attempt to tap the unused agricultural riches of Alaska. The federal government will finance a "sample migration," transporting 200 families and 400 single men to the Matanuska valley beyond Anchorage, this spring.

The move is admittedly an experiment. The climate of the valley is said to be very like that of the "drouth states" back home, and the colonists are all to come from those states, so that that part of the transition is expected to be easy.

Those colonists will, furthermore, be taken from unproductive land which is to be retired from production; and the soil in the Matanuska valley is said to be fertile enough to provide excellent farms.

This experiment seems to be well worth making. Alaska is potentially a rich, productive land, aside from its gold deposits. It is logical that a serious effort be made to see if its potentialities cannot be realized.

ABE BUZZARD GOES OVER THE HILL

Described by his "kid" brother Joe, 75 years old, as the "best derned hoss thief in the whole United States," Abe Buzzard, leader of a mountain gang of outlaws years ago, is dead in the Eastern Penitentiary.

The exploits of the Buzzard boys, Abe, Joe and Ike, read like something out of those paper-back dime novels boys used to thrill over. They were the scourge of Welsh Mountain farmers and small townsmen in Berks and Lancaster counties, varying horse and chicken stealing with raids on stores and freight cars. A mountain cave hideaway and false red whiskers did not keep Abe out of the hands of the law—for he spent almost his whole life, after the age of seventeen, in jail. Once, having "gotten religion," he was pardoned and went a-preaching through Pennsylvania on "Ruin and Reform"—until a burglar kit was found in his bag along with a hymnal.

Doubtless the Buzzard boys were dangerous desperadoes in their time, but alongside the Public Enemies to today—the ruthless racketeers and hired killers—they seem very tame.

THE SILVER KING'S WIDOW

In Colorado and in a great part of the West, the most absorbing story in the news is that which deals with the death of "Baby Doe" Tabor, widow of the once great silver king.

Elizabeth Tabor was one of the most beautiful women of her day. She was courted by many but married the owner of the Matchless Mine, from which a wealth of silver flowed in an unceasing stream.

President Arthur and the members of his cabinet attended their wedding. They lived in a mansion and in an atmosphere of royal splendor. Finally, in 1893, the fabulous wealth of H. A. W. Tabor was swept away with the collapse of the silver market.

Years of privation followed, also of loneliness for Mrs. Tabor after her husband's death. The woman, so the story goes, gave her promise always to keep watch over the silver king's once great Matchless Mine.

And she kept this promise until the end. In the midst of the signs of poverty and of squalor, the body of this faithful old woman was found in a shack on the outskirts of Leadville, the abandoned mine nearby holding a shadowy promise of renewed riches and power.

I OBJECT

I've just read an article on puns and punsters, those low human creatures who delight in finding hidden relations between words.... and I ought to feel crushed...I ought, after reading this blast against puns, to abjure them forever. But I'm not crushed. I don't intend to give them up. Because I know the author of the article, whose name I do not know, is just jealous. He may be a very fine fellow who helps his friends and is kind to his family, but he can't make puns. If he could, he wouldn't write such paragraphs as these:

"The punster may think he is the life of the party, but he is considered a pest and avoided when possible."

(So that's the reason for the sudden hush when I come into the room? And that's why cats and dogs flee my presence?)

"It is not difficult and does not indicate mental capacity to "pun."

(I make puns when I feel happy, and a good pun increases my happiness. I make puns and sometimes I have thought I was rather bright. No Einstein, you understand, but not entirely simple.)

"Those who indulge in punning seem not to know when they are squelched. In fact, they seem to possess a particularly thick hide and an attempt to silence them whets their appetitie for more puns.

(All this poor punster's life he has been a sensitive soul that reddens to the ears at the slightest criticism a poor worm under the heavy heel of life.)

"None laughs so heartily as he at his own pun."

(Admitted....A Grade A, thirty-third degree punster is surprised and delighted at his own puns.

"In his punning he has no respect for age or position."

There MAY be something in this accusation.)

"Usually it is the only accomplishment that the fellow has by which he can attract attention."

(That's not true. I have other accomplishments I can sit six feet away from a hat on the floor and toss 52 playing cards in succession into a hat. And I can make babies laugh.)

"It matters little to him whether it be favorable or adverse, just so he can be noticed."

(Oh, what a fib! and what poor English. Nothing crushes a punster more than to make a good pun, a glorious and inspired pun, and hear it drop on barren soil without appreciation, without even the polite tribute of a smile....Seems to me a fellow could find something nobler to do than picking on us poor punsters. What heartless creatures there are in this world! How sad to live and not to know what power lies in a gracious and hidden pun to unravel the sleeve of woeful care!)

THE UNPURCHASABLE KNACK

There is a knack to a mashie shot
And some will learn it and some will not,
And some, however so hard they try,
Never will conquer a cuppy lie.
If skill could be bought from the golfing pro
The rich would shoot par and a bit below.

Back from the South come the millionaires,
And the same old blundering game is theirs.
Their shoulders sag and their heads bob up,
They take three putts ere they find the cup,
And in spite of their wonderful sets of clubs
They still ask strokes from the other dubs.

The pro can sell them his fancy stocks;
He can sell them their golf balls by the box;
Coats for the weather and stockings, but
He never can sell them a two-foot putt,
And with all their money they cannot buy
The knack of playing a cuppy lie.

If skill could be purchased in package lots
The rich would make marvelous mashie shots;
If courage were sold by the pint and quart
The rich would rule in the realm of sport,
And never a millionaire I'd see
Begging for strokes from a dub like me.

Speaking of politics a teacher in a county school asked her pupils to define a mugwump. One bright boy gave this definition, "It's a bird that sits on a fence with its mug on one side and its wump on the other wondering which way to jump." You for the head of the class, laddie.

But the law wouldn't let underpaid stockholders strike and withdraw their share in the enterprise.

It is said that Amelia Earhart, famous avatrix, has been engaged by the government as an aeronautical engineer at a salary of one dollar per year. There must be some catch about this somewhere as our experience with engineers would lead us to believe that they are pretty high flyers when it comes to salaries.

"WE NEVER DECEIVED OURSELVES"

What is one of the commonest causes of failure in business? Try to answer the question before you read fuurther.

George Harvey is reported to have asked John D. Rockefeller if he could say, in a few words, to what he attributed the success of Standard Oil. He was silent for a few minutes, and then said, "We never deceived ourselves."

Any man who has survived in business more than ten years will asknowledge the wisdom of Rockefeller's summary.

On a busy Saturday a lady 'phoned for three stalls.

"Very sorry—not a seat left," said the box office attendant, "but we have one private box vacant."

"Oh," said the lady, "that's no use! I can't see anybody from a private box!"

"Perhaps not, madam," retorted the diplomatist, "but everybody can see you!"

The box was sold immediately.

THIS MODERN MUSE

What is this queer thing
you have written, my dear,
without form or rhythm?
A poem, you say?
But surely you're mistaken.
When I was young,
a poem went like this:

A poem had a lilt to it,
'Twas music to the ear.
The rhythm and meter had to fit,
Its lines were good to hear.
No formless mumble-jumble there,
To make one scratch one's pate.
The measures marched upon the air,
In rhythmic solemn state.

It sany of love in springtime,
It sang of birds and flow'rs.
It sang of life in gay rhythm,
It sang of sunny hours.
There was no sordid preoccupation
with grisly subjects
treated in language obscure.
You can say you've advanced
in literature,
but in those days a poem was a poem and not brainless disconnected prose masquerading as poetry.

An old farmer's rich cousin from the city paid him a visit. When he left he offered to send the farmer a new hat.

A North Hill woman, so the story goes, was reprimanding her little daughter for getting into the jam. "Just look at you. Your lips and cheeks are covered with red, what would you think if you saw your mother like that?" And the wise little girl replied, "I'd think you were going to a party, mama."

LIFE'S LITTLE AGONIES

The guest of an Edinburgh hotel returned to the wash room, where he found another fellow using his toothbrush.

The user of the lost toothbrush, nothing a bashed, handed it over, saying:

"Excuse Me, sir, I thought it belonged to the hotel.

States' Rights Out.
Pubic Wants Action.
Ohio Marks Changing Scene.

Central Press
New York Bureau
235 East 45th street

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Mar. 20.—States' rights are going out the window—by public demand.

The economic situation has gotten far beyond any individual state. Besides, few states have developed local men large enough to cope with the economic situation even in their own bailiwick.

When President Roosevelt instructed Harry Hopkins, director of federal relief, to take over the Ohio relief situation in the name of the federal government, that marked a historic turning point in American history. (The relief administrations of two other states previously had been taken over—but in a perfunctory manner in which the Ohio state administration was set aside.)

Seldom has a president written such an indictment against a leading member of his own party as in the letter to Hopkins denouncing Governor Martin L. Davey of Ohio.

This new governor of Ohio, who has dismissed state employes right and left because, although Democrats, they were not members of his particular Democratic machine, laid hands likewise on the Ohio relief organization. In two weeks he succeeded in almost completely demoralizing it.

Then a storm, with which he had not reckoned, broke. (Politicians are stupid in that respect—and then blame everything except themselves.) Citizens rose virtually en masse.

And now that the president himself alleges graft by Ohio politicians in regard to relief, and since his relief director even goes so far as to specify, Governor Davey will do well if he escapes impeachment for failing to observe it—if the allegations are borne out.

And President Roosevelt, by his direct action against a member of his own party, today probably could carry Ohio overwhelmingly.

It takes no little political backbone to denounce the leader of one's own party in the fourth most populous state in the union—a state that swings narrowly one way or another at conventions and in elections.

But the federal government had no alternative.

It could not permit people to starve.

The responsibility for the people as a whole lies with the federal government. And the federal government has accepted the task, literally at the command of the people.

Thus states' rights fade, with hardly a mention.

THE FUTURE

Can there be any doubt as to the future of the individual state?

As climax after climax is reached in the march toward new goals, in the war against depression, state unit after state unit will repose its problems into the hands of the chief command, the federal government.

The Harry Hopkins', the Harold Ickes', the Henry Wallaces, the Frances Perkins' must carry on. They were designated by the commander-in-chief; and in battle they recognize no friends; to waver for a moment would be to give ground to the common foe.

No matter who would obtain control of the federal government now, the man or the group would have to follow the same policy in regard to full authority for the nation.

There is no greater protective rights to a people than to ward off starvation.

Justice begins there, and works upward to economic freedom and security, to political freedom, to freedom of thought and of expression.

And it is more likely, in the opinion of the average citizen, that he will attain and retain his rights better under federal jurisdiction than under state jurisdiction.

Ask the citizen of Ohio. He knows.

SMALLER UNITS AGAIN?

Will there ever be smaller units again? Can monopolies be dissected and the parts handed to smaller owners? Can the federal government return its powers to smaller units once the "emergency" has ended?

Congress is to discuss that in heated manner in debate over extension of the NRA.

But—to world observers—it is a futile debate. The integration of society into large groups is a world movement. It can be blamed neither on Communists nor Fascists. It is a part of the transition from the age of industrialism to whatever we are entering, for better or for worse. When the industrial age succeeded the age of the feudal barons, there were the same fears, the same arguments, the same prejudices.

This is the age when the government is becoming all—not because it is planned, but because we have not planned, because we seem helpless, because people are rushing helter-skelter toward it.

And that is why so many diverse and disturbing elements are trying to gain control of the government, for he who wins now may be master for a long time.

President Roosevelt has at once the difficult task of consolidating all major efforts of Americans existence under the federal government and of maintaining a democracy.

PARENTS SHOULD ADOPT A "LAISSER FAIRE" POLICY TOWARD MARRIED CHILDREN.

Too many parents retain a dictatorial attitude toward their children, even after they have established homes of their own.

This is one of the reasons why parents are not more welcome in the homes of their married sons and daughters.

There is too much interference in the young peoples personal affairs.

The father or the mother who goes to live with a daughter or a son should realize that his or her days of control are over.

If the parent had been successful and efficient during years of independence, the same success might crown later years, if it could be understood that life has its periods and phases and the part must be played true to character.

A parent in the home of a child should afford a blessed companionship.

It should be a comforting experience on both sides.

But the parent who does not know enough to realize how to act in the home of a child is in for serious trouble.

Suppose traditions are broken and suppose the younger ones do have differences, adjustments cannot be made through interference on the part of the parent.

Parents should realize that maturity does not necessarily indicate permission to interfere with the lives of the married children.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 20

Today's Yesterdays—March 20, 1431—Jeanneton Darc, erroneously called Joan of Arc, went on trial before the Inquisition, destined to be found guilty of heresy and burned at stake.

Though she has been represented for centuries as a simple farmer girl, there is evidence she was a princess, the daughter of Queen Isabel of Bavaria and Louis Duc d'Orleans, who had been domiciled with the family of Darc at Domremy from infancy in order to avoid scandal.

That a person who avoids another's gaze is likely to be found dishonest.

That an expectant mother can, by fixing her mind on a subject change the character of the child.

That one can estimate a person's intelligence by looking at his face.

That the shape and prominence of one' head indicates one's character.

There is no basis for any of these popular superstitions. Incidentally, of 25 propositions which researchers consider a standard set of superstitions, 100 patients in asylums were found to subscribe more often to the above!

ARE YOU A MATTRESS MARTYR?

DON'T READ THIS

Unless You Don't Sleep As Comfortably As You Should!

Just glance at this young woman. She's not ill! She's a "mattress martyr" . . . but she's unaware of the fact. She sleeps long hours . . . but awakes tired and listless. She sleeps upon a lifeless mattress that is not sufficiently resilient to provide buoyancy for her body. She is unaware how many times her protesting muscles compelled her to change her position during the night . . . Seven nights a week! . . . 52 weeks a year! What wonder her face wears a weary look and her eyes are dim. No wonder pasty pallor has taken the place of healthy glow and lines, wrinkles and "crows' feet" appear years before they should.

Splendid Talks And Dramatist Feature Federation Program

With a splendid representation of prominent clubwomen throughout the county, in attendance, the March meeting of Lawrence County Federation of Women's clubs on Tuesday, in Epworth M. E. church, with the Music club and the Civic Theatre Guild hostess clubs, was most successful. In the neighborhood of 200 women were present, listening to an inspirational and instructive program on club work.

The morning session opened in Grace chapel, at 10:30, with the president, Mrs. A. P. Treser, presiding. After assembly singing of "Hail Pennsylvania" the litany was read by Mrs. L. G. Nail and allegiance to the flag was led by Mrs. E. F. Toepfer, color bearer of the Daughters of 1812, a trio of beautiful silk emblems being upon the stage. A verse of "America" followed. Reports of officers were read by Mrs. M. L. Ailey, recording secretary, and Mrs. H. R. McCulloch, treasurer.

Featuring the morning session were several splendid talks, Mrs. Carrie Jeffery Roberts, chairman of the legislative department, speaking on the Birth Control Conference recently held in Pittsburgh, at which she was a delegate from the local Federation. Mrs. Richard B. Perry, of Pittsburgh, president of the southwestern district, presented important statistics on the subject of "Selective Sterilization." Miss Margaret Toepfer, a member of the Lawrence County Bar Association, was scheduled for the opposition, but due to illness, was unable to be present. In her absence, Mrs. S. D. Pearson led a panel discussion on the topic, calling upon different members for opinions. Among the number responding were Mrs. Frank Fischer, Mrs. C. G. Long, Mrs. W. H. Shipler, Mrs. Charles Greer, Mrs. Laura Parker, Mrs. S. M. Matheny, Mrs. Roy A. Long and Mrs. J. A. McNeill.

The presence on the program of two former New Castle women was of particular interest. Mrs. T. M. Stahlman (nee Mildred Worrell), southwestern district chairman of club institutes, spoke of her department's activities, and touched upon the importance of conscientious selection for all club leadership. Mrs. Samuel Cuthbert (nee Lillian Osborne) southwestern district chairman of motion pictures, dealt with that subject, inspiring the local Federation to continue work along the line of securing better films for children.

At 12:45 luncheon was announced, the large group finding places at several prettily decorated tables in the dining room. Miss Kate M. Stockman read an appropriate poem, following with a brief prayer. A delicious menu was served by the Fairfield avenue unit of the church. An informal reception period was a pleasure until time for the afternoon session which featured a dramatic recital by Juanita Bower, in original monodramas.

Miss Bower possesses both talent and personality and her presentations, all of which were in appropriate costume, were exceptionally fine. Her program was versatile, including humorous, pathetic, sentimental and romantic selections. Miss Bower is from Lexington, Va., a graduate of nearby Sweetbriar College. She was enthusiastically received and responded graciously, to encores in concluding the program which follows:

Three Proposals—

Modern Girl, 1934

Greating a typical setting for Part IV, which contrasted three proposals, periods 1868, 1898 and 1934, Dorothy Gormley Smith sang an appropriate group of songs, with Mrs. J. L. Reed at the piano. Mrs. R. N. Haines contributed a piano solo.

Much credit reflects upon the Civic Theatre Guild, Mrs. J. W. McIllwraith, president, and her coworkers for properties and stage management which aided in making the delightful afternoon's entertainment successful as well as a distinct pleasure. Unusual containers filled with forced shrubs, beautified the front of the stage and expressed the co-operation of Mrs. C. Allan Ingals, president of the Lawrence County Garden club.

Club officers who were in attendance included Mrs. Charles Greer, honorary president; Mrs. A. P. Treser, president; Mrs. W. C. Eckenroad, first vice; Mrs. Charles Freeman, second vice; Mrs. M. L. Ailey, recording secretary; Mrs. Bernard Kline, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Harold R. McCulloch, treasurer, Mrs. Roy A. Long, parliamentarian. Ushers were Mrs. Dudley Arnold, Mrs. Bart Richards, Mrs. G. R. Throop, Mrs. Earl Carpenter. Among the visitors were Miss Virginia Foulke, of Bridgeport, Conn., and Mrs. J. A. Edgar, of The News.

The next county meeting is booked for May 21, with hostess clubs including New Castle of Jewish Women, Reading Circle of '06 and Current Events '06.

Twenty members were present, as were two special guests, Mrs. John Bell and Rev. C. W. Johnstone, and all enjoyed the program, which had as its highlights an address by Dr. Anna Jack on the customs, needs and habits of the Tennessee mountain people, and a solo by Mrs. Maurice Sadler.

Plans were made for a mothers and daughters banquet on May 10. It was voted to give an Easter offering to a Cleveland orphanage and to join in the Easter week of prayer at the church. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The next meeting will be on April 16 at the home of Miss Laura Bell, Pennsylvania avenue, with Miss Ruth Strobel as co-hostess.

Jollikousins Club

Cards formed the pastime for Jollikousins club members Tuesday evening, when they met with Mrs. Welling Pulford on Woodlawn avenue. Miss Mae Cromie and Mrs. Harry Gribble carried off the honor score prizes.

At this gathering, Miss Irene McClelland was welcomed as a new member.

Lunch was served, the hostess being assisted by Mrs. Emmett Reardon and Mrs. Ethel Grannis. Seasonal tones were used in all appointments.

COMBINED SOCIETIES HAVE DINNER EVENT

In furthering their study of the Japanese this winter, a combined dinner event was held Tuesday evening in Epworth M. E. church by members of the Maxwell circle, the Standard Bearers, the Weaver circle and the Woman's Auxiliary, the affair also celebrating Founders Day.

Covers were laid for 100 guests for dinner at 6:30, the tables being differently decorated and attractive with numerous small cherry trees and Japanese parasols at each place.

The after dinner program consisted of two short playlets, a monologue and songs. "Aunt Polly Joins the Missionary Society" was the title of the first one, presented by five members of Maxwell circle under the direction of Miss Jane Young. "Miss Lechty's Views" was the second offering put on by four Standard Bearers, with Miss Helen Clark directing. Miss Grace Stitzinger gave a monologue, "I Haven't Time", and the Standard Bearers sang an appropriate song.

The affair was a great success and the committees in charge received much praise for the delightful evening.

NEW OFFICERS PRESIDE AT PAST CHIEFS CLUB

Past Chiefs of Pythian Sisters held a delightful meeting Tuesday evening in the Court street residence of Mrs. Myrtle Hildebrand, with Mrs. Emma Maxwell joint hostess.

There were 17 present, including one guest, Mrs. Helen Hildebrand. As this marked the first meeting of the club since the election of new officers, activities for the year were discussed and a dinner planned for March 28, at the First Christian church, in honor of the retiring officers. Mrs. Emma Maxwell presided as new president, the other officers including Mrs. Jennie Drumm, vice president, and Mrs. Myrtle Hildebrand, secretary and treasurer.

Refreshments were served after a social period of beano. The next meeting was announced for the third Tuesday in April.

Whatsoever Class

Last evening Mrs. William Wilson and Mrs. Cecil Mitchell were joint hostesses to the Whatsoever class of the First Baptist church, in the home of the former on Sumner avenue.

Business of the class was taken up. The scrapbooks which the girls made for the children's wards in the hospitals were finished and plans made for delivering them. Easter baskets are to be made for the children of Crawford-Oakridge home for Easter.

Special guests were Mrs. Somers and Miss Helen Miller, the former being the "Class Grandmother". Mrs. Somers donated a sum of money to start the class library which was appreciated by the girls. This little lady who is 83 years old and blind is very much loved by the girls and helps the class in every way she can.

A delightful lunch was served by the hostesses, carrying out the color scheme of green and white, the class colors.

Auxiliary Event

An entertainment was given to a host of friends numbering about 200, by the auxiliary to the Sons of Veterans at their hall in the City building, the members holding a Hickville bazaar.

The program follows: reading, Beverly Fox; two solos, Pauline Rashid; accompanied by Margaret McCormick; reading, Gene Porter. A one act play entitled "How the Story Grew" was presented. The time pictured 40 years ago at Hicksville, and the cast included: Mrs. Marie Roof, Mrs. Jennie Tyler, Miss Margaret McCormick, Miss Dorothy Rishel, Mrs. Joseph Hoover, Mrs. Idyl Cooper, Miss Geraldine Rishel and Mrs. Lucy Petitt. A door prize and a number of other prizes were won by the various members. The closing hour featured bingo.

Tuesday Bridge Club

The Tuesday Bridge club members, were delightfully entertained yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Theresa Wright, East Washington street. Cards formed the diversion, with Mrs. Ben French sharing as a special guest. She received a lovely gift from the hostess, and those given honor score awards, were Mrs. A. E. Tullis and Mrs. Elsie Nessle. Refreshments were served throughout play.

In two weeks, the club members will have a tureen luncheon in the home of Mrs. E. C. Chapman, Moody avenue.

Share Honors

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Long avenue, whose birthday anniversaries fell due on Sunday and Monday, March 17 and 18, entertained a family dinner in their home Monday, as a means of celebration.

The menu was served at 6:30 o'clock, and a social program was carried out during the afternoon and evening hours. Green and white appointments were used in all appointments, and aides for the affair, included Mrs. Rose Owoc, Mrs. Mary Anuida and Mrs. Stanley Buczek.

Willing Helpers.

A meeting of the Willing Helpers class of the Madison Avenue Christian church took place in the home of the president, Louis Turk, North Liberty street, Tuesday evening, with the host presiding over the business session.

Games and music were enjoyed. Mrs. F. S. Turk, the host's mother, served a delicious lunch.

The next meeting will be on April 16 at the home of Miss Vera Betty Walter, West Clayton street. Mrs. W. W. Waid is the teacher of the class.

Legion Auxiliary

The American Legion Auxiliary, held an interesting meeting Monday evening at the Legion Home, when plans were completed for their card and bingo party to be held March 27 in their quarters. Mrs. Robert Cage is general chairman and Mrs. Ivor Davis will arrange for the refreshments.

Also, announcement was made regarding the delegation of local members, who will attend the meeting on March 28 to be held in the Presbyterian church at Ambridge.

FAMILY NIGHT AT FIRST M. E. CHURCH

Family Night was observed by the Ellen Woods group, Queen Esthers, at the First M. E. church Tuesday evening, with an attendance of 70 guests.

At attractive tables adorned with green and yellow tones, the group enjoyed an excellent casserole dinner at 6:30 with the committee furnishing the main dishes. Miss Martha Bigley was in charge of the program following, when everybody had a general good time playing games and chatting.

The committee in charge of last evening's successful event was composed of Misses Ellen Woods, Helen Moseley, Nettie M. Clarke, Martha Bigley, Mrs. James Elmore, Mrs. William Wagner, Mrs. E. B. Hawkins, Mrs. Earl Kyle.

The Queen Esthers are busy with arrangements for a style show and "coffee" which will take place next Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock, in the church. Mrs. Earl Buzard is chairman of this committee.

T. O. T. Club.

Miss Coletta Presiel of Etna street proved a charming hostess when she entertained members of the T. O. T. club in her home.

Miss Estella Wilson and Miss Goldie Householder won card prizes. During the business session, Miss Anna Marion Critchlow was selected to head the flower fund committee. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her aunt Mrs. Blake. The hostess, whose birthday occurred on the same date as the meeting, was presented with a luscious cake by her aunt, Mrs. Blake.

Miss Kathryn Ritchie of Canyon street will entertain the club soon.

Eighth Birthday.

Mrs. J. A. Gillespie of Lutton street entertained 20 little girls on Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock in honor of her daughter Alice on her eighth birthday.

Games proved exciting pastimes for the youngsters, and the serving of the birthday dinner at a beautifully decorated table with a large cake aglow with eight green candles, in the center, was a fitting climax to the day.

Mrs. Gillespie was assisted in serving by Mrs. William Miller, Mrs. Catherine Ferris, Mrs. Celeste Atkinson and Miss Ruth Owens.

Alice received many lovely gifts.

Birthday Honored

At the meeting of the Y. N. W. club Tuesday evening, at the home of Mrs. Pauline Houk, of Dushane street, a shower was tendered Mrs. William Mort in honor of her birthday. Chat and cards were diversions, with Mrs. Muriel McGee winning the favor. Mrs. McGee assisted with lunch.

The next meeting will be on April 9, at the home of Miss Olive Hoover of the Graceland road.

I. Q. Club

Mrs. James Maurc of Oak street, had as guests Tuesday, members of the I. Q. club with Jennie Paudla as hostess. The event was in the form of a pajama party, with dancing, a "Mock Trial" and a period of utensil band playing, being features.

A menu was served later in the dining room, colors of blue and gold being used in the decorations.

The next regular meeting will take place March 27, with Vida George, Home street, as hostess.

G. T. E. Club Change

Members of the G. T. E. club will meet with Mrs. Cecil Logan on Brooklyn avenue Thursday evening, instead of with Mrs. Earl White of Croton avenue, as previously planned.

Birthday Surprise

Friends numbering 30 gathered, surprise fashion, on the evening of March 16, to honor the 20th birthday of Miss Pearl McConnell, at Volant. The hours were enlivened with music and games, everybody having a general good time.

The honored guest's mother, Mrs. J. W. McConnell, assisted by Misses Helen and Mary Sankey, Miss Elizabeth McNulty and Miss Helen Swartz, served a dainty lunch. The honoree received many lovely gifts from the guests which were expressive of sincere good wishes.

Skippy Sunshine Club

The Skippy Sunshine club will meet Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the home of Polleen Miller on Vine street.

O. F. B. Club

Mrs. Howard Barnes, of Coaltown, will be hostess to the O. F. B. club Thursday evening.

On Court House Hill

Notary Public commission for Edward E. McConahy has been entered at the register and recorder's office.

County Treasurer William O. Pitts reports that county funds are running low, and it will soon be necessary to do some more borrowing in order to tide the county over until the 1935 taxes begin to come in.

County commissioners are of the opinion that it would be a good thing if the legislature would add an extra tax on heavy trucks coming into Pennsylvania from other states. These big trucks are very hard both on bridges and the roads, and do not pay their share of upkeep.

Practically all of the jurors who attend court spend their nights at home unless tied up on a jury. This is made possible by the automobile and good roads. In the old days when farmers had to depend on Dobbin and dirt roads, jurors were compelled to remain in the city during the entire week of court.

County commissioners clerk, William A. Eakin and assistants are making good progress in their work of figuring out the amount of tax which is due on each property in the county. Already the work has been completed in eighteen townships and boroughs. After the tax is figured out the books are all rechecked for errors, before the duplicates are made up for the county treasurer's office. The boroughs and townships were taken up first for the reason that all of the books were in from these districts. Some of the city assessment books are not yet in. There are thirty four districts in the county. It is figured that by the first of April the taxes will be figured up in all of them, except the city. It will probably be around the middle of April before the city is completed. County treasurer William O. Pitts will then be given the duplicates and will send out tax statement cards to every property owner in the county.

Archieves of the court house received an addition today from the office of Alderman O. H. P. Green, who is moving his office to another location. Under an act of assembly the old records of aldermens offices must be turned over to the prothonotary. When the books and records arrived Prothonotary R. M. Campbell scratched his head and wondered what he would do with them, since his office is already crowded so badly that the cockroaches have to sleep two in a bed. Janitor Clifford James suggested that the basement would be a good place to store the records since there is not much likelihood that any of them will ever be needed. This proved to be the solution of the matter and now the alderman's cherished records are sharing the dust mantled basement with accumulations of other generations.

It was a new experience of jurors on the James Mitchell murder case to sleep with strange bedfellows Monday night. As there were both men and women on the jury, it was necessary to have both male and female apartments and some very good ones were found at a local hotel. The women jurors, three in number, were chaperoned by Mrs. Winifred James, librarian at the law library, who enacts the dual role of librarian and tipstaff in time of stress. Henry Mershimer had the men in charge. The rooms occupied by the male jurors had to be connecting ones so Mershimer could see if they said their prayers, and the same was true of those in charge of Mrs. James. Previous to going to the hotel the jurors spent their time in a jury room until 10 o'clock. Jurors took their meals at a restaurant during the trial where they also did their eating under the eyes of the tipstaves.

"STRONG ARM" TAX COLLECTION TABOOED

(International News Service)

READING, Pa., Mar. 20.—Berks County residents who are unable to meet their county tax payments need have no fear that their property will be sold from under them.

That is the assurance of County Commissioner Nathaniel Gring, made in a statement in which he also threatened with dismissal any tax collectors found guilty of using "strong arm" methods in the collection of overdue county accounts.

HIS IRON "TONIC"

(International News Service)

BELGRADE.— When a 15 year old boy of Ljubljana complained to his father that he had pains in his stomach he at once took him to the house of a famous surgeon. The surgeon examined him and operated immediately. From the boy's inside he took 98 screws and nails of varying lengths and sizes. The boy has completely recovered and shows no ill effects from his "iron tonic."

Safer Stopping

THAN POLICE ASK OF ANY BRAKES by more than 40%

Rotary-Equalized Brakes on new Hudsons and Terraplanes Amaze Traffic Experts

HERE'S WHAT HAPPENED IN PUBLIC DEMONSTRATION SUPERVISED BY DETROIT POLICE DEPARTMENT

BEFORE YOU BUY ANY 1935 CAR—SEE IF IT CAN STOP LIKE THIS

Car Speed (with 5 adult passengers)	Police Figure for Perfect Brake Condition	Average Stopping Distance of Hudson-built Terraplane
20 m. p. h.	18 feet	10 feet, 8 inches
40 m. p. h.	71 feet	40 feet, 1 inch
50 m. p. h.	111 feet	67 feet, 4 inches

Brake requirements are severe in Detroit. Yet this Hudson-built Terraplane, a stock model carrying five adults, beat by more than 40% the stopping distances Detroit police call perfect! Did it again and again—at 20, 40 and 50 miles an hour! Stopped smoothly—all four wheels tracking straight ahead!

Before you buy any new car, see if it can match this safe stopping record. Test them all. Compare other features, too, with what Hudson and Terraplane offer—then decide.

What "BUILT BY HUDSON" Means

Rotary-Equalized Brakes. The same new-type, safety brakes that set these sensational stopping records. Five years' brake advancement in a single year. Quicker, smoother, straight-line stopping. Equal pressure at all four wheels at the same instant.

The only cars with bodies all of steel . . . bodies that reinforce the chassis, while the chassis reinforces the body . . . giving greatest strength, yet eliminating hundreds of pounds of useless weight.

That's why bodies designed by Hudson engineers have helped make Hudsons and Terraplanes the world's greatest performing stock cars.

Proof of this in scores of official A. A. A. records, including new world records made at Daytona Beach last month, with Sir Malcolm Campbell at the wheel.

Ruggedness proved in the recent 175,000-mile Ruggedness Runs.

The ELECTRIC HAND

Greatest mechanical advancement of 1935. Simplified, easier, safer driving . . . faster, smoother shifting, with both hands always on the wheel. An exclusive feature, standard on Hudson Custom Eights; optional for a small amount extra on all other 1935 Hudsons and Terraplanes.

and up for Hudson-built Terraplane (88 or 100 horsepower) . . . Hudson Six $695 and up (93 or 100 horsepower) . . . Hudson Eight $760 and up (113 or 124 horsepower). All prices f. o. b. Detroit for closed models.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. March 19, one arrest on complaint of wife.

Mercantile tax duplicate for 1934, audited by Controller Earl Wimer, shows: original assessment, $14,510; later assessments added by the treasurer, $917.50; collected by the treasurer, $9,092; balance turned over to delinquent tax collector for collection, $6,335.50; later assessments added by the collector, $780.44, and of the total of $7,115.94 there was collected by the delinquent tax collector up to January 6, 1935, $6,245.94. The present mercantile collector is James Mayberry. Up to July of each year the tax is paid to the city treasurer and after that time Mayberry assumes the role of collector.

Schedule of assessed valuations and taxes for the year 1935 is shown on a chart prepared by the controller. He shows the valuations into what fund the taxes go. The personal valuations amount to $2,575,870, real estate at $48,256,570 and the total of $50,832,440 is divided as follows: general revenue, $457,491.96; sinking fund, $101,664.88, and library, $25,472.17 or a total of $584,629.01.

Certificates of indebtedness outstanding January 1, 1934, had a face value of $255,030.64. During that year there were issued other certificates at a value of $39,040.58 which made a total of $294,079.22. The amount redeemed was $19,363.73 with interest of $10,193.11 . The balance when the city's fiscal year started in January amounted to $274,715.49.

Telephone service cost the city of New Castle $1,916.32 during 1934, according to a report made for the last fiscal year. The telephones in the council offices cost $127.13. The charge for the telephones in the fire departments amounted to $412.77. Included in the $1,916.32 were toll charges of $169.35.

WHEN QUIVERING NERVES WON'T LET YOU SLEEP

Doesn't the night seem an eternity? You toss and turn—try to find a cool spot on the pillow—hear the clock strike downstairs. Today's excitement and tomorrow's worry are beating through your brain. You count sheep frantically—but outraged nerves refuse to relax.

He was knocked down and one of the wheels passed over his body. Nelson yelled to his 14 year old nephew Jack Campbell, who was with him, to apply the brakes. The boy, in attempting to stop the machine, threw it into low gear and it again ran over Nelson.

X-RAY DETECTIVE

(International News Service)

BOMBAY—Use of the X-Ray enabled police to outwit an ingenious jewel thief. An elegantly dressed man entered a jeweller's shop and asked to see some valuable rings. During the inspection, he cleverly substituted a fake ring from his pocket for one of them. The shop assistant's suspicions were aroused and police notified. The ring, however had mysteriously disappeared. The man was X-rayed and the ring was discovered inside his stomach.

Grass Fires In County Call Out State Wardens

Residents of Lawrence county's rural districts today were warned that they may be held wholly responsible for any damage that may result from ravaging grass fires in their localities.

The warning came from Ralph F. Davis and Owen Penfield Fox, state fire wardens for the county.

Davis and Fox both spent a sleepless week end because of menacing fires that developed in scattered sections of the county. No serious damage resulted, they said, from the fires. They responded to night and day calls for help and, with hurriedly-mustered volunteers, extinguished the blazes.

"This is the time of the year," Mr. Davis pointed out, "when grass fires—bad ones—break out. It is up to the residents to use the greatest of caution at all times."

Davis reported that a grass fire in the southern part of the county at 4 o'clock Sunday morning, fanned by that morning's heavy wind, caused him great concern for a while. It was finally conquered.

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

Letters Intended For This Column Must Be Signed With Name And Address Of Writer.

STATEMENT FROM THE ELECTRIC CONSUMERS LEAGUE

Since the organization of the Electrical Consumers League about one year ago, there has been considerable talk in which "The League" is coupled with a proposed hydro electric development on the Slippery Rock river.

This propaganda comes from the Penn Power and its friends and has been put out for the purposes of misleading the public and for a smoke screen to obscure the real issue.

These propagandists declare that there is no general complaint about electric rates here, in New Castle, and that the issue is not between the people of New Castle and the Penn Power Co., but rather between the power company and a few selfish persons interested in the development of the hydro electric project, and who hope to sell power to New Castle.

The executive committee of the league desires to state most emphatically to the public that there is no connection whatever between the league and the proposed hydro development. The executive committee holds that New Castle is under no obligation to purchase power from any particular electric company and there is not now, and never has been, any understanding between the members of "The Consumers League" and those interested in the Lawrence Hydro Electric Company as to there being any obligation either way.

If the hydro shall at any time have power to sell, it must find its own market. It is under no obligation to sell its power to New Castle and we are under no obligation to buy from it.

Further, the executive committee of the "league" desires to state that there is a very clear cut issue between the people of New Castle and the Penn Power Co., and that there is a very general and a very great dissatisfaction with the electric rates here.

The league is now composed of the vast majority of the voters of New Castle and stands four square for city ownership of distribution of power. We are satisfied that any rate cut received from the utility company will be merely temporary and will not in any case be half of the saving to be gained by purchasing wholesale power and distributing it over city owned lines.

The league stands for the purchase of wholesale power from the lowest bidder. That may be the Penn Power or the Duquesne Light Co., with service this side of Beaver Falls. It might be the West Penn Power which comes to Portersville. It might be the Associated Gas which gets part of its power from the Clarion river. The only way the Lawrence Hydro can sell current to New Castle would be to underbid the other companies.

The above facts are submitted to the public by the executive committee of the league that they may be correctly informed on this subject.

Signed,
WALTER S. REYNOLDS,
President.

WRIGHT'S COMMENT

Editor News,
Dear Sir:

I see by the papers that the Thayer Company are moving to collect their bill of $24,000, plus a few dollars and cents for preparing plans and specifications for a new court house, that the commissioners were determined to build; were only blocked from doing so by the overwhelming opposition of the taxpayers; backed by a just judiciary. This opposition from the taxpayers was in evidence from the first, in protests from good citizens, granges and the taxpayers' leagues. It seems to me that the commissioners with these protests in view, should have incorporated in their contract with Thayers, this clause: "In view of the uncertainty of human events, should this building project have to be postponed or abandoned at any time, the Thayer company will be paid only as far as they have gone, or only for services actually performed," or something similar. But I doubt if anything has been done to prevent Thayers from collecting every penny of this money. It seems to me, if my surmise is correct, the decent thing for the commissioners to do, would be to resign.

ARTHUR WRIGHT.
Mahoning Township.

THIS DRIVER FORCED WRONG MAN OFF ROAD

BUTLER, Pa., Mar. 20.—Arrested after he allegedly forced State Highway Patrolman H. A. Stephens from the road, R. J. Landgraf of near Chicora pleaded guilty to a drunken driving charge when arraigned before Alderman John W. Bixler here.

Landgraf's car forced his motorcycle from the highway as he was patrolling route 68, Stephens reported. In default of $500 bail, the Chicora man was committed to the county jail to await sentence by Judge John H. Wilson.

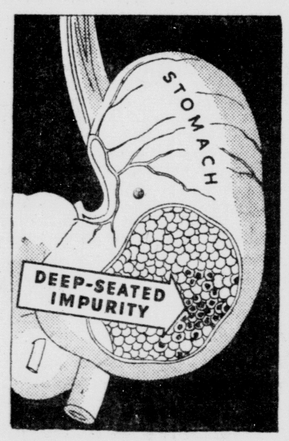
STOMACH DISTRESS CAUSED BY DEEP-SEATED IMPURITY

Common Symptoms Are Gas Pains, Rifting of Half-Digested Food, Shortness of Breath and Dizziness.

New Scientific Medicine Is Found That Works With Your Food, Called Indo-Vin; Brings Relief in Minutes and Costs Only a Trifle.



The Stomach Lining Is a Series of Small Pits. Impurity Cling Deep in These Pits, Often Causing Serious Disorders.

There has been a notable discovery for the relief of stomach distress. Not a cure-all, not a "patent" medicine, but a new, scientific formula that works with the sufferer's food, known as Indo-Vin now being introduced to crowds daily here in New Castle at Eckerd's drug store.

G. H. MOSBY
Originator of Indo-Vin

It was first introduced in New Castle a few weeks, ago, and has become a complete sensation, and druggists and public alike state that it is helping people who had never been really helped before by ANY medicine, bringing relief in some of the worst cases of stomach trouble found in this city.

What It Is

Indo-Vin is made from natural Plants, and taken shortly after meals it mixes with the food in one's stomach, thus throwing off the poisons that foster stomach troubles and permitting the kidneys and liver to function properly. It acts within 10 minutes to stop acid risings, bloat and belching and will bring out awful gases and impurities (frequently from the first dose) which may have been inside of you a long time, contaminating your blood and inner-organs.

Indo-Vin clears out old fermented substances, half-digested food and other impure "matter". Such impurities half-fill the stomach and intestines and form a coating on the lining, thus causing stomach "trouble". Cleansing out these impure substances permits freer flow of the digestive juices, makes the digestive organs sweet and clean and gives complete relief from indigestion, heart palpitation from gas, spitting up of food, shortness of breath, lump in stomach and dyspepsia. Likewise, it has a great action upon the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, and thus it cleanses and improve the whole system in general.

This is no mere tablet or pill, and not a powder, syrup or capsule, and it does not contain alcohol or a single habit-forming drug, but it is a scientific LIQUID mixture from 22 Medicinal Plants, all blended into one remarkable compound. It is vastly different from any previously known formula, contains perhaps more ingredients than three ordinary medicines put together. While it is being introduced in New Castle every suffering person can try it at the small cost of only a few cents a day. So if stomach affliction, or even some little digestive difficulty, is bringing you misery it would certainly be a mistake not to try it.

Indo-Vin is now being introduced to the public daily here in New Castle, at the Eckerd's drug store. Also being sold in all the nearby towns by every good druggists throughout this whole New Castle section.

Would Transfer Income Tax Suit To New York City

Movement Started By Mellon Forces To Shift Hearings To New York

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 20. — A movement, started by Mellon forces, to transfer hearings in the three-million dollar income tax battle between Andrew W. Mellon and the federal government from Pittsburgh to New York was underway before the U. S. Board of Tax Appeals here today.

Frank J. Hogan, chief Mellon counsel, has requested the board to adjourn hearings here Thursday afternoon and reopen them in New York next Tuesday. Hogan desires this change so that testimony of Eugene G. Grace, president of Bethlehem Steel Corporation, and three art experts may be taken.

May Not Oppose

Government counsel have not indicated whether they will oppose or approve the move.

Grace's testimony will concern the merger of McClintic-Marshall Corporation, a Mellon-controlled concern, with Bethlehem Steel in 1931. In its fight to collect $3,089,261 in additional taxes and penalties from the former secretary of the treasury, the government claims Mellon netted a $6,000,000 profit on which he paid no taxes from this deal. Mellon claims the transaction was a merger and tax-exempt and asks a refund of $139,045 on his 1931 tax payment.

The art experts are expected to testify concerning treasures Mellon gave the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation in 1931.

Patrolmen Seeking Hit-Run Motorist

Joseph Tanner Of R. D. 6 Injured When Accident Occurs

Joseph Tanner, R. D. 6, city, received sprains and bruises about midnight last night when a car he was operating toward New Castle in Coaltown was forced off the road and struck a tree. Highway patrolmen hope to locate the alleged hit-and-run autoist.

Tanner was operating his auto in the direction of the city line and the other auto was going toward New Wilmington.

After Tanner was forced off the road and his car had struck a tree, the other autoist stopped then turned his machine toward New Castle.

He drove his car toward the point where the accident occurred, but instead of stopping to render assistance increased his speed and sped toward New Castle, it was reported.

Tanner's car was damaged.

Mexican Bandits Promise To Kill American Captives

(International News Service)

MEXICO CITY, Mar. 20.—Two Americans captured by Mexican bandits several days ago must be ransomed by 6:00 p. m. today (8:00 p. m. E. S. T.) or they will be shot to death, American Ambassador Josephus Daniels was advised today by American Consul George P. Shaw of San Luis Potos.

The victims are Mark Fowler, New York mining engineer, and Louis Bremsak of Pasadena, California.

Tidioute Girl Accorded Honor

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—Chosen by lot from 26 qualified candidates, Miss Lucille Thopson, a pupil in the Tidioute high school, today was delegated to represent Pennsylvania in the good citizenship pilgrimage to Washington, D. C., on April 11, to be conducted by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

One girl was selected from each of the 48 states to participate in the demonstration. Miss Irene Adans, of the California, Pa., high school, was chosen alternate.

Allege Brewery Violated Code

Many Are Indicted By Federal Grand Jury In Session At Erie, Pa.

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., Mar. 20.—Charged with cutting prices below the code of the industry, the Belmont Brewing company, Martins Ferry, O., today stood accused on four counts of an indictment alleging violation of the brewing industry's code of fair competition by a federal grand jury sitting here. The case will be tried at the next term of court in Pittsburgh.

A total of 52 true bills were returned by the jury. These included:

Lucy S. Hilliard, indicted on nine counts of impersonation and fraud. She was charged with impersonating a CWA investigator, treasury operator and post office inspector in Sykesville, Falls Creek and Wilkinsburg and through her operations with obtaining $497.

Many Indicted.

Victor Smith, Portage, and Rosario Palmintera, Monessen, indicted on charges of passing spurious bills.

Indictments under the postal laws included: Edward Camp and Walter G. McKim, Wilkinsburg, for taking $12 from a letter; Joseph Morgan, Pittsburgh, for the theft of a $3.60 relief check from a mailbox; William Bowman, Pittsburgh, for the theft of a parcel post package; Paul J. Colt and Ralph Dippo, Pittsburgh, for alleged forging of a $25 government check.

A total of 20 true bills were returned in alcohol cases from all sections of western Pennsylvania. All were for operating small "wildcat" distilleries.

"Parsifal," one of the great German music dramas by Wagner, has an English story, Parsifal being the German for Percival, one of the knights of King Arthur's round table.

Senate Studies Views On Bills

"Full Crew" And "Train Limit" Bills Are Cause Of Public Hearings

BOTH SIDES OF ARGUMENT GIVEN

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—Controversial views on the so-called "full crew" and "train limit" bills were studied today by the senate judiciary special committee after a public hearing at which the measures were both assailed and praised.

Sen. Charles W. Staudenmeier, Schuylkill, committee chairman, said his committee will act on the bills next Tuesday. They have already passed the house.

E. W. Scheer, of the Reading Company and the Central Railroad of New Jersey; C. W. Gallaway, of the Baltimore and Ohio, and C. W. Clement and F. J. Fell, Jr., of the Pennsylvania, all vice presidents, attacked the bills as injurious to railroads and coal, steel and other industries and asserted they would decrease safety and employment.

Rep. Peter R. Reising, Beaver Democrat; George W. Rowand, spokesmen for railroad workers, and John A. Fox, Harrisburg, of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, asserted the bills would increase safety and promote employment. Fox attacked salaries paid railroad officials.

Fell said the bill for larger crews would cost the railroads $8,640,000 a year while the smaller train measure would add another $26,790,000 to operating expenses.

"The motive behind these bills is to secure increased employment for a preferred class," Clement charged, asserted "a very small number of employes" would be benefited.

"SPEEDER"

(International News Service)

STOCKHOLM—In Sweden, if you are drunk and sit behind the steering wheel of a moving automobile, you are arrested, whether the engine is running or not. An intoxicated chauffeur released the brakes of a truck, without starting the motor, and let it coast down a street a few yards, before the machine stopped by itself. He was given a month in jail.

Italy Protests To Abyssinians

(International News Service)

ROME, Mar. 20.—A new Italian Somaliland border incident today resulted in the filing of a further formal protest by Italy with Abyssinia.

The incident, which further strained Italo-Abyssinian relations, as the alleged raiding of an Italian encampment near Agable, in Somaliland south of Uebishebeli, by an armed band of Abyssinians who reportedly stole 100 camels.

Italian troops refrained from pursuing the robbers across the Abyssinian border, whence they fled, Italian authorities reported.

Money Order Record Set By Post Office

February Figures Show 11,376 Were Written In Month Of February

Shattering all money order-writing records at the New Castle post office, the month of February, it was disclosed today, witnessed the writing of an all-time high of 11,376 orders.

The 11,376, it was pointed out, was approximately 2,000 more orders than have been written here in any one month.

The post office attributed part of the increase to the demand for orders with the renewal of state auto operator's licenses which comes each February.

Distinguished American Journalism Figure Dies In New York Hospital

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 20.—Louis Wiley, 75, business manager of the New York Times, and one of the most distinguished figures in American journalism, died suddenly today in the Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center. Death was caused by a cereberal thrombosis.

Wiley underwent an operation at the hospital on March 1.

Maintenance Of Township Roads Now State Issue

Effort To Return Highway Maintenance To Supervisors Hits Snag

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—Responsibility for maintaining 48,500 miles of second class township roads for the rest of the year today became an issue in the legislature, already involved over an extensive new tax program.

While Democratic efforts to rush legislation returning the system to township supervisors struck a snag, the Bennett bill providing the entire mileage be taken over permanently by the state was expected to be returned to the Senate Highway committee. This would place both suggestions for caring for the roads before the committee.

At the same time committee chairman Fred T. Gelder, Susquehanna, scheduled a meeting for today to consider emergency house and senate resolutions backing up the legislation to return maintenance to supervisors and slice up the $4,400,000 unspent Parkinson act funds among townships. "We're not going to be stampeded into action," he warned.

The resolutions pledge the legislature to enact the Shugarts bill returning the roads to the supervisors and authorize supervisors to set their 1935 tax rate which must be fixed next week in anticipation of state aid. Administration support was thrown behind this procedure by secretary of highways Warren Van Dyke. The house resolution has already been passed and sent to the senate.

In refusing to act hurriedly Gelder pointed out the resolutions provide for distribtuing the Parkinson act funds on a basis of mileage while the Shugarts bill specifies allocation on the basis of mileage and population. Gelder has sponsored a bill making mileage the base for computing the distribtuion of funds.

SMASHING LOSS

FALL RIVER, Mass.—A 100-year-old stained glass window in the home of Mrs. Anna Wallace was smashed by snowballs thrown by boys of the neighborhood. The window made of red glass, was imported from England over a century ago when the house was built. It was the only one of its kind in the country.

Student Stabbed In Pittsburgh As Initiation Occurs

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 20.—Stabbed beneath his heart during an altercation following a "bow tie club" initiation, Richard R. McClelland, 37, was in Allegheny General Hosptial in serious condition today.

The alleged fight occurred at a Northside restaurant when a group of youths began cutting off the neckties of persons in the "initiation." Before it was over, eight persons were arrested, including William Sullivan, 23, charged with the stabbing of McClelland.

"Good Neighbor" Policy Exploited

Roosevelt Falls Back On Home Honored Policy In Explaining Position

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—President Roosevelt fell back today on the "good neighbor" foreign policy to explain this country's attitude in the European crisis.

Asked at his regular press conference today concerning this government's position in the present situation, Mr. Roosevelt replied that we propose to properly maintain the policy of being a good neighbor to the rest of the world, and hope that this same policy will be extended to Europe and made effective in settling its problems.

The president indicated no decision has yet been made as to whether the United States will formally protest Germany's re-arming, which is a violation of the treaty of Berlin with this country.

JOHN DILLINGER AGAIN

(International News Service)

COLORADO SPRINGS.—John Dillinger was arrested, brought into Colorado Springs police court and find $5. "And I'm no outlaw, either," the defendant, an overalled miner, declared after giving his name. The charge was drunkenness.

Use Of Schools Will Be Denied

Unpatriotic Associations In Pittsburgh Denied Schools As Meeting Places

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 20.—Use of city schools by unpatriotic organizations is banned in a new ruling of the board of public education, effective today.

The ruling, aimed at groups seeking "to promote propaganda against our present form of constitutional government, "was adopted unanimously by the members, who also passed a resolution requiring that all public gatherings in the schools be opened with the singing of the national anthem.

Policy Outlined

The policy of the board was outlined by the following:

"Members of the board of public education, as public officials, are sworn to support, obey and defend the constitution of the United States and the constitution of the State of Pennsylvania. For them to permit the use of school buildings for meetings where the form of government outlined in these fundamental laws is subject to attack, would constitute a violation of this oath of office."

Diversified farming is being urged by government agents in Hawaii.

Reporter Makes Visit To Dionne Homestead

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

(Copyright, 1935, by International News Service)

CALLANDER, Ont., Mar. 20.—Happily oblivious of the world-wide interest in their younger sisters, the famous Dionne quintuplets, five other Dionne children live in a humble homestead across the roadway from the Dafoe "hospital" where the "quints" are receiving expert attention from Red Cross nurses and Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, the celebrated country doctor.

The five older Dionne children range in ages from eight years, down to two years of age. They are Ernest 8, Rose 7, Theresa 5, Daniel 3, and Paugine 2. Three girls and two boys.

This correspondent, after visiting the quintuplets at the Dafoe nursery, paid a call at the Dionne home across the roadway. The Dionne home, a yellow painted story-and-a-half, seven-room structure is a typical Canadian farm homestead and offers a sharp contrast to the spic and span "hospital" where the quintuplets are quartered. The furniture is extremely modest and the rooms anything but modern. But the home is famous. For here it was the quintuplets were born last May 28.

Inside The Home

When I knocked at the door I was asked to come in by the father of this big family—Oliva Dionne. Once inside the door you saw a fairly large sized room, with a big stove on one side of it. To the left was a small room, containing a piano. Just back of this room, on the main floor, is the bedroom where the quintuplets were born.

Dionne, father of the quintuplets, sat near the door. He is a slender, medium height man, with dark hair, dark eyes and a small black mustache. He was friendly. Over near the stove sat his wife, mother of the quintuplets. The father is 31 years old. Mrs. Dionne is only 26, which is remarkable, considering the fact she is the mother of ten children.

She is a dark-haired, rather plump woman with a ready smile and a dimple in her left cheek. She is French and has little to say when the conversation is in English. Her name was Elzire Legeo before she was married and she was raised in Callander.

"I was born right here," said Dionne, proudly.

He explained they have 300 acres of land, forty-five acres of which is clear for cultivation. He described it as "the old homestead." He said he bought it from his father, Oliver Dionne. His father had a fair-sized family—six children, three boys and three girls.

Made Tour

Dionne and Mrs. Dionne had recently returned from a trip to the United States where they had appeared on the stage. They visited Chicago, Detroit, Indianapolis and South Bend, Ind. It was reported they made $3,000 on their three-week tour. They were accompanied by Leo Kervin, of Callander, adviser and manager of Dionne, and Mrs. Georgina Rochon, of North Bay, Ont., a relative of Mrs. Dionne. The Dionnes said they enjoyed their trip and were treated splendidly.

When they appeared on the stage, Dionne explained, Mrs. Dionne bowed to the audience in response to applause when she was introduced and said a word in thanks in French. Then Dionne, in English, thanked the people of the United States for the kindness they had showed to them and their children.

Although the Dionne family made it plain they would like to have all their children—the quintuplets included—to themselves, under one roof, the Canadian government has taken steps to insure that the famous "quints" will not be exploited and would be taken care of properly and in the best of fashion until they are eighteen years of age.

Wards Of King

A bill, designed to safeguard the material, physical and spiritual welfare of the quintuplets was introduced in the Ontario legislature by Hon. David A. Croll, Ontario minister of public welfare and municipal affairs, making the infants wards of his majesty the king until they are eighteen years of age.

The bill was given its third reading in the legislature the other day. It was to become a law upon signature of the lieutenant governor.

Control of the person and estate of the quintuplets is vested in Minister Croll. One specification of the bill is that the children, Yvonne, Annette, Emilie, Cecile and Marie, shall be reared in the religion of their father (Roman Catholic), and that all money belonging to them shall be held in trust by the minister of public welfare until they attain their majority at the age of eighteen.

The cabinet, under provisions of the bill, was empowered to appoint a board of guardians, with authority over the finances, education and physical well-being of the children. Any guardian appointed would be directly responsible to Minister Croll, whose approval would be essential to all contracts.

Canadian officials were determined that there would be no exploitation of the famous babies and that everything would be done to safeguard their future from all angles.

AMISH FARMERS MAY BE GIVEN A BREAK

(International News Service)

LANCASTER, Pa., Mar. 20.—Because the Amish religion bans the signing of contracts, federal officials are reported to be considering an amendment to the Kerr-Smith tobacco acreage reduction act to exempt members of the cult from this stipulation.

Although willing to reduce their acreage, many Amish farmers have refused to sign contracts because of their "conscientious objections." The sect's religion teaches that an Amish man's word should be as good as his honor and, in the light of the church, all Amish men are honest.

The death rate for the month of November, 1934, throughout the registered area of the United States, which has just been compiled, proved to be exactly the same as for November, 1933, namely, 8.4 deaths per 1,000 persons.

U. S. TO MAINTAIN "HANDS-OFF" POLICY

Delay Protest On Decree By Hitler

Will Await Outcome Of Simon-Hitler Conference At Least

CONFERENCE SET FOR COMING WEEK

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

(Copyright, 1935, by International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—The United States has reached a tentative decision to maintain a strict "hands-off" policy in the European political crisis pending clarification of the situation.

In accordance with this policy, the State Department will refrain from making any protest to Berlin against German rearmament pending the outcome of the forthcoming conference between Sir John Simon, the British foreign secretary and Chancellor Adolf Hitler. Sir John is due to confer with Hitler early next week.

Watchful Waiting

The decision to maintain a watchful waiting attitude was reached following two White House conferences between President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull. The conferences also were attended by Ambassador Norman H. Davis, America's disarmament expert.

With France and Great Britain at odds over the attitude to be adopted towards Germany's rearmament and confusion reigning throughout Europe, the view prevailed that this government should avoid any move that might involve the United States in the Old World political embroglio.

The State Department wanted to let Berlin know that this government considered Germany's rearmament a violation of the separate American treaty of peace. Several methods of approach by which this might be done were discussed. However, it finally was decided that representations could not be made at the present time without the risk of dragging the United States into the European political aspects of the affair.

May Forego Protest

Therefore, it was decided to wait at least until after the Simon-Hitler meeting. If the outcome of their conference augurs well for European peace, this government may forego any protest to Berlin.

The decision was left tentative in case any unforeseen developments arise which might warrant some action by this government.

The one paramount factor uppermost in the minds of the State Department diplomats was the desire to avoid any move that might commit this country to taking sides pending clarification of the situation.

With this view in mind, both the White House and State Department were maintaining official silence concerning the government's attitude.

Company K Has Drill On Tuesday

Commissions Are Presented To Officers During Evening By Captain

K Company, Sons of Union Veterans held their regular drill-meeting last night on the third floor of the city hall. The drilling began at 8 o'clock with twenty-five men reporting in the ranks. Captain Partington turned the company over to Sergeant Raymond Gilbert for a short drill period.

Following this Captain Partington called the company to attention and presented Samuel Rick with a commission of lieutenant. He also presented Gerald Criswell with the warrant sergeant. Harry Powell was also presented with a warrant of sergeant, and Edward Gillest with that of a corporal. Both the warrants and the commission were from the Regimental Headquarters at Johnstown, Pa., and were signed by Major Ross M. Ascomb.

The remainder of the evening was spent in instruction and practicing of interior guard mount. The next meeting of the company will be on Tuesday evening, April 2, in the city hall.

Female frogs lay from 600 to 1,200 eggs, which they deposit in heaps about six inches in diameter in still, shallow water.

Today

What Are Hitler's Plans? Ours Should Be Simple. What Explosives Do. An Easy Sum.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.

HERE, as on the eastern side of the continent, and north and south, Americans ask:

What does Hitler MEAN, what will Europe DO?

On one point all agree: Whatever Europe and Hitler may do, they must do it with no help in manpower or financial power, from this country.

No official would commit political suicide by dragging or pushing this country into war, and if any official were so foolish, he would soon hear from the people: Thanks, but we do not care to go.

FRANCE AND England, worried, reap the reward of their selfish foolishness, expressed in the Treaty of Versailles. Hitler tears up that treaty, and France and England look on, only praying that nothing worse may come.

Hitler's job, as dictator, is unlike Mussolini's. The latter shares, as Italian ruler, in the Allies' victory. His people are content to have him sit and rule. Hitler finds on his hands the hard job of wiping out the disgrace of defeat, and, according to Russian opinion, he is driven to action by increasing economic difficulties, as well as by the natural craving for revenge.

Nations usually wait longer for revenge. France waited more than forty years, from the war of 1870, to the big war, before taking back Alsace-Lorraine. Hitler, apparently, if he really means war, feels that he cannot afford to wait.

WHAT HE really wants, he alone knows. The change from an Austrian house-painter to dictator of a great nation is a difficult change. After what has happened, anything may seem possible to him.

Whatever is to come is the affair of Europe. This nation might well say to others:

"The United States looks upon this earth as an aggregation of continents. We feel responsible for this continent, as regards any conquests in South America, forbidden by the Monroe Doctrine, or any aggression in North America.

"We have, and propose to keep the friendship of Canada and Mexico. We shall look after this continent. Let Europe and Asia attend to theirs."

ALREADY EUROPE suggests of course this nation must play its part, if war comes. It must, and will, play its part, by staying at home, keeping out intruders, and attending to its own business.

FRANCE AND England look to Russia to play an important, anti-German part, if there is to be war. Fascist Germany despises bolshevik Russia, and Hitler has said so, officially.

Stalin does not like being despised. He does business with England, has a close treaty with France, as in the czarist days, France wisely overlooking Russia's unpaid debt of six billion dollars.

Russia has a great air fleet, nearly a million trained young fighters, with ten or twenty millions more if needed. Today's Russia is not the Russia of feeble czars, "mad Rasputins," gambling grand dukes. Today's Russia has power.

THIS NEW air war, that will see tens of thousands of planes in the air, enough to wipe out every city, town and village in Europe, will be a new war.

One nation, striking first and swiftly, through the air, destroying cities, poisoning whole populations, might frighten others into submission, as one hold-up man, with his pistol pointed, frightened a room full of men taken by surprise.

What will happen no one knows, especially to this country, if war should turn our way. A child in its crib is not more completely unprepared and undefended against kidnaping than in this country against war.

CONSIDER for a moment one of the great steel towers, seven hundred feet high, that will support steel cables, holding up the giant bridge soon to be thrown across the Golden Gate, the gate that leads from the great bay of San Francisco and Oakland, out into the Pacific Ocean.

Through that gate, the water, in a narrow passage six hundred feet deep, rushes with terrific speed and power.

TO ESTABLISH the wide footings for the bridge, repeated small charges of high explosive are used to make a small hole in the rock below the water, a hole, the engineer tells you, "about as big as a chair."

In that hole a "big 200-pound bomb" of TNT is exploded. That 200-pound bomb blows a hole in the solid rock about twenty feet wide and high and forty feet long.

GENTLE, unprotected fellow citizens, here is a "sum" for your boy, or your little Congressman:

If one 200-pound bomb can blow a hole twenty by forty feet in solid rock, what do you think a FIVE THOUSAND POUND TNT BOMB would do, dropped in the heart of San Francisco, or at the corner of Broad and Wall Streets in New York City, or close to the left ear of the bronze Indian that stands on the Capitol dome, overlooking Washington, D. C.?

WHAT WOULD 100 such bombs do, scattered over the crowded district of a city? They would crush and topple the tallest buildings, send crowds rushing into the streets, there to breathe in deadly poison gases that would follow the first bombardment.

Poison gas could easily kill one million human beings in New York within an hour. You would not like to be responsible for this country's unprepared condition, if that should happen.

Youth Quickly Starts His Term

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Mar. 20.—Today, Henry Winkler, 19, self-confessed assailant of 74-year-old Monroe Coulter, local farmer, was on his way to Huntingdon Reformatory to serve an indeterminate sentence. The youth slugged the farmer, for whom he formerly worked, early Saturday morning at the farm north of town because, as he confessed to officers, "he needed money for cigarettes."

It was one of the quickest cases of justice in county history. Young Winkler was arrested Sunday; plead guilty before Judge McLaughry Monday and was sentenced to the Reformatory. He told the judge he lay in Coulter's haymow from 3 a. m., Saturday until 6 a. m., when the aged farmer entered the barn to do his chores. Then he hit Coulter on the head with the handle of a hammer and, frightened ran away without robbing his victim. Mr. Coulter was not seriously hurt, despite his age.

GIRLS LEG CAUGHT IN WATER PIPE

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 20.—Two-year-old Esther Swerdlow and two Philadelphia fire companies know how far Esther's tiny legs will go into a water vent.

The girl was playing on the sidewalk and thrust her leg into the vent. It went in as far as her knee, but refused to come out.

Neighbors tugged vainly for half an hour and then summoned firemen. While the emergency crew sped to the scene, a passerby twisted the leg a little to the side, freeing Esther.

MURCIA, Spain—A tiny baby girl found abandoned in an ice box with fish has been given a warm welcome by foster parents. After the child had been taken to an institution, the news got about and a man and his wife offered to provide a home for the infant.

Three Hundred Police Officers Patrol Harlem

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 20.—More than 300 heavily armed policemen patrolled Harlem in pairs today as a precaution against a possible resumption of race riots which threw the fabled "black belt" into a turmoil last night and resulted in the probable fatal shooting of one man and injury to many others.

Lyman Quarterman, 34, a negro, was reported in a critical condition in Harlem hospital early today with a bullet wound in the abdomen, suffered while the rioting was at its height. It was reported over the police teletype system shortly after 1 a. m. that Quarterman had been killed, but this was subsequently found to be false. Meanwhile police were conducting an investigation to determine who shot the negro. Several other negroes were shot and slightly wounded at the same time.

UNHURT IN FALL

(International News Service)

NEW BEDFORD, Mass.— Her mother gasped as she watched the railing on the second floor porch collapse and saw 14 months old Aileen Senna fall into space. She rushed down the stairs and found the baby playing uninjured in the snowbank into which she had fallen.

The young flounder has eyes on opposite sides of his head, and swims vertically, but as he grows the eyes both arrive on the darker side, and he swims horizontally.

THEY'RE RIGHT ABOUT IT

THEY'RE all right about it. The Ford V-8 for 1935 is a car for men and women — for youth and age . . . it's the "Universal Car."

It's a man's car because of its power . . . because of its snappy get-away and stamina on long drives. And also because the man who has to foot the bills appreciates Ford economy of operation and freedom from repairs.

It's a woman's car because of its beauty . . . its trim contour . . . its luxurious upholstery . . . its modern appointments. Because of the ease with which it answers the lightest touch. Because brake and clutch pedals respond to little pressure.

It's a car for older folks because of Center-Poise — a feature that gives front-seat comfort to back-seat riders. Grandmother always gets the back seat. And from now on, she's going to love it!

It's a car for the children, too . . . because it's modern. And it is safe. They ride surrounded by all-steel body and Safety Glass . . . protected by bigger, stronger, faster stopping brakes . . . by a new ease of driving and alert power to meet any emergency.

The Ford V-8 for 1935 is a car for all the family — a balanced car for a balanced budget.

We are in A New Automobile Era!

Cars built since 1931 have twice the power and speed of ten years ago!

Continental offers you better lubrication for modern cars —an *Alloyed Oil with twice the film strength of other oils!

IT'S hard to realize how improved cars of the '30s are over those we drove ten years ago. We are in a new automobile era! Power and speed have almost doubled in a decade, with little increase in motor size.

Increased power has brought enormous increases in bearing pressures and crankcase temperatures. In making motor parts that will stand up under these severe conditions, car manufacturers have turned to new alloy metals of extra strength and durability. For the same reason, you must have oil with enough extra oiliness and film strength to protect your motor under extreme pressures!

Yet motor oils generally have no more oiliness and film strength now than they had ten years ago. New refining methods have recently come into use to make oils free from carbon and sludge. But these new refining processes have actually lowered instead of increased oiliness and film strength!

There is one exception—Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil. It, too, is free from carbon and sludge troubles, as its users know after millions of trouble-free miles of driving. But more important, Timken machine tests prove that the new Germ Process* puts into this oil 2 to 4 times the film strength of any straight mineral oil! That extra film strength protects your motor under the most extreme pressures and heat.

Germ Processing gives other valuable advantages. Because Germ Processed Oil penetrates and combines with metal surfaces, a "Hidden Quart" stays up in your motor and cuts down starting wear. Germ Processed Oil gives longer mileage with greater motor protection, as proved by the famous Indianapolis Destruction Test.

Plain mineral oils were all right ten years ago—today they are becoming obsolete. Say "O.K.—Drain"—fill with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil and drive with the comfortable assurance that your oil meets your motor's needs!

★ Alloyed by the Patented Germ Process

Just as the metallurgist adds small amounts of other metals to make special alloy steels, so we add small quantities of concentrated oily essence to highly-refined, paraffin-base motor oil. This Germ Processing, discovered and patented by Continental scientists, gives Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil lubricating qualities no other oil has.

CONTINENTAL OIL COMPANY • Est. 1875

Say "O.K.—Drain" —FILL WITH CONOCO GERM PROCESSED PARAFFIN BASE MOTOR OIL

From the diary of a couple who had a grand time—

"The Conoco Travel Bureau at Denver sent us a complete plan of our trip—everything we needed and all of it free."

"There were road maps of every state with road conditions and best routes marked, and booklets about scenic and historic points. Hotel and camp directories, too."

"Friendly Conoco service wherever we stopped made it a grand trip, too. You can apply at any Conoco station for this free Travel Bureau service."

Representatives Of Chain Stores Offer Testimony

Senate Finance Committee Hears Attacks On Proposed Store Tax

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—The senate finance committee of which Sen. John J. McClure, Delaware, is chairman, today reviewed testimony submitted by representatives of "chain stores" in opposition to the administration measures levying a graduated tax on such establishments.

Testimony given the senate committee at a lengthy hearing followed closely that submitted to the ways and means committee of the house which passed the $4,000,000 measure, part of Gov. George H. Earle's $203,000,000 program.

The proposed tax was attacked as "dictatory and arbitrary" by Charles H. VonTagen of the Pennsylvania Grocers' Association. He asserted the bill would give the commonwealth "absolute control" over retail stores.

Kern Dodge, former public safety director in Philadelphia, expressed opposition of the Philadelphia board of trade. Representatives of gasoline and oil companies requested that filling stations be exempt from the bill.

Joseph Gilfilan, Philadelphia, director of a grocery "chain", said his company would be forced to close 173 stores and Henry Weis, Sunbury, said his organization would be obliged to shut 35 stores if the bill passed.

FOUND GUILTY ON ASSAULT CHARGE

John Cwynar, Jr., was found not guilty on three charges Tuesday afternoon in court room No. 2, and guilty only on the charge of assault. He was tried on charges of attempted rape, assault and battery with intent to commit rape, assault and battery, and simple assault.

Clement Testifies On State Railroad Bills

Pennsy Vice President Scores Proposed Measures At Senate Hearing

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—Testifying for the Associated Railroads of Pennsylvania, in opposition to "Full Crew" Bill No. 304 and Train Limit Bill No. 311, before the judiciary special committee of the Senate of Pennsylvania in Harrisburg late Tuesday afternoon, Vice President M. W. Clement of the Pennsylvania railroad declared "that the effect of this traffic increase in costs, in wages and materials could only result in a very heavy increase in the cost of transportation."

"Now," Mr. Clement told the lawmakers, "what will be the result of such laws, as far as employment is concerned? What will be the result to these very men for whom you are asked to enact such laws?

"The very effect that these bills will have on employment and on the cost of transportation is being felt by these men right now. The great volume of merchandise freight that had been the back-log to the railroads in periods of industrial depression is now being trucked over the highways. The loss of that business is reducing employment by rail carriers, and employment of these men particularly, and to a far greater extent than could possibly be offset in the fulfillment of the hopes of these men through the enactment of this legislation."

The two bills are the so-called "full crew" and "train limit" bills.

Parent-Teacher Associations

AT ARTHUR McGILL SCHOOL

The March meeting of Arthur McGill P. T. A. will take place on Thursday evening, at 7:30 in the school auditorium. The meeting will be featured by an address on the World Court by Rev. Philip C. Pearson of Trinity Episcopal church. Students will present shadow pictures illustrating highlights of the Revolutionary war, and Jean Fox will give two appropriate readings. The usual business session will precede the program.

HEAR MRS. COSEL

"The Price of Peace" was the subject of an address by Mrs. W. L. Cosel, of New Castle, which proved of intense interest at a meeting of the Union Township P. T. A. Tuesday evening.

"Have we learned nothing from the last war? Are we again to permit an 'incident' to ignite the bombs we are preparing?" Mrs. Cosel asked. She pointed out that "in spite of the astonishing revelations of the senate committee investigating the munitions industry, showing the excessive profits made in preparations for war, we have swallowed the billion dollar Vinson bill."

The business meeting which preceded the address was in charge of Mrs. S. A. White. The association re-nominated the Boy Scout troop committee members as follows: Arnold Barnsley, chairman, Morris Cox, W. A. Keller, Archie Davies, Winifred Diamond and J. Harlen. The scoutmaster is J. Arthur Turek the first assistant, Zygmund Gierlach; and the second assistant, Teddy Colnot.

Prayer was offered by Mrs. Morris Cox. The song service was led by Mrs. Helen Bloomquist.

A committee was appointed to look after the improvement of the school grounds.

Clifford S. Heinz Dies In California

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 20.—Funeral arrangements were being completed here today for Clifford S. Heinz, director and a vice president of the H. J. Heinz Company, who died yesterday at Palm Springs, Cal., following an attack of pneumonia.

Heinz, who was 52, was a brother of Howard Heinz, president of the company and had held executive posts in the organization since 1917. He went to California for his health in December.

He was a co-donor of the Heinz Memorial Chapel, now being completed on the University of Pittsburgh campus, and a trustee of Lafayette College. His wife, brother, three children and one sister survive.

Two Automobile Reports Received

Ned C. Chapman, 218 Hillcrest avenue, reported to city police last night that a car driven by Frank Dute, 301 East street, had struck his car which was parked in Highland avenue.

According to Chapman, Dute did not stop immediately and Chapman followed him. After Dute stopped, his car again struck Chapman's auto when it was started. The accident occurred at 7:15 p. m.

L. C. Frey, 105 South Walnut street, parked his auto on Falls street near Beaver street and claimed in his report to police that a car driven by Joe Bartberger, North Locust street, ran into the side of his auto about 8:30 o'clock last night.

Landslide Occurs Along The Narrows

Street department employes were sent to The Narrows this morning to clear away debris which slid down the hillside some time last night.

A report received by the police department was relayed to the department of streets today.

According to attaches of the latter department some ties which supported part of a rear yard in Neshannock boulevard gave way.

The street department attaches reported that the landslide did not occur where RWD employes removed stone some months ago.

Boston Red Sox Have Confidence

Believe Manager Joe Cronin Can Make First Division Team Out Of Red Sox

Depends On Grove's Trusty Arm, Red Sox Are Hustling In Training Camp

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

BRADENTON, Fla., Mar. 20.—The outlay, roughly speaking, has been the sum of one (1) million dollars, although generally I manage to speak gently and with considerable refinement in the presence of anything over a dollar and a quarter. The intake, the inlay, the income or call it what you will has been represented so far by the biggest gates Fenway park has known since those roaring, roistering days when Mayor Curley wore a second-story hat and sang "Tessie" in tremulo with the band and championships were a commonplace.

Plenty Of Power

It also is represented by plenty of runs—on both sides; fourth place in the American league last year—and no ball club. At least, in my vague, non-essential reasoning, I would say that anybody who had one-quarter of a pitching staff, one half an infield and two-thirds of an outfield has almost no ball club.

That, in a few, ill-chosen words, is the Boston Red Sox who came in here today for a practice game with the Cardinals. These are all practice games down here; they don't count. The Red Sox, in other words, know what they're doing. They're just practicing.

Having made that crack, I suppose they'll go out and win the American league pennant, just to be unreasonable. As a matter of fact, almost anybody can.

"If Grove can come back . . ."

Depends On Grove

That's what they all say on this club, meaning that if this gentleman can have one of his 25 game years, he'll make up for all the other liabilities the Boston management has carefully purchased. But I notice that Grove had an 8-game year in 1934 and that he's 34. You don't come back at thirty-four. In fact, you generally stay away by request.

These are general observations, not especially directed at the spend-your-way-into-money policy of Tom Yawkey and Eddie Collins. As a matter of fact, their trouble is that they've not spent too much but not quite enough. After all, they started with nothing except the right idea and a second mortgage.

Cronin Manager

Mr. Joe Cronin is the new manager and thinks well of the club's chances. He probably thinks better of the club's shortstop who happens to be Mr. Joe Cronin. There is a distinct improvement here, owing to the fact that the Sox formerly had nothing at shortstop and are now playing one of the best in both leagues—at what seems to be a fabulous price.

The third baseman, Werber, is good, very good and a great base stealer. The best of the infield, meaning the right side, is something that ought to be kept under glass. Max Bishop will probably be the second baseman. He has been a probable second baseman for years. The first baseman is Ellsworth Dahlgren, from the San Francisco missions.

Needs Convincing

He has been doing well down here but hit only .301 in a hitters' league.

I don't want to condemn the young man in ten easy lessons but I'd like to see more of him, just as I would wish to be convinced about recruit pitchers like Roger Hanlon, a right hander from Reading; Bill Hickle, another from Joplin; John Merena, a left hander from Syracuse and Hiliary Zummer, a right hander from Joplin.

Hanlon won five and lost five for Reading; Hickle twelve and twelve for Joplin; Merena seven and ten for Syracuse and Zummer three and two for Joplin. The only exception is Byron Humphreys, right hander, who won 18 and lost 15 for Joplin.

Sportsmen Of County Organize

Various Sportsmen's Club Affiliate With State Wide Organization

Representatives of seven different sportsmen's organizations in Lawrence County met last evening in the Y. M. C. A., where a Council of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's clubs was formed. This is a unit in a statewide organization which takes in all sportsmen's clubs.

The officers elected were as follows: president, James Croft, of Ellwood City vice president, John Boyles, of New Castle; secretary, W. L. Anderson, of New Wilmington; treasurer, James Wiesen, of Bessemer. C. B. White, of New Wilmington, was named representative to the state body.

The organization has been formed for the purpose of fostering a wider interest in different branches of sport, and it is expected that they will have a greater influence in state-wide sportsmen's interests.

The clubs which compose the local council, are: Bessemer Rod and Gun Club, of Bessemer; Mahoning Valley Sportsmen's Association, of Hillsville; West Pittsburgh Sportsmen's Association, West Pittsburg; Shenango Valley Sportsmen's Association, Pulaski; Ellwood City Rod and Gun Club; Lawrence County Sportsmen's Association, of New Castle; and the Lawrence County Coon Hunters Association.

Slovak A. C. To Meet Tonight

Slovak A. C. baseball team will hold a meeting tonight at the Slovak hall at 7:30 o'clock, the meeting will be presided over by Steve Gonda. All of the 1934 Slovak players and any others who are interested in the 1935 team are asked to attend the meeting. Plans for the coming baseball season will be discussed.

Church Golfers Enthusiastic At Meeting Tuesday

Plans Being Made For Ten Teams In Church Golfing League This Season

New Castle church golfing league bids fair to being bigger and better this year as shown by the enthusiasm and interest taken in the meeting held at the Elliott-Waddington store last night by the managers and officials of the various teams.

That two more teams will be in the league this year, making it ten churches, is almost a foregone conclusion, with the three Mahoningtown churches planning a combined team. Plans are also under way to have the east side churches combine a team, the churches being Epworth M. E., Second U. P. and Third U. P.

President J. B. "Jack" Waddington had charge of the meeting last night and called upon Charles "Bugs" Walther, general chairman of the league banquet committee, for a report, and after a few remarks Sam Lewis, chairman of the program committee, gave a short tentative description of the entertainment plans. Russell Magill, chairman of the menu and ticket committee, reported, and passed out tickets to each of the managers for distribution.

The banquet will be held at the First Presbyterian church on the night of Thursday, April 4. Plans are being made to take care of 100 church league golfers.

Following the business meeting the managers and officials of the league enjoyed a putting and driving contest with Ralph Davis being the winner of the driving contest, and Dr. R. C. Gilmore proved to be the best putter. The following attended the meeting last night: President Waddington, Vice President Ralph Davis, Secretary-Treas. Dr. R. C. Gilmore, Sam Lewis, W. J. Offutt, John Clark, Paul Bush, Mont Magill, Rus Magill, Dr. Heess, Dick Hitchcock, Fulton Magill, Jack Hope, C. H. Clark and C. P. Walther.

South Side Soft Ball Managers To Attend Meeting

South Side softball league managers and officials will gather tonight at the Humbert hall for an organization meeting, it was announced by Fred Marcella today. Frankie Ross, president, will have charge of the meeting.

It is planned to open the league on April 30. There will be four teams, composed entirely of the Italian element. President Ross is trying to find sponsors for the teams this week. The games will all be played at the B. & O. field. There will be two games played each league night, of seven innings each.

The following should attend the meeting tonight: Fred Marcella, Frankie Ross, Charles Landolph, Pete Capitola, Fred Fabian, Buddy Marino, Joseph "Flash" Petrucci, Al Scarazzo, D. Ross, Tip Richards, Tex Richards and Bill Ross.

Pulaskis Will Play Lakewood

K. Pulaskis will play the strong Lakewood Titans at the Pulaski floor Thursday night, it was announced today. The Reserves of both teams will play the preliminary game, which starts at 7:30 o'clock. The Pulaskis hope to upset the Lakewoodians, as they hold a victory over the First Baptists.

Coach Walter Sniezek will send his strongest lineup against the "Lakers" tomorrow night.

St. Michaels At Ohio Tonight In Battle For Title

St. Michaels Can Win Penn-Ohio League Championship By Topping Lansingville

St. Michaels church basketball team will go to Youngstown, Ohio tonight to battle the Lansingville, Ohio, church team for the Penn-Ohio league championship. The two teams are tied for first place, and the winner will take the toga.

Coach Michael "Jake" Babosky and Charles Dluganski will start the strongest possible lineup in an effort to ascend to the throne of champions. "Shimmy" Balla has shaken his "jinx" and will be out to top the scorers tonight, with Walter Chernyasky and Andy Motsko counted upon to play their customary great games. The Slosernick brothers Johnny and Mike will take care of the guard posts, along with Hnat and Mackiewicz a couple of clever performers. St. Michaels hopes to hit the stride tonight that carried them to the pinnacle in the early part of the season, when they were unbeatable.

Three Games In City League

Three games will be played in the City basketball league at the Humbert hall tonight. The first game will start at 7:30 o'clock and will have the Gersons and Kirppus tangling. The second game will find the Boyds pitted against the National Pants quintet. The third game will have the Perelmans and Johnson Bronze teams hooking up.

Polish Falcons Defeat Gersons

Take First Leg Of County Championship Series By Score Of 45 To 12

KAWA AND REIBER STARS

Polish Falcons playing the best brand of basketball they have shown this year took the first leg of the Lawrence County Independent championship series from the strong Gersons last night at the Humbert floor 45 to 12. The Polish boys were rated the underdogs in the battle with the City League champions. Russ Kawa was high scorer in the tussle with 14 of the Falcons points.

The Falcons assumed the lead in the very first minute of play when Budai tipped one into the hoops and at the end of the first period were leading 5 to 2. The end of the first half found the Ostroskymen ahead 20 to 8, with Kawa and Budai doing most of the scoring for the Miller avenue boys in the first half. The Gersons did not register a field goal the entire first half, and only made one the entire game, with Huff flipping one through the hoops. Lester "Bus" Reiber was held to five fouls. He could not score against the Falcons.

Falcons Increase Lead

The Falcons continued their fast attack in the third period and led 35 to 12 after holding the Gersons to four fouls. The Falcons scored 10 more points the last period, with the Gersons being held scoreless. The defensive game put up by the Falcons was commendable. The offensive attack in the hands of Russ Kawa, Budai and Augustyn was very fine. "Ratsy" Kendra kicked in with five points when used as a sub late in the game.

The Polish Falcon victory was one of the biggest upsets that has occurred this year in New Castle. The highly touted Gersons simply could not click against the fast cutting Falcons. The Gersons played without either of their regular centers Hutchison or Vondereau but do not use this as an alibi.

Meet Again Sunday

The two teams will meet at the Falcon hall on Miller avenue on Sunday March 24 at 1:30 o'clock. This will be the second game of the series. The Falcons hope to make it two straight over the Gersons. Kolodjeski, Sniezek and Brownie Ostrosky get a lion's share of the credit for the Falcon victory, as it was the guarding of this trio that held the Gersons in check.

The biggest crowd of the year jammed into the Humbert floor for the game, it was estimated at about 700 fans.

Radiators Will Meet On Friday

National Radiator softball players and officials will have a meeting Friday night at 7:30 o'clock at the office of McCormick & Christofer on South Beaver street. Plans for the coming softball league season will be taken up for discussion. All of the Radiator players of last year and any others interested are asked to attend the meeting. The Rads won the championship two years straight and hope to win it the third time and keep the Wignall trophy cup in their possession. Ralph Bolsinger will preside over the meeting on Friday night.

Glassport High Will Play Here

SPORTS FESTIVAL BEING OUTLINED

Ralph H. Gardner, faculty manager of Senior High announced today that Glassport High School football team champions of Class B, W. P. I. A. L. in 1934 will play the New Castle High School "Red Hurricane" football team at Taggart Field this city, in a spring night game Friday, May 3.

The scheduling of the stro Glassport High team will complete a round-robin of the champions of three divisions of the W. P. I. A. L. last year. New Castle already has contracted Scott High Class A champions for a night spring game here Friday, May 10. New Castle won the Class AA championship.

Sports Festival

The announcement that Scott and Glassport will play here has met with instant approval of the fans.

In conjunction with the football game on Friday night, May 3, a huge Sports Festival, similiar to last year is being mapped out by Ralph H. Gardner, of Senior High, Miss Sara McGown of Senior High, Dan Carroll of Washington Junior, and Emmett Gillaspie of Franklin Junior High. It is likely that all manner of athletic maneuvers will be undertaken. The famous Ben Franklin tumbling team will perform again.

It is probable that the New Castle High School football team will start spring practice in a week or two, as soon as the ground dries up.

City Soft Ball Meeting Thursday

There will be an important meeting of the City Soft Ball league at the "Y" Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, with President Walther in charge of the meeting. Plans for the coming season will be discussed. All teams desiring franchises this year, are asked to have representatives at the meeting.

The Ellwood City Millers are invited to attend and also to join the league again this year. The Tolans have joined the league, making it a faster league. The West Side Merchants have signified their desire of joining the league.

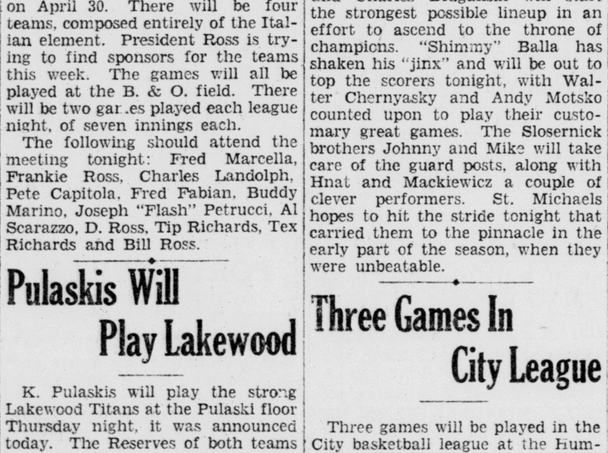
TEACHER BIG LEAGUE PREXY NOW



Twenty years ago Ford C. Frick was teaching in a small school in Walsenburg, Colo. Now he is president of the National league. The other day he went back to Walsenburg where he is shown handing an autographed baseball to a pupil, and sitting at the same desk he occupied in 1915. Frick first won notice by remarkable coverage of the 1921 Pueblo flood from a tramp airplane. Frick took pictures from the rickety plane, and wrote colorful dispatches. Soon after he was called to a bigger newspaper job in New York, from which he was graduated to the top baseball job.

Rankin Tops Fifth Avenue

Conquerers Of Beaver Falls For W. P. I. A. L. Crown, Advance To State Finals

(International News Service)

Allentown and Rankin today were pitted against each other for the state scholastic basketball title to be determined Saturday night in the University of Pennsylvania palestra in Philadelphia.

The two teams shot into the finals last night by crushing their respective opponents in the final regional play. Allentown's Canaries downed Berwick in the last three minutes of play at Pottsville 30 to 28, and Rankin squelched a last minute rally by Fifth Avenue of Pittsburgh, to win, 37 to 27, at Pittsburgh.

Rankin Wins 37-27

Rallying in the third period, the Bulldogs erased a 21 to 14 advantage held by Allentown at the half and evened the score at 23-all as the period closed. With Smith, the Berwick mainstay, taken out on personal fouls, the Canaries rallied and clinched the game in the final minutes.

Rankin led 23 to 13 at the half and practically put the game on ice in the third period when they ran the score up 34 to 16. Fifth Avenue piled up 11 points in the last stanza but the effort came too late.

Carbon Loses To De La Salle Club

Five Game Series To Be Decided Next Week

De La Salle club beat the Carbon Limestones in a basketball game played at Hillsville Monday night and the series now are deadlocked two-all. Gorenz socred 12 points for the winners and L. Coppola caged 13 for the Carbon team.

Carbon took the first two games 40-38 and 24-20 and De La Salle club captured the second two games, 61-53 and 55-44.

The De La Salles' passing featured with Plevnic, Vlah and Gorenz leading the attack. Coppola and Flora played a good game for the losers.

The fifth and deciding game will be played next week.

Captain-Elect Of Notre Dame Team Is Dead

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 20—Death early today claimed Joseph Sullivan, captain-elect of the 1935 Notre Dame university football team.

The gridiron star died in New York hospital to which he was rushed from South Bend, Ind., a week ago last Friday to undergo two operations for mastoiditis and an abscessed condition of the brain.

Numerous blood transfusions failed to save him.

Sullivan, 22, was the son of Police Lieut. Timothy Sullivan of Queens.

He played tackle on the Notre Dame eleven for two years and was a great favorite on the South Bend campus.

Keystone A. C. Meets Tonight

Keystone A. C. will hold a special soft ball meeting tonight at the club rooms on South Jefferson street. The following are members of the sports committee: Rocco P. Viggiano, James Bartlett, Tom Maielle, Stan Coprowski, and Vincent Gallagher.

All soft ball players are asked to be present at the meeting. Plans will be made for a Keystone A. C. soft ball league. The teams will be known as the Reds, Blues, Whites and Greens. Managers and captains will be elected tonight. The Keystones will also sponsor a fast team in the City Soft Ball league.

Sandlot Notes

RANGERS TO MEET

The West Side Rangers will have a baseball meeting Sunday afternoon at the home of Bob Hill at 2 o'clock. All of the 1934 players are asked to attend the meeting. Plans for the coming baseball season will be discussed.

MERCHANTS TO MEET

West Side Merchants will hold an important practice session Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock, it was announced by Charles J. Kelly today. All of last year's team and any others interested are asked to attend the meeting.

The first outbreak of smallpox in the Western hemisphere was in 1507 in the West Indies.

THE SPORT PATROL

By JOHN J. MAHER, JR.

THE CHICAGO WHITESOX

The optimists among the baseball followers are selecting seventh place as the final resting spot for the 1935 edition of the Chicago Whitesox. The majority, however, can see nothing but another season as the occupants of the basement of the American League.

Wherever the Sox finish, it shall be a different roster from that of last season which will do the ball playing in Comiskey park. Only the infield is a close resemblance to the 1934 outfit.

Zeke Bonura, Winter Hayes, Luke Appling and Jimmy Dykes will again be stationed in the inner garden. Bonura should be an improved player after a season of major league experience. Hayes is good when his physical condition is satisfactory, but the frail second sacker has always left doubt as to his ability to go through the 154 game grind.

They say Luke Appling is the most improved player in camp and he has been good enough the past two years to hold his job unmolested. Manager Dykes is 37 years old but he'll continue to play third until someone better shows up.

Marty Hopkins, obtained from St. Paul about the middle of last season, will be utility man on the left side of the infield. Glenn Wright, the same man who formerly starred in the National league with Pittsburgh, can fill in satisfactorily at first, second and short. Marshall Mauldin, a southern Irishman who played last year in the Evangeline League, will be farmed out, probably to Dallas of the Texas league.

Luke Sewell will do the bulk of the receiving with Bob Fenner, a newcomer from St. Paul, acting as his understudy. Muddy Ruel is listed as the third string receiver but his duties will be chiefly as a tutor for the yearling pitchers.

Fans will again recognize Al Simmons in the outfield but they'll have to look in center instead of left field. On each side of Al will be an American Association rookie, Vernon Washington of Indianapolis in left and Ray Radcliff from Louisville in right.

Washington batted .367 in the Association last season and on his spring work is now being likened to the great Shoeless Joe Jackson. If he's half that good, Windy City fans will make no complaints and they really shouldn't. Even his most enthusiastic backers realize he is none too flashy afield, but they hasten to add that while he runs from the knees down, he gets around speedily in his own peculiar way. Georgie may make good, but if he does it will be on his hitting ability, and due in no way to fleetness or fielding skill.

Radcliff has been up twice before first with the Whitesox and later with the Athletics. Ray has always been known as a dangerous slugger though he has had difficulty getting established at any one position.

On his first trip to the majors he was hailed as a cinch to become the first baseman for the Sox. He upset the dopesters completely by not only drifting back to the minors but by playing in the outfield. Connie Mack gave him a trial last spring as an outfielder but he was sent to Louisville before the season started and Ray again became a first baseman. Now Radcliff gets a trial as an outfielder on his ability as a minor league first sacker.

Mule Haas will be the fourth gardener, while Dan Hafey, a nephew of the famous Chick, will fight it out with the veteran John Conlon for the other berth. Beauford Rhea and Paul Donovan will be let out before the team reaches home.

The pitching staff is a mixture of vets and youngsters and just how many of the old boys do steady work depends upon the ability of the rookies. Ted Lyons, Sam Jones, and George Earnshaw are the grandpas of the staff and they're pretty good ones too.

Les Tietje's 1934 record wasn't impressive but he is being hailed as a future star. Vernon Kennedy, Lee Stine, Joe Vance, John Whitehead and Johnny Michaels have been showing up well this spring. Ray Phelps, a veteran who formerly pitched for Brooklyn but toiled last season at St. Paul, is up for another chance.

Whitlow Wyatt has been in the majors for some time but his position now is very tottery. Ed Durham on the voluntary retired list in 1934, is an uncertainty. Dungan Rigney, Dick Bock and Monty Stratton will be farmed hither and yon to reap experience.

Wants Rules To Protect Referee

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Mar. 20.—There are rules and again there are rules in the world of sports, rules aimed to protect the boxer or the wrestler. Now comes one, Edward McCloskey, chairman of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission, with some laws to protect the lowly referee.

"I am empowering referees to fine and administer suspensions to any wrestlers who try to show how powerful they are by hurling the referee from the ring or who strikes him. The same goes for boxing bouts, too. The world must be made safe for referees," said the athletic sage.

Development Of Local Hospital Told Kiwanians

Dr. C. Z. Bell Is Principal Speaker At Weekly Meeting Tuesday

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 20.—Members of the local Kiwanis club heard an interesting account of the development of the Ellwood City hospital at their weekly meeting in the Trinity Lutheran church last evening.

The prnicipal speaker on the occasion was Dr. C. Z. Bell, prominent district welfare worker. He told of the development of the local hospital from a private institution operated by Dr. Drake on Seventh street and Crescent avenue in 1913. The first unit of the hospital on Border avenue was dedicated in 1918 and had 25 beds. In 1928 the second unit was dedicated and making it a total of 63 beds.

The valuation of this entire property is $168,000. There are 21 employes in the institution, who draw a monthly salary of $3,000. Dr. Bell stated that the hospital has a very good surgical staff who work in two operating rooms. There is a splendid laboratory and modern X-ray equipment. Ninety per cent of the ills of the community can be cared for here. Visiting experts have said that the local hospital is one of the best equipped small hospitals in the state. It had 920 patients last year and 108 babies were born here.

Next week the club will witness a demonstration of short wave radio by William Charles of this city. On Friday of this week the club is sponsoring a motion picture show in the Lincoln auditorium for the Junior Stamp club.

Brotherhood Has Meeting Tuesday

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 20.—President A. J. Dambach presided at the regular meeting of the Brotherhood of the Trinity Lutheran church Tuesday evening in the church basement.

Plans for a dinner for the next meeting were formulated at this time. This will include all members of the organization and their wives. A special speaker will be secured for the occasion.

The program for the meeting last night was in the form of a question box. An interesting two hours discussion was held. Fred Gregor was in charge of the devotions on this occasion. The Brotherhood will meet again on the fourth Wednesday of April.

Mrs. Jay Buquo Is Club Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 20.—Mrs. Jay Buquo was a pleasing hostess to the members of the Tuesday afternoon club at her home on the Country Club road. Mrs. B. M. Lawther and Mrs. Owen Treharne were special guests.

Bridge was the chief diversion of the evening with three tables in play. Mrs. Ray Aylesworth and Mrs. Ralph Evans were found to be the winners of the high score awards at the conclusion of the games.

A dainty luncheon was served at a later hour by the hostess. Mrs. Aylesworth will be hostess to the club in two weeks at her home on Beachwood boulevard.

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 20.—Funeral services for Mrs. William Fleecon, whose death occurred at the home of her son, William Fleecon, of the New Brighton road, early Tuesday morning following a brief illness, will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home.

The services will be in charge of Rev. J. R. Routledge, of the Providence Baptist church of North Sewickley, assisted by Rev. Harold Woods of the New Brighton Church of God. Interment will be made in the Beaver Falls cemetery.

ISABELLE THOBURN CLASS HAS TEA

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 20.—A delightful St. Patrick's Tea was held at the home of Mrs. G. Y. Fike on Spring avenue last evening by the Isabelle Thoburn class. An informal social time with games, contests and chat was enjoyed during the occasion. The class will hold its regular meeting next week.

Indians Defeat New Orleans 6-4

(International News Service)

NEW ORLEANS, Mar. 20.—The Cleveland Indians held a 6 to 4 win over the New Orleans Pelicans today after the Tribe found its batting eyes in the third inning of the game yesterday and pounded in five runs. Manager Walter Johnson was using Roy Hughes at the shortstop post as Bill Knickerbocker, the regular shortfielder, was in a New Orleans hospital recovering from an appendicitis operation.

SOUTH SEAS INFLUENCE FASHIONS

Why not "go native" in your bathing apparel? It not only is comfortable but smart. Who wouldn't enjoy swimming in the colorful suit worn by Iris Adrian, right? It was inspired by the attire of a Tahitian maiden and has a pareo type skirt which goes around the trunks, and a bandeau. It is blue and white in this interpretation. Left is a gay sports outfit consisting of a skirt of soft yellow wool, with a jumper of a rough knitted fabric striped in yellow and rose. There's also a cape which accompanies the outfit.

Legion Post Has Dad's Night Here

Post Members Entertain Fathers And Guests At Meeting Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 20—Dad's Night was observed by the J. Wilbur Randolph Post of the American Legion, Ellwood City, when it held its regular meeting on Monday night, in its rooms on Sixth street. There was a splendid turnout for the occasion.

M. J. Kane, of Aliquippa, chairman of the constitutional defense committee and Attorney McCreary, of Monaca, were present on the occasion. They responded with a short talk after being called upon.

At the business meeting the chairman of the bowling league committee annouced that the Ellwood Post had won the match with Koppel. The team will bowl against New Brighton in the near future. The post accepted an invitation from the ladies' auxiliary to be present at their April 9th meeting.

Short talks were given by a number of fathers present. The evening was enjoyed in a general social manner. At a late hour luncheon was served by Mess Sergeant Ralston Zeigler and Lawrence French. The post will meet again on April 1.

Dinner-Bridge Club Assembles

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 20.—Mrs. W. R. Johnston delightfully entertained the members of the Dinner-Bridge club Tuesday afternoon at her home on Fountain avenue.

Bridge at two tables occupied the attention of those present for the greater part of the afternoon. Mrs. C. C. Davidson was presented with the high score award at the close. Sr. will be hostess to the club.

In two weeks Mrs. J. Jay Dunn,

Hazel Dell Union Meets On Tuesday

Mrs. James Marshall Is Hostess To W. C. T. U. Here Yesterday

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 20.—Hazel Dell W. C. T. U., met yesterday with Mrs. James Marshall in the fourth ward, with a fine turnout present.

A tureen dinner was served at noon at a table prettily decorated in green and yellow. Mrs. Elizabeth Marshall, Mrs. Vera Cooke, and Mrs. Sadie Kirkwood assisted in serving. After this a devotional and business meeting was conducted.

Mrs. Boggs, Mrs. McQuiston, and Mrs. Potter, were appointed as a program committee, cooperating with the local union in the joint institute to be held here on April 26. It was decided to hold a mothers and daughters banquet on the last of May, and a fathers and sons banquet later on.

Plans were also made for a membership campaign. Mrs. Ramsey, Mrs. Potter, and Mrs. Miller were chosen as captains for three groups of ten each. At the end the losing team will tender a banquet to the winners.

Reports from Mrs. Miller on the newly Y. B. B. S. and from Mrs. McQuiston on the L. T. L. S. were very encouraging.

Modern Bridge Members Gather

Mrs. Tom Graham Is Victim Of Surprise At Her Home Last Evening

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 20.—An enjoyable meeting was held by the members of the Modern Bridge club when they assembled at the home of Mrs. Tom Graham on Park avenue Tuesday evening for their regular meeting. Mrs. John Wargo of this city, Mrs. Charlotte Dake and Mrs. Joe Graham of Pittsburgh were special guests.

After a delicious dinner was served by the hostess, three tables of bridge were in play. Mrs. Boyd Zeigler and Miss Edrye Moyer were presented with the high score awards at the conclusion of the games. Mrs. Graham won the guest favor. Spring flowers adorned the center of each table.

At this time the hostess, who is a bride of recent date, was surprised by the members of the club when they presented her with a beautiful wedding gift.

Mrs. Don Northrop will entertain the club next Tuesday at her home on Wayne avenue.

Mrs. Ter Linden Hostess To Club

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 20.—Mrs. T. H. Ter Linden, Jr., proved to be a pleasing hostess last evening when she opened her home at Knox to members of the Knox 500 club who gathered for their regular semi-monthly meeting.

Two tables of cards were in play during the evening and at the conclusion of the games score award went to Mrs. Daniel Stamm. The hostess served a tempting luncheon featuring St. Patrick appointments.

The group will be entertained again on Tuesday evening, April 2, at the home of Mrs. Paul Thornhill of Frisco.

GRADALE SORORITY

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 20—Nineteen members of the Gradale sorority of this city assembled at the home of Miss DeLight Gordon on College street, where they enjoyed a delicious tureen dinner. A short business meeting was then held, followed by a social hour. The organization will meet again next Tuesday.

Stories Conflict At Hudson Trial

John Hudson Flatly Contradicts Evidence Given By Mrs. Elizabeth Kuhl

Conflicting stories were told by Mrs. Elizabeth Kuhl and John Hudson, both of Ellwood City, before Judge James A. Chambers at Lawrence county court this morning in a case in which Mrs. Kuhl is charging Hudson with adultery. Mrs. Kuhl claimed that she had been employed in the Hudson home on two separate occasions, one of them about eight years ago. The more recent employment extended from May, 1934, to December 8 of the same year.

On December 8, Mrs. Kuhl claimed that Mrs. May Hudson, wife of the defendant, and her three sons had gone out of the Hudson home and that she was alone arranging a bedroom, when Hudson came to it about 11:15 a. m. and committed the offense alleged. She admitted that during all the time she had worked at the Hudson home, on both occasions, Mr. Hudson had always acted the gentleman toward her. She denied that she had offered to settle at the alderman's office. There were no other witnesses for the commonwealth.

Mr. Hudson took the witness stand in his own defense. He not only denied the charge brought by Mrs. Kuhl, but also her story that she was alone in the house with him on December 8. He said that his wife and sons were in the house at the time alleged by Mrs. Kuhl. He told of a man named Shipley of Beaver Falls, who had come to him some weeks before December 8 and threatened what he would do if Hudson did not stop taking Mrs. Kuhl across a bridge to her home. Hudson said that Mrs. Kuhl was slightly lame and that at the suggestion of his wife, he had taken her home on several occasions in his car. He also claimed that Shipley had told him that he loved Mrs. Kuhl and expected to marry her. After Shipley had registered his objections, Hudson said that he never took Mrs. Kuhl home again.

December 8 was Saturday. One week from the following Sunday Hudson said that Shipley and Mrs. Kuhl had called at his home in a car, and Shipley had called him out, saying he wanted to talk to him. Hudson got into the rear seat of the car. Shipley, he said, informed him of Mrs. Kuhl's story and threatened that if he did not pay he would tell his wife. Hudson jumped out of the car, and Shipley, shedding his overcoat, made a pass to strike him, but Hudson ran to the house and escaped. Mrs. Kuhl on the following day made an information before Alderman Mantz against Hudson. Hudson also claimed that at the hearing, Shipley made an argument to the alderman to hold him for court.

In corroboration of Hudson's testimony, his wife and sons testified that they had been at home on the Saturday at the time that Mrs. Kuhl had testified that they were absent. Sons of Hudson gave similar testimony. An array of character witnesses were called to show that Hudson has always borne a good reputation in the community. The case is still on trial.

KOPPEL

MRS. PRONESTI ENTERTAINS

Mrs. Jerome Pronesti of Third avenue was a pleasing hostess to members of the Merry Makers Card club at their regular meeting on Thursday evening.

Three tables of 500 were the diversions of the evening and at the close, Mrs. Raymond Labate, Mrs. Anna Colaizzi and Mrs. William Petti were awarded the high score favors.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, with a green and white color motif, appropriate to St. Patrick's Day, being carried out in the appointments. The club's final meeting before disbanding for the summer months will be held at the home of Mrs. Anna Colaizzi, Fourth avenue, in two weeks.

Stock Market Firm But Dull

Utility Shares In Fair Demand, Power And Light Favorites Gain

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 20.—The stock market was firm but dull today although utility shares were in fair demand with North American, Public Service of N. J. American Water Works and other power and light favorites scoring fractional gains.

Rails were moderately firm and Atchison, New York Central, Pennsylvania, and Lackawanna advanced slightly.

Steel stocks held generally steady as did the motors. General Motors and Chrysler were around their previous closing levels.

Tobacco shares were heavy with American Tobacco down a point. Liquor shares were irregular, while mail order and farm implements were quiet and firm.

Oils, aviations, specialties and food shares marked time in dull trading.

Louis Howe Is Growing Weaker

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—The condition of Louis McHenry Howe, the president's secretary, who is ill at the White House, was described as "extremely critical" in a physicians' bulletin issued today.

"His strength is gradually failing," the bulletin added.

Gasoline Tax Being Checked

Many In State Are Found To Be Violating Gasoline Tax

MANY ARRESTS ARE BEING MADE

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—Working in plainclothes, state highway patrolmen are engaged in an extensive state-wide campaign to tighten up collections of the state's gasoline tax which nets $3,000,000 a month, it was learned today.

Evasions are being ferreted out and action, both civil and criminal, is being taken. Auditors are working along with the patrolmen to speed the drive, according to Deputy Secretary of Revenue, Clyde Sheaffer.

Many Are Jailed

Results already have been reported from the drive. In Warren county, two distributors were sentenced to four months in jail and fined $2,000 each on their guilty pleas to operating as liquid fuels distributors without a permit. A refining company, Sheaffer said he was informed, was fined $25 for attempting to transfer its license to the two men. Civil actions are to follow, he added.

Another allegedly unlicensed dealer was to be given a hearing in Bristol today. Sheaffer would not reveal the man's name pending outcome of the case.

Slayer Of Woman Guilty Of Murder

(International News Service)

MEDIA, Pa., Mar. 20.—The law today had won its fight to doom Clarence Thompson, 38, whose life medical science saved.

Thompson was found guilty of the murder of Mrs. Vivian Hoopes, 26, of Linwood, by a jury. The verdict carried a sentence of death.

Mrs. Hoopes was shot to death when she discovered Thompson burglarizing her home early this year. Thompson was seriously wounded in an exchange of shots with Thomas Truitt, a neighbor of Mrs. Hoopes.

Mount Cotopaxi, most resplendent of the Andes volcanoes, has not erupted in more than a hundred years, but during the Seventeenth Century it exploded many times and with great fury.

WOMEN LAWYERS DEFEND ACTIONS

These two women lawyers, Dr. Anna Hochfelder and Frieda Hennock, New York, uphold breach of promise and alienation court actions against the demand of the bar association that such suits be hurled into the ash can as archaic rackets. Says Dr. Hochfelder, "People who have suffered should have remedies in a court of law." "Not less but more damages," declares Miss Hennock. "Women who have been shabbily treated should have the right to sue."

Greenville Dentist Tells Of Labrador

A vivid half-hour tale of life in barren Labrador, a strip of land described as twice the size of Pennsylvania, was brought to the Lions Club's weekly luncheon on Tuesday by Dr. Ralph Sheldone, Greenville dentist, who returned last year after spending six years in the frozen north with the famed Sir Wilfred Grenfell party.

Dr. Sheldone was introduced by Lion William H. Fenton, Jr., a lifelong friend.

The country, the Greenville man told the club, is inhabited today by about 700 Eskimos in the north and by 700 Indians in the south. Their rugged life was pictured most interestingly.

The exactions of the tax collectors in the Near East are notorious but the Egyptian of last century really made a record hard to beat. In one year he squeezed $75,000,000 out of the Egyptian taxpayer while the whole officially recorded revenue only amounted to $50,000,000.

Wolves Hear Chief Haven

Chief Of Police Tells Of Safety And Local Radio System

At the regular dinner meeting of the Wolves club Tuesday evening in the Elks club, Chief of Police John F. Haven of the New Castle police department gave a most interesting address on "Safety and New Castle's Police Radio System".

After a luscious fish dinner, President Angelo Casacchia turned over the meeting to Carm Sacco, who introduced the dinner speaker. Chief Haven stressed slow driving in the city as a means to protect youngsters. "Thirty miles an hour is fast enough for any motorist to drive in the city. Last year 33,000 persons were killed in automobile accidents in cities in the United States. Think how this number could have been reduced if motorists would have been more careful," Chief Haven stated.

Although the state law states that an autoist must not exceed the 20-mile speed limit in cities, Chief Haven said that autoists will not be molested if they drive about 25 to 30 miles an hour here. "Many citizens protest about our campaign against speeding. These drives cut down the amount of accidents considerably," the speaker cited.

With the aid of RWD employed men, the cost of the police radio system here cost the city of New Castle only $750, Chief Haven said. He also told how the city and county are covered by means of the radio system. "If New Castle had the present system when the Schroeder-Dague crime took place, the two criminals would have never gotten out of the city," Haven stated. In closing, Chief Haven brought out the fact that through their finger print department, all undesirables are kept out of the city. The Wolves club was pleased with the able address.

President Angelo Casacchia and Frank Summers complimented the New Castle police department for its efficiency.

Those present at the meeting: Frank Summers, Peter P. Capitola, Dr. John Prioletti, Carm Sacco, Angelo Casacchia, Dominick Guido, Sam Ross, David Valiensi, E. H. Scarazzo, James Colucci, Anthony Marino, Charles DeCarbo, Tony Sacco, Chief of Police John F. Haven and Charles Landolf.

The next regular meeting will be held on Tuesday evening, April 2.

HERE'S WHY GIRLS GO WITHOUT BREAKFAST

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—Not because they want to reduce but because they sleep too late in the morning, that's the reason Harrisburg high school girls go without breakfast.

Horace G. Geisel, supervisor of physical education, who made a study of girl students in Harrisburg high schools to find out why they went without breakfast, reached this finding. He said he found only one girl who went without breakfast because she thought she was overweight.

About 14 per cent of all high school girls were found to be missing breakfast rather regularly.

Why You Should Never Cut a Corn

If you are troubled with corns or callouses, do not run the risk of blood poison by paring them. Statistics show that many infections have occurred from this seemingly innocent practice of paring corns.

Simply go to your druggist and get a few cents worth of Ice-Mint, rub a little on any painful corn or callous. Immediately the pain will disappear and in a short time the corn or callous will loosen and lift off easily with the fingers—root and all—leaving the surrounding skin in a healthy normal condition.

This, together with the fact that Ice-Mint overcomes such affections as sore, tired, aching, puffed or burning feet and makes them cool, easy and comfortable, is probably responsible for the hearty endorsement given it by druggists.

To rid one's feet of every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes or painful callouses in such a pleasant and safe way, makes it seem the height of folly for anyone to pare a corn and people are warned to stop it.

Senate Faces Finance Issue On Work-Relief

Several Proposals Are Presented As President Wins On Bill

Opponents Fail In Effort To Reduce $4,800,000,000 Work-Relief Sum

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 20.—After voting President Roosevelt two smashing victories against efforts of the conservatives to slash his $4,800,000,000 Work Relief bill, the senate today faced the question of providing for payment of the huge appropriation.

The question was raised by Senator Thomas (D) of Oklahoma, in an amendment, calling for mandatory inflation of the currency through silver. Thomas said it would not raise revenue directly to finance the huge relief program but it would so expand the currency as to make it easier for taxpayers "to secure funds for payment of the taxes necessary to meet this staggering debt burden."

Proposals Suggested

Two other proposals to pay the cost directly were waiting consideration. One plan, by Senator Wheeler (D) of Montana, would finance the bill by issuing U. S. treasury notes to be retired over a long period of years. This inflationary plan would switch the financing of the government's shifting debt burden from short-time interest-bearing notes to non-interest bearing paper money. Wheeler said the paper money would have the same financial stability as the short term notes, since both were supported only by the faith and credit of the government.

The other proposal, introduced by Senator Townsend (R) of Delaware, would force the administration to start balancing the budget. It would prevent expenditure of any part of the $4,000,000,000 Work Relief fund until the government issued long term bonds, similar to Liberty bonds, and financed their amortization through imposition of new taxes. It would not affect the $880,000,000 set aside for direct relief.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

A new high mark for the winter was set at the Jameson Memorial hospital today, when the census showed 102 patients undergoing treatment in the institution.

Pa Newc is still of the opinion that some study should be given the traffic situation at the Public Square, since the new Federal building is in use. Pedestrians are at a big disadvantage most of the time in crossing the streets, because of the traffic going so many different ways. Some safety stations in the square would probably help some.

Wouldn't it be fine if a revival of painting up buildings around the city could be started this spring. It would help the appearance of the city a lot.

With the coming of spring the dog nuisance is becoming more than ever noticeable in some parts of the city. Owners of dogs are required to keep them on their own premises, but there are many who allow them to roam all over the neighborhood.

Mystery Woman Has $173,000 In Possession

(International News Service)

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Mar. 20.—Battle Creek police today were endeavoring to solve the mystery of a woman amnesia victim who was taken off a train here, with cash and securities on her person totaling $173 000.

The woman sullenly refused to answer most questions. She identified herself first as Mrs. Isabelle May Mchie of Elgin, Ill. Then she said her name was Mrs. Isabelle May McCoy, New York City.

The money was found in an envelope in a black handbag the woman carried. An additional $661 was found wrapped in a cloth in her berth on the train, after it had left for Lansing police were informed.

Dr. William Dugan, who attended her at a hospital here, said she became violently hysterical shortly after her arrival.

Democrats Lose State Battle In Pike County

(International News Service)

MILFORD, Pa., March 20.—Ralph E. Kelder, Republican, today was the elected state representative from Pike county, succeeding the late Edward L. Labar, Democrat, who died one month after taking the oath of office for his fifth term on January 1.

Kelder, a former postmaster at Matamoras, received 2031 votes in yesterday's special election. His Democratic opponent, Joseph V. Vogt, of Shohola, received 1990 votes.

Pike county had sent a Democratic representative to the lower house for the last 15 years. G. O. P. leaders today hailed the victory as the "first straw in the wind" of public sentiment since Governor George H. Earle assumed office.

To Resume Work On Some Projects

PROBABLY 500 TO BE AFFECTED

Authority was received today by W. Leslie Wilson, acting RWD administrator, to resume operations here on Monday, March 25, with approximately 500 men put back to work. The allocation of funds is for the balance of March and the first part of April.

While this will not put back to work any large proportion of the men on the RWD rolls it is a start back towards a resumption that it is hoped will include the entire list. For the present the jobs in New Castle that will be resumed are Cascade street, Balph avenue, Harbor road and the Taylor street sewer. Others are also being considered.

All men who are to report on Monday morning will be notified by the State-Federal Employment Office Mr. Wilson stated.

Motor Club To Meet Thursday

STATE PRESIDENT ONE OF SPEAKERS

All arrangements for the annual meeting of the New Castle Motor Club have been completed, B. N. Hanlon, manager of the club stated today. The meeting will be held Thursday evening at eight o'clock in the Castleton Hotel and all members of the club are urged to be present and bring a non-member friend.

President Ralph Bolsinger will preside over the meeting. The reports of the various committees will be heard and the annual election held. Five governors will be selected out of a list of candidates that have been named by the nominations committee.

President S. Edward Gable, state president of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation will be present and speak and Lieutenant Thomas Boettner, of the Pennsylvania State Police will also speak. Special music is being provided by Prof. Alan B. Davis of Westminster College. The Westminster quartette and other artists will be on the program.

This annual meeting will be one of interest to the members and all motorists. For this reason it is urged that a large attendance be present.

Founder Of Cook Forest Is Dead

(International News Service)

COOKSBURG, Pa., Mar. 20.—Business leaders today mourned the death of Anthony Wayne Cook, 80, founder of the Cook Forest state park, Clarion county, who died at his home here yesterday.

Cook was a grandson of John Cook, a pioneer county settler who acquired large tracts of land, one of which later became Cook Forest, the only large existing tract of virgin White Pine east of the Mississippi. Cook aided his father in the establishment of a lumber business in this section, with mills at Cooksburg and Pittsburgh.

In addition to his lumber and Mill holdings in this state, Cook also held property in Maryland, West Virginia and on the Pacific coast.

Will Improve Water Service

WORK TO START SOON ON PROJECT

Announcement was made today of plans for the erection of a 132,000 gallon booster station water tank which will be located on Gibson street, by the New Castle Water company. The contract for the steel tank has been let to the Pennsylvania Engineering company and all materials possible of purchase in New Castle will be purchased here. The cost of the station will be approximately $8,000.

Some months ago the water company purchased a piece of ground on Gibson street, lying between Long avenue and Arlington avenue, from Charles McCandless. A permit was secured from the city and the contract awarded. Additional contracts will be awarded for the construction of pipe lines. All work will be done by private contract.

The purpose of the booster station tank is to increase the pressure on the East Side and the Sheep Hill district. In past years the Chestnut street tank has served these two districts. During the peak load season, in the summer months, the pressure on the East Side has not been up to the company's standard of service and to bring it up the new station is being installed.

Work will start on the construction of the tank and the building some time in early April. It will be completed in time to handle the summer demands in a satisfactory manner.

Hospital Aid Bills Presented

Senator Batchelor Presents Measures For Lawrence County Institutions

Introduced by Senator Alonzo S. Batchelor, appropriation bills for various Lawrence County institutions have been presented to the General Assembly. The bill for the Jameson Memorial Hospital asks for $42,000. For the Almira Home Association, $7500, for the Margaret Henry Children's Home, $15,000, and for the Ellwood City Hospital, $18,000. These figures represent increases.

"SEAGOING" PASSENGER TRAIN CRAWLS THROUGH KENTUCKY FLOODLANDS

Mitchell's Fate Rests With Jury

JUDGE HILDEBRAND GIVES INSTRUCTIONS

Fate of James Mitchell, charged with the murder of his wife, Evaline Mitchell, is now in the hands of the jury. Arguments by defendant's counsel, Walter S. Reynolds, were made at the opening of Lawrence County court this morning. He reviewed the evidence at considerable length contending that the shooting and the circumstances surrounding it, tended to show that it was accidental, as claimed by Mitchell. There was nothing in the case, he argued, to show that there had been a quarrel, or that Mitchell had premeditated killing his wife.

District Attorney Mont L. Ailey, for the commonwealth, drew attention to testimony which, he claimed, showed that Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell had been engaged in arguments previous to the murder. He also pointed out that one of the witnesses had said that she had heard Mitchell threaten to kill his wife. He believed that the testimony, taken

Communists Are Accused In Race Riots

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 20.—Mayor LaGuardia today ordered a probe into the communistic plot which incited the race riot in Harlem, New York's Negro section, in which many were injured and more than 100 persons arrested.

District Attorney Dodge charged outright that the rioting was started by Communists.

Dodge said that those arrested would be taken before the grand jury to tell what they know of the Communists' plot.

Ten prisoners have already been questioned by Assistant District Attorney Price.

"I conferred with the mayor," District Attorney Dodge said. "We are going to show these Communists who defy our laws, incite riots and inspire revolution that they can't get away with it?

Snow Fences Are Being Taken Down

State Employes Are Storing Snow Barriers Erected Along Highways

Work of removing the snow fences, which are erected along the important highways of the state during the winter time, to prevent snow from drifting out onto the roads, has been started here, Superintendent H. W. Lightner stated today.

In addition, some little maintenance work is being done in various sections of the county, taking care of slides which have occurred since the freezing weather let up, etc

No general work program for the county has been laid out yet, awaiting the action of the state legislature in allocating funds for this purpose.

Mining Town Fire Damaged

(International News Service)

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., Mar. 20.—The mining town of Kinloch, three miles from here, was saved today after fire had destroyed four homes and damaged a fifth. Volunteer firemen formed a bucket brigade and doused the flames from water obtained from a nearby creek.

The fire started in a one-story cottage owned by Samuel Mails. The blaze was caused by an unknown gas explosion. Three men were seen running from the dwelling shortly after the blast. No one was in the house at the time.

Speedy Action Urged By Earle

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—Appearing before the senate in support of the administration constitutional program, Gov. George H. Earle today urged immediate action to make revision of the state's basic law possible this year.

He announced appointment of an advisory committee to lay the ground-work for a constitutional convention which he urged should meet June 4 as now provided in the administration bill in the hands of the senate constitutional changes committee.

This committee, Governor Earle said, represents every shade of political thought in Pennsylvania. Its members will be asked to go to work at once to prepare changes in the state's 60-year-old constitution to speed revision once a convention actually meets.

Three Men Stage Daring Robbery

Pose As Electricians And Ransack Massachusetts Home Of Valuables

(International News Service)

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Mar. 20. Three "electricians" today staged a $55,000 robbery at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Woodacre.

One engaged the Woodacres in conversation about electric wiring. Working in another part of the house, the other two removed a 500 pound safe containing $2,500 in cash, a coin collection valued at $1500, a quantity of old gold, and nine non-negotiable papers worth $50,000.

The trio of "electricians" departed in an automobile before the robbery was discovered.

Says Action Is Threat Of War

(International News Service)

PARIS, Mar. 20.—France is convoking the League of Nations council to consider Germany's re-armament as an issue comprising "a threat of war," Premier Pierre-Ettenne Flandin declared in the chamber of deputies today when he said the step was being taken under Article XI of the league convenant.

"The peace of the world is at stake," Flandin declared in revealing Article XI was being invoked.

Hopkins Calls Governor Earle To Washington On State Relief Plans

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—Summoned by federal authorities, Gov. George H. Earle today planned a trip to Washington next Monday to plead for continued federal relief assistance on the grounds his administration is exerting every effort to raise state funds.

He was asked to come to Washington by Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins to explain "what steps Pennsylvania is taking to pay its fair share of relief burdens." The federal government has carried Pennsylvania's entire relief load since February and money is available now only until the end of this month.

With his emergency tax bills raising revenue from gasoline, tobacco, amusements and utilities through the Democratic house, Governor Earle was expected to outline to Hopkins his contention that the administration has done everything it could to provide state funds. He also was expected to point out that he has moved for constitutional revision to permit state bond issues

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Pa., Mar. 20.—Despite a combined hunt by state, county and various local police agencies, the murderer of Howard Sidley, 30-year-old gas station proprietor of the Mercer-Grove City road, is still at large. Spurred by the $500 reward offered by the county commissioners, the hunt gains in intensity, but thus far clues are scarce.

Sidley was buried on Tuesday. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sidley of Pardoe. Sidley was murdered last Saturday in his store near the Bessemer Coal mine. Revenge is thought to be the motive for the murder.

Sunday Fishing Bill Is Passed By House Today

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—After heated debate, the house today passed finally the Larue-Moore bill permitting Sunday fishing with rods and lines. The vote was 119 to 71.

Leading the debate against the bill, Rep. Harvey Surface, Snyder, declared it represented another attempt to "break down" the state's "blue laws" of 1794.

Surface declared Pennsylvania was still a "Quaker State" but Rep. Clinton A. Sowers, Philadelphia, objected to having the bill made a religious issue.

May Postpone Robot Flight

(International News Service)

OAKLAND AIRPORT, Cal., Mar. 20.—A heavy drizzle and cross-winds threatened to delay the scheduled 800 mile test flight over the Pacific today on the government's radio-controlled robot plane.

The crew of the big twin-motored plane arose at 5 a. m. but doubted whether a takeoff could be made in safety from the soggy runway with the capacity load of 1590 gallons of gasoline.

House Passes More Tax Bills

MEASURES NOW UP TO SENATE

By ROBERT F. GORMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—Passed by a unified Democratic house majority that battled down stubborn, well organized Republican opposition four more of Gov. George H. Earle's emergency tax bills including the widely opposed gasoline tax boost today joined seven other administration revenue measures facing an uncertain future in the G. O. P. senate.

Strict party discipline was enforced by administration leaders as the gasoline, tobacco, amusements and utilities gross receipts tax bills, together estimated to yield $68,717,000 for the biennium, were passed by the Democrats. They boosted to more than $84,000,000 the governor's tax bills now held in the Republican senate.

Victory was made possible by an alignment of Democratic forces in the hours immediately preceding votes on the measure after the Republican minority listened to over-

Shenango Pottery Orders Increased

Employes Now On Four-Day Week Schedule For Time Being

Orders received by the Shenango Pottery Company in the past week have increased production to the point where the 550 employes of the plant are working four days per week. In order to care for the orders another kiln has been put into production temporarily.

While the increase in orders does not mean the employment of any additional men or women it has increased the working time and pay envelopes of those employed.

In the past months a great deal of ware for the government has been manufactured, to be used in the C. C. C. camps. No prediction as to future business was made by James M. Smith president of the plant, except to say that they were prepared to handle whatever came.

The meeting is sponsored by state and national associations interested in the breeding of Jersey cattle, and will attract a number of cattle raisers from Lawrence, Beaver, Butler, and Mercer counties.

France To Make Appeal To League On German Move

Will Also Send Strong Protest To Hitler On Decree For Rearming

FRANCE, ENGLAND, ITALY TO CONFER

France Strengthens, Relations With Russia—U. S. Stays Aloof In European Crisis

(International News Service)

Acting in concert following definite word from Washington that the United States would keep its hands off what it deems a purely European problem, Britain, France and Italy arranged for a tri-partite conference today as France protested to Berlin over Chancellor Hitler's conscription decree.

Developments in leading capitals were:

Paris—France decided to appeal to the League of Nations and strengthen her bond with Soviet Russia as a note of protest over Reich rearmament was drafted and arrangements concluded for a meeting with Britain and Italy.

London—Captain Anthony Eden Lord Privy Seal, nominated to represent Britain at the conference, which will precede foreign secretary Sir John Simon's Berlin visit.

Geneva—Rumanian Foreign Minister Titulescu enroute to Geneva carrying message reported to threaten immediate rearmament by the little entente if Hungary revives conscription.

Moscow—Press charged Britain's policy in crisis directed toward aiding Germany's plans for a "war of revenge."

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Mar. 20.—It ought to feel awful good to us even as bad off as we think we are) to be away off over here and not have to send a protest because Germany has decided to put on some extra help. Those nations over there just get up every morning and start writing protests.

If Mussolini ain't deviling the life out of 'em, why Hitler is. Whether you got a man in the army before the war starts or after it starts don't make much difference. He is going to be in there if it does start anyhow.

The trouble with the Versailles peace treaty is that the men that made it are dead, and the ones living say, "We didn't sign that mortgage."

So it looks like our worries are mostly all tax worries.

Yours,

Will Rogers

BERLIN CONDUCTS AIR RAID TEST

Darken City To Foil Air Raiders

CITIZENS UNDER POLICE ORDERS

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Mar. 20.—Awaiting details of the new Reich conscript army promised by Defense Minister Werner von Blomberg for today, Germany enthusiastically hailed the success of record post-war tests showing that Berlin is as safe from aerial attack as military aeronautics can make it.

The instruments of blind flying would be necessary to locate this sprawling capital of 4,000,000 population under conditions prevailing when 30 pursuit planes and third bombers flew over the city last night.

City In Darkness.

From 11 p. m. to midnight not a shaft of light was to be seen by the planes of the new "Richtofen circus", named after Mannfried von Richtofen, war ace, and 30 bombers criss-crossed Berlin in the recreated air force's first maneuvers.

Black paper or cloth covered every window. Doors could be opened only when a second door, leading into a lighted chamber, had been closed. Cars were allowed to use only parking lights. Street lamps were doused, turning white ways like Leipzigstrasse and the gay Kurfuerstendamm into streets of the dead.

The hour of absolute darkness was preceded by an hour of semi-darkness, during which all bright street lights were turned out.

Every citizen was under police orders to carry out his part. A captain was appointed for each apartment house to see that no lights were exposed. These officers are permanent and form the skeleton of an organization that will plunge Berlin into stygian blackness within a few minutes of any air raid siren's alarm in the future.

Twelve airdromes with underground hangars and a seaplane base in a nearby lake are reported to be under construction around Berlin.

Residents of the Kreuzberg area near Tempelhof air field were ordered "under cover" from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. today as daylight air raid maneuvers followed the night tests.

Realistic targets were provided and warning sirens whined out the alarm when bombers swooped over the town.

Air officials pronounced last night's "black-out" a "complete success."

tures from Governor Earle on behalf of his $203,000,000 program but refused to yield. The bills were passed as the governor was called upon by Washington to resume the state's share of unemployment relief.

House Passes Gas Tax

The $40,000,000 gasoline tax bill passed 113 to 87 with eight votes to spare. The bill imposing a two per cent gross receipts tax on utilities, private and municipal, estimated at $11,500,000, was adopted 115 to 85; the $6,000,000 amusement tax 117 to 82 and the $11,217,000 tobacco tax 116 to 83.

The votes indicated to observers administration forces were still in control of the lower chamber and that the other tax bills, including the $100,000,000 six mills personal property tax listed as a special order of business tonight, will pass in the lower branch without difficulty. The state and counties would share equally in the personal property tax, to be collected by the department of revenue.

Indicating last minute switches, more than a half dozen members who voted for passage of the gasoline tax filed reasons for their action with the house clerk, explaining they were opposed to the bill but voted affirmatively in the absence of more acceptable measures to provide funds for the needy.

Would Cut Salaries

Rep. H. G. Andrews, of Cambria, Independent Democrat, was the first member to take the floor at the beginning of the four-hour debate. Declaring he could "no longer go along with the administration tax program," the outspoken Johnstown editor presented a program of his own. No emergency program should be submitted to cover more than a one year period, Andrews said, proposing a five cent gasoline tax for three months to be gradually reduced to three cents, cuts in the salaries and wages of state employes and passage of a sales tax. He asserted the administration program would bankrupt Pennsylvania business and industry.

With the house at fever pitch when the gasoline tax bill was called up for a vote, Rep. William E. Zimmerman, Montgomery, arose and made his maiden speech in the legislature, declaring Pennsylvania motorists already pay an average gasoline tax of $16.85 a year compared with an average of $12.66 for the nation. Rep. Clarence Ederer, Montgomery, also opposed the gasoline booster, urging instead economy in government and federal aid in proportion to the state's share of federal taxes. While cabinet officers trod the sidelines making a final tally of Democratic votes, other Republicans voiced opposition to the measure until the vote was finally taken.

as a whole, warranted the jury in returning a verdict of first degree murder.

Following the arguments Judge R. L. Hildebrand delivered his charge in which he reviewed the evidence on both sides, calling attention to the points in which it seemed to conflict. He then instructed the jury as to different kinds of verdicts which they could bring in. If a first degree verdict was found, he said the jury had a right to say whether it carried with it imprisonment or the death penalty. The jury retired about noon.

Tuesday Afternoon

Testimony in the case against James "Thin Dime" Mitchell, was concluded Tuesday afternoon in court room number one. Mitchell is charged with having murdered his wife on the morning of February 12.

Mitchell testified in his own behalf and told of the various incidents in his home after midnight of February 11, which lead up to the shooting of his wife. He said that because of the arrival of Robert Mitchell and his bride, it was necessary to utilize the davenport in the living room for a bed. This was to be used by the senior Mitchell and his wife.

He said he had gotten out bed clothes and had built a fire in a stove, and advised his wife not to make the bed until the room got warmer. He remembered that his rifle was in the bedroom and said he didn't want it there, and went in to bring it out. As he brought it into the living room it exploded and his wife said "I'm shot." Mitchell said he called several doctors in an effort to get immediate attention for his wife.

Defense Changes

After establishing an accidental shooting theory, the defense then called several witnesses to prove that Mitchell was suffering from delirium tremens and was unable to distinguish between right and wrong. Drs. Eliah Kaplan and E. F. Henderson testified that they had examined Mitchell as members of a lunacy commission but found him sane. They testified that he was just getting over the effects of delirium tremens. Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard and Deputy James Wardman also testified to Mitchell's queer actions in the jail and said they had put him in the padded cell a number of times.

Dr. Garnett was called and said that Mitchell had called him about 4 or 4:30 on the morning of February 12 to come over and attend his wife, but said the man had not said anything as to what was the matter with her. Harry Antilas a restaurant keeper on East Washington street, said Mitchell had been in his restaurant several times making calls and seemed confused.

The regular monthly board of review of the New Castle district court of honor will be held in the council office, 313 Greer building, at 7 o'clock on Tuesday evening, March 26, with Scoutmaster J. Arthur Turek as chairman of the reviewing board. All scouts and scouters who have merit badge applications or advancement cards for this court, should have them in the council office by next Monday evening at five o'clock.

Rev. A. M. Stump, chairman of the court, has been out of town and has not announced the place of the court of honor as yet, but it will be held on Thursday evening, March 28, the place being named in next Monday's issue of The News.

Darrow Witness Before NRA Probers

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—Visibly aged, but fiery as ever, Clarence Darrow came before the senate finance committee today to blast the NRA.

The big committee room was packed with spectators and a long queue stretching down the hall outside. Donald R. Richberg, NRA policy head, was an interested spectator.

Darrow explained he was chairman of the board named by the president to investigate charges the NRA fostered monopoly and was too hard on small business.

"I knew nothing about the NRA," he said. "But I hadn't been in very long until I got the idea that the NRA made it harder for the people who didn't have anything, and easier for those who did have something.

Mongah Mine Is To Be Reopened

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 20.—Closed for ten years, the Mongah mine of the Pittsburgh Coal company is being conditioned preparatory to resumption of operations, C. E. Lesher, vice president of the coal company, announced here today.

An increased market demand for coal prompted the reopening, Lesher said, but he is unable to estimate the number of men who will be given employment. This, he explained, would depend on the tonnage officials decide to take from the workings.

A crew of men have been engaged in making repairs and clearing out the mine for the past several days.

Traffic was tied up on Croton avenue at 5:30 last evening, when a long freight train stopped on the crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad at the foot of Croton hill. The train extended from East Washington street to a point beyond the crossing on Croton avenue. There is no watchman on duty at the important East Washington street crossing after 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and when a train traverses this section of trackage, it is necessary to bring the train to a halt and have the brakeman flag the crossing, warning approaching traffic on East Washington street. Before the train started moving again, traffic was lined up from North street to the railroad crossing on Croton avenue, below the crossing, and beyond the top of the hill above the crossing.

for Chancellor Hitler's decree re-establishing compulsory military service, France today decided to appeal to the League of Nations, drafted a sharp note of protest to Berlin, arranged for a tri-partite international consultation and strengthened her relations with Soviet Russia.

These four momentous steps, exceeding in every respect the mild action undertaken by Great Britain following announcement of the Reich conscription decree, were decided upon at a three-hour meeting of the French council of ministers.

France's league action means, according to governmental sources, that an extraordinary convocation of the league council to sit as a tribunal to judge Germany's infraction of the Versailles treaty will be requested.

This was announced early this afternoon in an official communique which was followed by a statement from the foreign office to the effect that British, French and Italian statesmen would meet her on Saturday to thresh out the problem.

This meeting is regarded as of greatest significance, as it will take place immediately before Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary is due to start for Berlin for his long-delayed conference with Chancellor Hitler.

Strong Protest

The French note of protest to Germany, due to be handed in this afternoon and generally predicted as much stronger in tone than the British communication, was drafted after long and careful deliberation. Its text will be made public here following its receipt by the German foreign office.

No date was mentioned for France's protest to the league council, nor was any definite time set for Laval's visit to Moscow.

The latter step will undoubtedly meet with the firm approval not only to Soviet Russia but of France's small continental allies also. The latter have persistently advocated a stronger bond between Russia and France ever since Germany began to cast off the shackles of the Versailles treaty, culminating in her startling decision to restore a full-fledged army of conscripts.

Britain To Make No Bargain

London, Mar. 20.—Britain will strike no binding bargain with Germany during the week-end conversations scheduled between foreign secretary Sir John Simon and Chancellor Adolf Hitler, the house of commons was assured today.

In connection with the forthcoming visits to Berlin and Moscow, Dudley Jack Joel, conservative, asked assurance that parliament would not be committed without prior knowledge to any possible modification of the Versailles treaty.

"The visits will be purely exploratory," Sir John said.

Captain Victor Cazalet, conservative, raised the question of Russian private and national debts to Britain in connection with the forthcoming visit of Captain Anthony Eden to Moscow.

They will not be discussed, Eden said.

"Our conversations," he added, "will be mainly concerned with the position arising out of the present political situation in Europe."

for relief, explaining that while this program has been passed by the house the Republican senate has taken no action.

Govrnor Earle's budget provides $15,000,000 in state funds for relief for March, April and May, the money to be raised from quick revenue producing taxes such as the gasoline increase and the imposts on amusement and tobacco. Another $120,000,000 allocation is recommended for the next biennium. No legislation specifically appropriating the money has been offered by the administration, pending final action on the tax proposals.

First came the assembly, then an inspection, the opening ceremonies, business and the announcement of an April 5 dinner for the troop and then the special features. Committeeman certificates were presented by C. B. Sproull, a V-18 committeeman, while boys' certificates were presented by Scoutmaster Harry Miles. Assistant Scoutmaster George Winters led the boys in games following that and Assistant Scoutmaster Cy Schaller and Senior Patrol Leader Al Ubry conducted a signalling demonstration. A rope-splicing instruction period was conducted by T. Elwood Iddings.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 20.—Hearing on the application of R. M. Kline for the right of operating motor vehicles as a common carrier between points in Lawrence county was continued today to a future date which will be set by the Public Service Commission.

Initial hearing on the application was to have been started before the commission but was continued when witnesses for the applicant were unable to appear.

Kline seeks the privilege of operating vehicles as a common carrier for the transportation of property between points in the borough of Ellwood City and within a radius of three miles thereof, and from points in that territory to other points within a radius of 100 miles.

Aviation is arousing great interest in the Netherlands, and a proposal has been made to make Amsterdam a world center of air traffic.

M. C. CIRCLE BANQUET AND ELECTION TUESDAY

Sixty members of the M. C. Circle of the Third U. P. church assembled for their annual banquet and election of officers Tuesday evening in the men's class room of the church, when Dr. and Mrs. S. B. Copeland, Miss Anna Love and Mrs. Katherine Palmer as special guests.

At 6:30 o'clock the participants sat down to tables perfectly arranged in St. Patrick fashion, green and white tones predominating, where a bountiful menu was served. Mrs. Elizabeth Henderson was in charge of the social committee, and the committee under Mrs. Edna Lutz were responsible for the unique decorations.

During the beginning of affairs, Mrs. Copeland, who with Dr. Copeland will leave soon to reside in Wheeling, W. Va., where the latter has accepted a call to the United Presbyterian church there, was presented with a lovely gift in behalf of the class. The organization was named for Mrs. Copeland, and her services in the past have been most gratifying. This was an expression of their appreciation and she responded in a gracious manner.

A program followed, with Mrs. Kathryn McEntire in charge. Pep singing with Mrs. Thelma Lutz leading and Mrs. Blanche Coulter, accompanist, was the first feature. Mrs. Irene McKibben as toastmaster, introduced each participant in a novel way, adding much to the enjoyment of the occasion.

A playlet, "One Man On the Jury," was presented by a group of girls taught by Mrs. Ruth McCann and vocal solos were beautifully given by Mrs. Clarence Boston, with Mrs. Charlotte Emery playing her accompaniment.

The evening was concluded with a business period, when election of the following officers occurred, for the ensuing year: Mrs. Edith Wiles, president; Mrs. Edna Lutz, vice-president; Mrs. Pearl Rice, recording and corresponding secretary; Mrs. Kathryn McEntire, treasurer; Mrs. Anna Kildoo, magazine secretary; Mrs. Charlotte Ishler, thank-offering secretary.

Their next meeting will be an event of April 16, the place to be decided.

Mrs. Wilson Historian.

In connection with Monday's meeting of the Woman's club, at which new officers were elected, Mrs. William Wilson was named to serve as historian with the group this year.

LOCAL GUESTS AT GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Walker and children of Maryland avenue have returned from Galeton, Pa., where on Sunday they attended the golden wedding celebration of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Walker.

At noon a family dinner of 28 covers was served, relatives being present from this city, Coudersport, Wellboro, Sabinsville, Gaines, all in Pennsylvania, and Bath, N. Y. Decorations throughout the home were distinctive, in that much of the green and yellow crepe paper streamers used had beautified the home of Mrs. Walker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hyde, 23 years ago for their golden wedding. Cut flowers in the two tones decorated the table and rooms where in the afternoon upwards of 100 friends called to extend happy wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker, the latter of whom was formerly Ida Howard, have an only child, R. H. Walker of Maryland avenue. There are three grandchildren, Dorothy, Virginia and Ray Walker, Jr. Mrs. Walker is in her 68th year and her husband is 74. They are both enjoying good health and had a happy day recalling events of 50 years ago and since. Both received handsome gifts, among which were sums of money.

SERVICE STAR LEGION HAS SOCIAL EVENING

A social evening for Service Star Legion members was enjoyed at the home of Mrs. J. F. Titus, Edison avenue, Tuesday, which took the form of a St. Patrick's party. A large number shared the occasion.

Informal pastimes featured, and in bingo, prizes were awarded to Mrs. Hattie Nowling, Mrs. Rebecca Strong and Mrs. Belle Whiteman. When the entertainment was concluded the hostess served a dainty menu in keeping with the present season, and her table was beautifully decorated in green and white appointments.

Mrs. Nell Johnston was a special guest.

On April 2, members will gather at the Legion home for a business period, followed by card and bingo contests.

Concludes Visit

Mrs. Nettie Borland Thompson Johnson, has returned to her home in Meadville, after a several days' visit at the home of Mrs. S. J. Callahan of Moody avenue.

MAHONING CLUB HEARS "FORCED SHRUB" TALKS

Mrs. I. C. Bowman, West Madison avenue, received the Mahoning Garden club women in her home Tuesday for their regular meeting which was most interesting with discussions on "Forced Shrubs."

Members brought branches of cherry trees, pear trees, rose bushes and numerous other specimens, which had been taken inside and nursed along, forcing them to bloom much ahead of time. The process used for each was told and little details explained which proved instructive.

Mrs. W. H. Leight, program chairman, introduced Mrs. C. H. Clark, who gave a splendid paper on "Planting And Herb Garden," followed by another article on "Removing the Winter Mulch" by Mrs. E. C. Hulbert. Mrs. C. H. Cook was awarded the prize at the close of the meeting, for having the best collection of forced shrubs.

At the appointed hour the hostess served refreshments at a table centered with a beautiful bouquet of forced iris. In her living room she displayed an exquisite cluster of pussy-willows, which caused much comment.

Announcement was made that the Mahoning Garden club was invited to join the East Side Garden club at the county meeting to be held in the Third U. P. church on April 4.

Roll call was responded with "My Favorite House Plant and Why."

Mrs. C. H. Clark of Sunnyside, will have members for their next meeting.

MARTHA LODGE HAS TENTH ANNIVERSARY

Martha lodge, No. 10, celebrated the tenth anniversary of their organization Tuesday evening in the First Congregational church, on Reynolds street. Guests were members of the Star of Wales lodge, True Ivorites of America, the assembly numbering perhaps forty, nine of this number being past presidents, the tenth, Mrs. Myfanwy Thomas, living out of the city. There were three grand officers in the group.

Mrs. Mae Turner, the present president, officiated, the regular routine being carried out. Later the meeting was thrown open for interesting talks by members of both lodges.

Invited to the dining room for lunch, the guests were seated about two long tables graced with large birthday cakes, with greetings to the lodge outlined in colored icing. Green and yellow tones predominated. The committee serving consisted of Mrs. William Johns, chairman, Mrs. Sol Davies, Mrs. Griff Lewis, Mrs. Reese Price.

A delightful feature was the presentation of a beautiful bouquet by Griff Thomas to Martha lodge, the flowers being divided among the past and present presidents.

KENSINGTON LUNCHEON AT WALMO RESIDENCE

Mrs. F. G. Haydon, of Walmo, received as guests in her home yesterday afternoon, members of the Tuesday Kensington for a 1 o'clock luncheon. A tasty menu was served at a table attractively decorated in seasonal tones, where covers marked for nineteen. Aides were Miss Sadie Metzler, Mrs. Charles T. Metzler and Mrs. W. O. Williams.

Mrs. Charles Carpenter, of Chagrin Falls, O., who is visiting her mother, Mrs. Fred Beard, of this city, was a special guest of the kensington.

A period of informal pastime ensued, and their next event will be announced.

Vets Auxiliary

Hadassahs Purim-Birthday Frolic At Field Club Largely Attended

Most successful and outstanding as one of the seasons most enjoyable affairs, was the dance given Tuesday evening in the New Castle Field Club, by New Castle Chapter of Hadassah, in celebration of Purim, and Hadassah's twenty-third birthday.

The occasion was attended by guests numbering five hundred, and its double significance was indeed evident with the Purim cakes and other refreshments, which combined the birthday idea. Mrs. Jack Kulkin was chairman and Mrs. Phillip Levine, co-chairman, and under their splendid leadership, a group of cooperative committees shared in the evening's success.

To a program of snappy and melodious tunes provided by a popular orchestra, the girls in exquisite formal attire, with their escorts, enjoyed dancing from the hours of 10 until 1 o'clock.

During the intermission, a floor show featuring Miss Jane Day and Miss Anna Snoko, talented dancers, was presented, and their numbers were well received.

The card room was opened to others not desiring to dance, and at the close of the contests, a lovely prize was presented to Mrs. Edward Master for high honors.

Including many prominent guests of New Castle, others were present from Butler, Ellwood City, Sharon, Youngstown, O., Kittanning, Warren, O., Pittsburgh, Beaver Falls, and many other surrounding vicinities.

All departed, voting it an evening of entertainment that will long be remembered, as delightful in every way.

The proceeds realized, will be used for the Hadassah medical organizations in Palestine, the establishment of the Medical Centre to be built on Mt. Scopus in Jerusalem to be known as Rothschild Hadassah University Hospital, and other medical centers.

ANNUAL DINNER OF JUNIOR B. Y. P. U.

With their parents as the interested guests the Junior B. Y. P. U. of the First Baptist church had its annual dinner in the church dining room Tuesday evening, with this program as the delightful after-feature:

Piano number—Dorothy James.
Reading—Mildred Hoke.
Song—Mary Ann Johnson, accompanied by her brother, Bobbie.
Reading—Mary E. Dickey.
Books of Old Testament—Joe Hay.
Books of New Testament—Luella Proffit.

Special guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Peterson and daughter, Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Conners, Ralph Parks and Rev. William Hammond. In all, 49 persons were present. Games and a social period were enjoyed after the program.

Members of the committee in charge were Mrs. Gilbert James, Mrs. Leonard Dandy, Mrs. W. D. Bowman, Mrs. Walter Hindman, assisted by Dorothy James and Mrs. Francis Conners.

S. O. B. Kensington

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE HONORS S. C. WOOD

S. C. Wood, E. Meyer avenue, had a pleasant surprise Monday evening, when upon returning home from a neighbor's, he found a group of 45 guests gathered to celebrate his birthday.

The evening was spent in playing 500 and games of various kinds and at midnight a delicious lunch was served. The hostess had for aides her mother, Mrs. E. R. Houston, Mrs. W. J. Wolheter, Mrs. Florence Henery and Mrs. Mildred Atkinson.

Out of town guests were the honored guest's mother, Mrs. Alice Wood of Oil City; Mr. and Mrs. J. Norman Wood, Beaver Falls; Mrs. John Bollinger, Miss Beryl Bollinger, Mr. and Mrs. Tho Walls and son Teddy, Grove City; Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Clair McKim and daughter Nancy Lee, Ellwood City; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Atkinson, Stockdale, Cal.; Misses Mary and Inez Cox, Clifford Cox, New Wilmington; Carl Alborn, East Brook; Cecil and Nelson McConahy, Harbor Bridge.

Mr. Wood received many handsome gifts.

Lindner Class Elects.

Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday evening to the members of the Lindner class in the Highland U. P. church. The hosts and hostesses for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Pearson Furst, Mr. and Mrs. John Brinton, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lee and Mrs. Frank Goodwin.

After the teacher of the class, Charles G. Lindner, gave the opening address, the following officers were elected to serve during the coming church year:

President, Arthur Lowman; vice presidents, Mrs. Frank Goodwin, Mrs. Clifford Bradford and Mrs. Henry Brenneman; secretary, Mrs. Harry Hitchings, and assistant, Mrs. Ruth Drake; treasurer, Henry Brenneman and assistant, Harry Bilzi.

It was reported by the treasurer that $125 had been spent for church activities in the past year. The class voted to continue sponsoring the church nursery.

Plans Changed

W. O. club members have changed plans for their meeting for Thursday evening. Instead of a birthday dinner downtown, they will have an evening gathering in the home of Mrs. Sue Fleeger, on Harrison street.

PATRICIA ROWLAND SINGS FOR CANTOR

Not often are little tots of 5 years accorded a private interview with Eddie Cantor and Rubinoff, so that to little Patricia Rowland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Rowland, of 809 East Main street, this occurrence yesterday in Pittsburgh, was a rare privilege.

The young miss, who is quite talented for her age, sang several songs for the famous duo and after her performance they presented her with a box of chocolates which she is treasuring greatly, today.

Vempo Club

Mrs. John Ridley of Edison avenue, graciously received the Vempo club Tuesday afternoon at 1:30. Cards formed a delightful pastime during the afternoon, the prizes falling to Mrs. Collins Weaver and Mrs. Catherine Freese. Light refreshments of candy and nuts were later enjoyed.

The next meeting will be in two weeks, the hostess uncertain.

Students Recital.

Kathryn Nessle Allen presented a number of students in a recital on Tuesday evening in Highland U. P. church, with a large number of parents and interested friends present.

(Additional Society On Page Six)

Six Musketeers.

Members of the Six Musketeers were entertained in the home of Vivian and Edna Vogan on Haus avenue at their weekly meeting last evening.

The evening was spent in games and music, and later delicious refreshments were served by the mother of the hostesses. Those present were Wanda Fulton, Marjorie Allen, Mary Louise Joyce, Vivian and Edna Vogan and Pauline Burgess.

THE RECKLESS PEDESTRIAN

LAST year the automobile fatality record touched an all-time high, with a total of 36,000 killed. One of the worst aspects of the record was the pedestrian toll.

Those who believe that accidents involving a car and a pedestrian are always the fault of the motorist, are sadly mistaken. In five out of every eight accidents in which a person on foot was killed by a car, the pedestrian was entirely to blame.

Thirty-four per cent of the pedestrians who were killed while walking on the wrong side of the road. Eleven per cent of the pedestrian fatalities involved children playing in the streets. Nine per cent of the fatalities resulted from walkers stepping suddenly out from behind parked cars into the stream of traffic. It is a significant fact that, in 1934, the rate of death per pedestrian accident was 45 per cent worse crossing in the middle of the block than at the intersection, and 74 per cent worse crossing against signals than with them.

The careless walker, like the careless driver, constitutes a grave problem that must be definitely solved if we are to lower the automobile toll. The cure for pedestrian recklessness is purely up to the individual—all the traffic laws in the world cannot make a person walk properly on streets and highways if he is congenitally careless. Obey the signals, never cross in the middle of a block—and keep your eyes open and your mind busy with the problem of safely reaching your destination. That advice amounts to "life insurance" for the pedestrian.

BEAUTIFYING THE ROADS

Warren Van Dyke, secretary of highways, is to be commended for his programme of highway beautification. The project cannot be duplicated from an aesthetic standpoint, and it should provide useful employment for those on the federal re-employment rolls.

According to announcement the work is to include planting of highway banks and slopes with vines and shrubs to prevent and control erosion, which in former years has increased maintenance costs. This should improve driving conditions and increase highway safety.

Trees and flowering shrubs will be planted to increase roadside beauty and dead trees, which constitute a traffic hazard, will be removed or trimmed. Thus the scenic routes of Pennsylvania, made beautiful by nature, herself, will be further improved by the hand of man. In many instances the ungainly sights occasioned during construction of the roads will be replaced by natural surroundings.

SEEK TO COLONIZE ALASKA

One of the unexpected by-products of the depression is going to be a renewed attempt to tap the unused agricultural riches of Alaska. The federal government will finance a "sample migration," transporting 200 families and 400 single men to the Matanuska valley beyond Anchorage, this spring.

The move is admittedly an experiment. The climate of the valley is said to be very like that of the "drouth states" back home, and the colonists are all to come from those states, so that that part of the transition is expected to be easy.

Those colonists will, furthermore, be taken from unproductive land which is to be retired from production; and the soil in the Matanuska valley is said to be fertile enough to provide excellent farms.

This experiment seems to be well worth making. Alaska is potentially a rich, productive land, aside from its gold deposits. It is logical that a serious effort be made to see if its potentialities cannot be realized.

ABE BUZZARD GOES OVER THE HILL

Described by his "kid" brother Joe, 75 years old, as the "best derned hoss thief in the whole United States," Abe Buzzard, leader of a mountain gang of outlaws years ago, is dead in the Eastern Penitentiary.

The exploits of the Buzzard boys, Abe, Joe and Ike, read like something out of those paper-back dime novels boys used to thrill over. They were the scourge of Welsh Mountain farmers and small townsmen in Berks and Lancaster counties, varying horse and chicken stealing with raids on stores and freight cars. A mountain cave hideaway and false red whiskers did not keep Abe out of the hands of the law—for he spent almost his whole life, after the age of seventeen, in jail. Once, having "gotten religion," he was pardoned and went a-preaching through Pennsylvania on "Ruin and Reform"—until a burglar kit was found in his bag along with a hymnal.

Doubtless the Buzzard boys were dangerous desperadoes in their time, but alongside the Public Enemies to today—the ruthless racketeers and hired killers—they seem very tame.

THE SILVER KING'S WIDOW

In Colorado and in a great part of the West, the most absorbing story in the news is that which deals with the death of "Baby Doe" Tabor, widow of the once great silver king.

Elizabeth Tabor was one of the most beautiful women of her day. She was courted by many but married the owner of the Matchless Mine, from which a wealth of silver flowed in an unceasing stream.

President Arthur and the members of his cabinet attended their wedding. They lived in a mansion and in an atmosphere of royal splendor. Finally, in 1893, the fabulous wealth of H. A. W. Tabor was swept away with the collapse of the silver market.

Years of privation followed, also of loneliness for Mrs. Tabor after her husband's death. The woman, so the story goes, gave her promise always to keep watch over the silver king's once great Matchless Mine.

And she kept this promise until the end. In the midst of the signs of poverty and of squalor, the body of this faithful old woman was found in a shack on the outskirts of Leadville, the abandoned mine nearby holding a shadowy promise of renewed riches and power.

A California astronomer can see some 3,000,000,000 miles. Could you tell us, mister, if it is true, as they say, that prosperity is just around the corner?

Germany has discovered a method of keeping a hot air balloon afloat a mile high at $2 an hour. If we could apply the scheme to some U. S. personages, it would be a great investment.

The supreme irony of the age is reported from England, where the former King of Siam, Lord of the Rising Sun and Master of the Twenty-Four Umbrellas, was drenched by a sudden shower.

All Of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

I OBJECT

I've just read an article on puns and punsters, those low human creatures who delight in finding hidden relations between words.... and I ought to feel crushed...I ought, after reading this blast against puns, to abjure them forever. But I'm not crushed. I don't intend to give them up. Because I know the author of the article, whose name I do not know, is just jealous. He may be a very fine fellow who helps his friends and is kind to his family, but he can't make puns. If he could, he wouldn't write such paragraphs as these:

"The punster may think he is the life of the party, but he is considered a pest and avoided when possible."

(So that's the reason for the sudden hush when I come into the room? And that's why cats and dogs flee my presence?)

"It is not difficult and does not indicate mental capacity to "pun."

(I make puns when I feel happy, and a good pun increases my happiness. I make puns and sometimes I have thought I was rather bright. No Einstein, you understand, but not entirely simple.)

"Those who indulge in punning seem not to know when they are squelched. In fact, they seem to possess a particularly thick hide and an attempt to silence them whets their appetitie for more puns.

(All this poor punster's life he has been a sensitive soul that reddens to the ears at the slightest criticism a poor worm under the heavy heel of life.)

"None laughs so heartily as he at his own pun."

(Admitted....A Grade A, thirty-third degree punster is surprised and delighted at his own puns.

"In his punning he has no respect for age or position."

There MAY be something in this accusation.)

"Usually it is the only accomplishment that the fellow has by which he can attract attention."

(That's not true. I have other accomplishments I can sit six feet away from a hat on the floor and toss 52 playing cards in succession into a hat. And I can make babies laugh.)

"It matters little to him whether it be favorable or adverse, just so he can be noticed."

(Oh, what a fib! and what poor English. Nothing crushes a punster more than to make a good pun, a glorious and inspired pun, and hear it drop on barren soil without apprication, without even the polite tribute of a smile....Seems to me a fellow could find something nobler to do than picking on us poor punsters. What heartless creatures there are in this world! How sad to live and not to know what power lies in a gracious and hidden pun to unravel the sleeve of woeful care!)

THE UNPURCHASABLE KNACK

There is a knack to a mashie shot
And some will learn it and some will not,
And some, however so hard they try,
Never will conquer a cuppy lie.
If skill could be bought from the golfing pro
The rich would shoot par and a bit below.

Back from the South come the millionaires,
And the same old blundering game is theirs.
Their shoulders sag and their heads bob up,
They take three putts ere they find the cup,
And in spite of their wonderful sets of clubs
They still ask strokes from the other dubs.

The pro can sell them his fancy stocks;
He can sell them their golf balls by the box;
Coats for the weather and stockings, but
He never can sell them a two-foot putt,
And with all their money they cannot buy
The knack of playing a cuppy lie.

If skill could be purchased in package lots
The rich would make marvelous mashie shots;
If courage were sold by the pint and quart
The rich would rule in the realm of sport,
And never a millionaire I'd see
Begging for strokes from a dub like me.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

ALL ALIKE.

The Abyssinians could apologize on their stomachs and salute the Italian flag every hour, but it wouldn't stop I'l Duce's soldiers from invading the land. The true inwardness has come out.

A report has just been made by mining experts showing that the country is fairly dripping with gold and precious metals.

The Abyssinians might as well throw up their hands and quit. If they lick the Italians some other European country will discover that it also had been insulted and rush in after the treasure.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:11. Sun rises tomorrow 6:02.

Speaking of politics a teacher in a county school asked her pupils to define a mugwump. One bright boy gave this definition, "It's a bird that sits on a fence with its mug on one side and its wump on the other wondering which way to jump." You for the head of the class, laddie.

But the law wouldn't let underpaid stockholders strike and withdraw their share in the enterprise.

It is said that Amelia Earhart, famous avatrix, has been engaged by the government as an aeronautical engineer at a salary of one dollar per year. There must be some catch about this somewhere as our experience with engineers would lead us to believe that they are pretty high flyers when it comes to salaries.

"WE NEVER DECEIVED OURSELVES"

What is one of the commonest causes of failure in business? Try to answer the question before you read fuurther.

George Harvey is reported to have asked John D. Rockefeller if he could say, in a few words, to what he attributed the success of Standard Oil. He was silent for a few minutes, and then said, "We never deceived ourselves."

Any man who has survived in business more than ten years will asknowledge the wisdom of Rockefeller's summary.

An Oxford scientist comes forward with the announcement that man is at least sixteen million years old, but by the childish things he does you'd think he is much older than that.

Through a printers error, it is said that the Oklahoma legislature passed a bill providing funds to prevent an "epidemic of babies." The trouble with the bill was that the printer started the last word with a "b" instead of an "r". It just shows what little things will sometimes do.

Scandal is that method used by people in reporting a woman seen sewing under a tree as, "having been noticed in a very shady position."

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt starts each day with setting up exercises, followed by a brisk, brief, swim in the pool. Mrs. Roosevelt has never been sick a day in her life, she states. Maybe if more of her fellow countrywomen would try the same stunt, they might get a little more zest out of life.

After a six-year search, a Massachusetts woman found her husband living in a Pennsylvania town with another woman. Now she is going to try and have him punished for his nasty action.

CANNY SALESMAN

On a busy Saturday a lady 'phoned for three stalls.

"Very sorry—not a seat left," said the box office attendant, "but we have one private box vacant."

"Oh," said the lady, "that's no use! I can't see anybody from a private box!"

"Perhaps not, madam," retorted the diplomatist, "but everybody can see you!"

The box was sold immediately.

It begins to look as if every time Prosperity tries to turn the corner it bumps into a strike and bounces back again.

Sandy bought two tickets for a raffle and won the automobile. His friend rushed up to his house to congratulate him, but found him looking as miserable as could be.

"Why, mon, what's the matter wi' ye?" he asked.

"It's that second ticket. Why I ever bought that I canna imagine."

Funny how lumbago hits a man just about the time he wants to begin raking up the rubbish on his lawn.

California is raising a big howl because it is filled up with so many jobless, lured there probably by the promises of Upton Sinclair before the last election. We'd suggest that the aforesaid jobless be told about Louisiana where Huey Long is going to make everybody rich.

South American naturalist reports the discovery of fish that bark like dogs, but an angler friend assures us there are no barking fish in this country, and very few that bite.

Dnepropetrovsk, a Russian industrial city, is said to be so overrun with rats and mice, that the lights are kept on all night to scare the rodents away. Traps, poison, and gas, have failed to erradicate them. Probably just another result of the revolution.

No gold coins were exported into Hong Kong, China, last year it is claimed. And mighty few were exported from this country either, we imagine.

Mrs. Rick Gwydir of Washington state reached too hard and too high in replacing some books on a shelf. The effort dislocated a vertebra which was remedied only by medical treatment.

Military experts agree that the best defense is an offensive. Eat onions, girls.

THIS MODERN MUSE

What is this queer thing
you have written, my dear,
without form or rhythm?
A poem, you say?
But surely you're mistaken.
When I was young,
a poem went like this:

A poem had a lilt to it,
'Twas music to the ear,
The rhythm and meter had to fit,
Its lines were good to hear.
No formless mumble-jumble there,
To make one scratch one's pate.
The measures marched upon the air,
In rhythmic solemn state.

It sany of love in springtime,
It sang of birds and flow'rs,
It sang of life in gay rhythm,
It sang of sunny hours.
There was no sordid preoccupation
with grisly subjects
treated in language obscure.
You can say you've advanced
in literature,
but in those days a poem was a

TAKE THE BAND OFF!

An old farmer's rich cousin from the city paid him a visit. When he left he offered to send the farmer a new hat.

"What kind would you like silas?" he said. "Felt or straw!"

The old farmer thought quickly.

"Straw," he said at last. "When I've finished with it it will do nicely for a mouthful for the cows."

A North Hill woman, so the story goes, was reprimanding her little daughter for getting into the jam. "Just look at you. Your lips and cheeks are covered with red, what would you think if you saw your mother like that?" And the wise little girl replied, "I'd think you were going to a party, mama."

LIFE'S LITTLE AGONIES

The guest of an Edinburgh hotel returned to the wash room, where he found another fellow using his toothbrush.

"Excuse me, sir, that is My toothbrush. I left it behind by mistake."

The user of the lost toothbrush, nothing a bashed, handed it over, saying:

"Excuse Me, sir, I thought it belonged to the hotel.

The World At A Glance

States' Rights Out.
Pubic Wants Action.
Ohio Marks Changing Scene.

Central Press
New York Bureau
235 East 45th street

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Mar. 20.—States' rights are going out the window—by public demand.

The economic situation has gotten far beyond any individual state. Besides, few states have developed local men large enough to cope with the economic situation even in their own bailiwick.

When President Roosevelt instructed Harry Hopkins, director of federal relief, to take over the Ohio relief situation in the name of the federal government, that marked a historic turning point in American history. (The relief administrations of two other states previously had been taken over—but in a perfunctory manner in which the Ohio state administration was set aside.)

Seldom has a president written such an indictment against a leading member of his own party as in the letter to Hopkins denouncing Governor Martin L. Davey of Ohio.

This new governor of Ohio, who has dismissed state employes right and left because, although Democrats, they were not members of his particular Democratic machine, laid hands likewise on the Ohio relief organization. In two weeks he succeeded in almost completely demoralizing it.

Then a storm, with which he had not reckoned, broke. (Politicians are stupid in that respect—and then blame everything except themselves.) Citizens rose virtually en masse.

And now that the president himself alleges graft by Ohio politicians in regard to relief, and since his relief director even goes so far as to specify, Governor Davey will do well if he escapes impeachment for failing to observe it—if the allegations are borne out.

And President Roosevelt, by his direct action against a member of his own party, today probably could carry Ohio overwhelmingly.

It takes no little political backbone to denounce the leader of one's own party in the fourth most populous state in the union—a state that swings narrowly one way or another at conventions and in elections.

But the federal government had no alternative.

It could not permit people to starve.

The responsibility for the people as a whole lies with the federal government. And the federal government has accepted the task, literally at the command of the people.

Thus states' rights fade, with hardly a mention.

THE FUTURE

Can there be any doubt as to the future of the individual state?

As climax after climax is reached in the march toward new goals, in the war against depression, state unit after state unit will repose its problems into the hands of the chief command, the federal government.

The Harry Hopkins', the Harold Ickes', the Henry Wallaces, the Frances Perkins' must carry on. They were designated by the commander-in-chief; and in battle they recognize no friends; to waver for a moment would be to give ground to the common foe.

No matter who would obtain control of the federal government now, the man or the group would have to follow the same policy in regard to full authority for the nation.

There is no greater protective rights to a people than to ward off starvation.

Justice begins there, and works upward to economic freedom and security, to political freedom, to freedom of thought and of expression.

And it is more likely, in the opinion of the average citizen, that he will attain and retain his rights better under federal jurisdiction than under state jurisdiction.

Ask the citizen of Ohio. He knows.

SMALLER UNITS AGAIN?

Will there ever be smaller units again? Can monopolies be dissected and the parts handed to smaller owners? Can the federal government return its powers to smaller units once the "emergency" has ended?

Congress is to discuss that in heated manner in debate over extension of the NRA.

But—to world observers—it is a futile debate. The integration of society into large groups is a world movement. It can be blamed neither on Communists nor Fascists. It is a part of the transition from the age of industrialism to whatever we are entering, for better or for worse. When the industrial age succeeded the age of the feudal barons, there were the same fears, the same arguments, the same prejudices.

This is the age when the government is becoming all—not because it is planned, but because we have not planned, because we seem helpless, because people are rushing helter-skelter toward it.

And that is why so many diverse and disturbing elements are trying to gain control of the government, for he who wins now may be master for a long time.

President Roosevelt has at once the difficult task of consolidating all major efforts of Americans existence under the federal government and of maintaining a democracy.

PARENTS SHOULD ADOPT A "LAISSER FAIRE" POLICY TOWARD MARRIED CHILDREN.

Too many parents retain a dictatorial attitude toward their children, even after they have established homes of their own.

This is one of the reasons why parents are not more welcome in the homes of their married sons and daughters.

There is too much interference in the young peoples personal affairs.

The father or the mother who goes to live with a daughter or a son should realize that his or her days of control are over.

If the parent had been successful and efficient during years of independence, the same success might crown later years, if it could be understood that life has its periods and phases and the part must be played true to character.

A parent in the home of a child should afford a blessed companionship.

It should be a comforting experience on both sides.

But the parent who does not know enough to realize how to act in the home of a child is in for serious trouble.

Suppose traditions are broken and suppose the younger ones do have differences, adjustments cannot be made through interference on the part of the parent.

Parents should realize that maturity does not necessarily indicate permission to interfere with the lives of the married children.

TODAY Is The Day

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 20

Today's Yesterdays—March 20, 1431—Jeanneton Darc, erroneously called Joan of Arc, went on trial before the Inquisition, destined to be found guilty of heresy and burned at stake.

Though she has been represented for centuries as a simple farmer girl, there is evidence she was a princess, the daughter of Queen Isabel of Bavaria and Louis Duc d'Orbel of Bavaria and Louis Duc d'Orleans, who had been domiciled with the family of Darc at Domremy from infancy in order to avoid scandal.

March 20, 1549.—Sir Thomas Seymour, aged 41, lord high admiral of England, was put to death for proposing marriage!

His persistent efforts to wed 16-year-old Princess Elizabeth, who was destined to become the never-wed Good Queen Bess, caused him to be executed for treason.

March 20, 1848.—Louis I, aged 52, abdicated as king of Bavaria.

Faced with a demand by his parliament that he quit either his throne or 30-year-old Lola Montez, Irish dancer born Eliza Gilbert, he chose to give up his crown.

March 20, 1893.—Pope Leo XIII spoke to the president of the United States. The president heard him some weeks later.

The Pope recorded a message of greeting which was carried to President Grover Cleveland and reproduced on a phonograph—the only instance of direct communication of a Pontiff with a U. S. president until another Democratic president, Woodrow Wilson, went to Rome.

March 20, 1911.—The first county agent, or agricultural extension agent, in the United States, entered upon his duties, in Broome county, New York. He was J. H. Barron.

You're Wrong If You Believe—

That a person who avoids another's gaze is likely to be found dishonest.

That an expectant mother can, by fixing her mind on a subject change the character of the child.

That one can estimate a person's intelligence by looking at his face.

That the shape and prominence of one' head indicates one's character.

There is no basis for any of these popular superstitutions. Incidentally, of 25 propositions which researchers consider a standard set of superstitions, 100 patients in asylums were found to subscribe more often to the above!

Correctly Speaking—

In certain instances, a noun used to indicate the time, place, or manner of an occurrence, should be accompanied by a preposition.

Splendid Talks And Dramatist Feature Federation Program

With a splendid representation of prominent clubwomen throughout the county, in attendance, the March meeting of Lawrence County Federation of Women's clubs on Tuesday, in Epworth M. E. church, with the Music club and the Civic Theatre Guild hostess clubs, was most successful. In the neighborhood of 200 women were present, listening to an inspirational and instructive program on club work.

The morning session opened in Grace chapel, at 10:30, with the president, Mrs. A. P. Treser, presiding. After assembly singing of "Hail Pennsylvania" the litany was read by Mrs. L. G. Nail and allegiance to the flag was led by Mrs. E. F. Toepfer, color bearer of the Daughters of 1812, a trio of beautiful silk emblems being upon the stage. A verse of "America" followed. Reports of officers were read by Mrs. M. L. Ailey, recording secretary, and Mrs. H. R. McCulloch, treasurer.

Featuring the morning session were several splendid talks, Mrs. Carrie Jeffery Roberts, chairman of the legislative department, speaking on the Birth Control Conference recently held in Pittsburgh, at which she was a delegate from the local Federation. Mrs. Richard B. Perry, of Pittsburgh, president of the southwestern district, presented important statistics on the subject of "Selective Sterilization." Miss Margaret Toepfer, a member of the Lawrence County Bar Association, was scheduled for the opposition, but due to illness, was unable to be present. In her absence, Mrs. S. D. Pearson led a panel discussion on the topic, calling upon different members for opinions. Among the number responding were Mrs. Frank Fischer, Mrs. C. G. Long, Mrs. W. H. Shipler, Mrs. Charles Greer, Mrs. Laura Parker, Mrs. S. M. Matheny, Mrs. Roy A. Long and Mrs. J. A. McNeill.

The presence on the program of two former New Castle women was of particular interest. Mrs. T. M. Stahlman (nee Mildred Worrell), southwestern district chairman of club institutes, spoke of her department's activities, and touched upon the importance of conscientious selection for all club leadership. Mrs. Samuel Cuthbert (nee Lillian Osborne) southwestern district chairman of motion pictures, dealt with that subject, inspiring the local Federation to continue work along the line of securing better films for children.

At 12:45 luncheon was announced, the large group finding places at several prettily decorated tables in the dining room. Miss Kate M. Stockman read an appropriate poem, following with a brief prayer. A delicious menu was served by the Fairfield avenue unit of the church. An informal reception period was a pleasure until time for the afternoon session which featured a dramatic recital by Juanita Bower, in original monodramas.

Miss Bower possesses both talent and personality and her presentations, all of which were in appropriate costume, were exceptionally fine. Her program was versatile, including humorous, pathetic, sentimental and romantic selections. Miss Bower is from Lexington, Va., a graduate of nearby Sweetbriar College. She was enthusiastically received and responded graciously, to encores in concluding the program which follows:

Three Proposals—

Modern Girl, 1934

Greating a typical setting for Part IV, which contrasted three proposals, periods 1868, 1898 and 1934, Dorothy Gormley Smith sang an appropriate group of songs, with Mrs. J. L. Reed at the piano. Mrs. R. N. Haines contributed a piano solo.

Much credit reflects upon the Civic Theatre Guild, Mrs. J. W. McIllwraith, president, and her coworkers for properties and stage management which aided in making the delightful afternoon's entertainment successful as well as a distinct pleasure. Unusual containers filled with forced shrubs beautified the front of the stage and expressed the co-operation of Mrs. C. Allan Ingals, president of the Lawrence County Garden club.

Club officers who were in attendance included Mrs. Charles Greer, honorary president; Mrs. A. P. Treser, president; Mrs. W. C. Eckenroad, first vice; Mrs. Charles Freeman, second vice; Mrs. M. L. Ailey, recording secretary; Mrs. Bernard Kline, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Harold R. McCulloch, treasurer, Mrs. Roy A. Long, parliamentarian. Ushers were Mrs. Dudley Arnold, Mrs. Bart Richards, Mrs. G. R. Throop, Mrs. Earl Carpenter. Among the visitors were Miss Virginia Foulke, of Bridgeport, Conn., and Mrs. J. A. Edgar, of The News.

The next county meeting is booked for May 21, with hostess clubs including New Castle of Jewish Women, Reading Circle of '06 and Current Events '06.

COMBINED SOCIETIES HAVE DINNER EVENT

In furthering their study of the Japanese this winter, a combined dinner event was held Tuesday evening in Epworth M. E. church by members of the Maxwell circle, the Standard Bearers, the Weaver circle and the Woman's Auxiliary, the affair also celebrating Founders Day.

Covers were laid for 100 guests for dinner at 6:30, the tables being differently decorated and attractive with numerous small cherry trees and Japanese parasols at each place.

The after dinner program consisted of two short playlets, a monologue and songs. "Aunt Polly Joins the Missionary Society" was the title of the first one, presented by five members of Maxwell circle under the direction of Miss Jane Young. "Miss Lechty's Views" was the second offering put on by four Standard Bearers, with Miss Helen Clark directing. Miss Grace Stitzinger gave a monologue, "I Haven't Time", and the Standard Bearers sang an appropriate song.

The affair was a great success and the committees in charge received much praise for the delightful evening.

NEW OFFICERS PRESIDE AT PAST CHIEFS CLUB

Past Chiefs of Pythian Sisters held a delightful meeting Tuesday evening in the Court street residence of Mrs. Myrtle Hildebrand, with Mrs. Emma Maxwell joint hostess.

There were 17 present, including one guest, Mrs. Helen Hildebrand. As this marked the first meeting of the club since the election of new officers, activities for the year were discussed and a dinner planned for March 28, at the First Christian church, in honor of the retiring officers. Mrs. Emma Maxwell presided as new president, the other officers including Mrs. Jennie Drumm, vice president, and Mrs. Myrtle Hildebrand, secretary and treasurer.

Refreshments were served after a social period of beano. The next meeting was announced for the third Tuesday in April.

Whatsoever Class

Last evening Mrs. William Wilson and Mrs. Cecil Mitchell were joint hostesses to the Whatsoever class of the First Baptist church, in the home of the former on Sumner avenue.

Business of the class was taken up. The scrapbooks which the girls made for the children's wards in the hospitals were finished and plans made for delivering them. Easter baskets are to be made for the children of Crawford-Oakridge home for Easter.

Special guests were Mrs. Somers and Miss Helen Miller, the former being the "Class Grandmother". Mrs. Somers donated a sum of money to start the class library which was appreciated by the girls. This little lady who is 83 years old and blind is very much loved by the girls and helps the class in every way she can.

A delightful lunch was served by the hostesses, carrying out the color scheme of green and white, the class colors.

Auxiliary Event

An entertainment was given to a host of friends numbering about 200, by the auxiliary to the Sons of Veterans at their hall in the City building, the members holding a Hickville bazaar.

The program follows: reading, Beverly Fox; two solos, Pauline Rashid; accompanied by Margaret McCormick; reading, Gene Porter. A one act play entitled "How the Story Grew" was presented. The time pictured 40 years ago at Hicksville, and the cast included: Mrs. Marie Roof, Mrs. Jennie Tyler, Miss Margaret McCormick, Miss Dorothy Rishel, Mrs. Joseph Hoover, Mrs. Idyl Cooper, Miss Geraldine Rishel and Mrs. Lucy Petitt. A door prize and a number of other prizes were won by the various members. The closing hour featured bingo.

Tuesday Bridge Club

The Tuesday Bridge club members, were delightfully entertained yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Theresa Wright, East Washington street. Cards formed the diversion, with Mrs. Ben French sharing as a special guest. She received a lovely gift from the hostess, and those given honor score awards, were Mrs. A. E. Tullis and Mrs. Elsie Nessle. Refreshments were served throughout play.

In two weeks, the club members will have a tureen luncheon in the home of Mrs. E. C. Chapman, Moody avenue.

Share Honors

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Long avenue, whose birthday anniversaries fell due on Sunday and Monday, March 17 and 18, entertained a family dinner in their home Monday, as a means of celebration.

The menu was served at 6:30 o'clock, and a social program was carried out during the afternoon and evening hours. Green and white appointments were used in all appointments, and aides for the affair, included Mrs. Rose Owoc, Mrs. Mary Anuida and Mrs. Stanley Buczek.

Willing Helpers.

A meeting of the Willing Helpers class of the Madison Avenue Christian church took place in the home of the president, Louis Turk, North Liberty street, Tuesday evening, with the host presiding over the business session.

Games and music were enjoyed. Mrs. F. S. Turk, the host's mother, served a delicious lunch.

The next meeting will be on April 16 at the home of Miss Vera Betty Walter, West Clayton street. Mrs. W. W. Waid is the teacher of the class.

Legion Auxiliary

The American Legion Auxiliary, held an interesting meeting Monday evening at the Legion Home, when plans were completed for their card and bingo party to be held March 27 in their quarters. Mrs. Robert Cage is general chairman and Mrs. Ivor Davis will arrange for the refreshments.

Also, announcement was made regarding the delegation of local members, who will attend the meeting on March 28 to be held in the Presbyterian church at Ambridge.

FAMILY NIGHT AT FIRST M. E. CHURCH

Family Night was observed by the Ellen Woods group, Queen Esthers, at the First M. E. church Tuesday evening, with an attendance of 70 guests.

At attractive tables adorned with green and yellow tones, the group enjoyed an excellent casserole dinner at 6:30 with the committee furnishing the main dishes. Miss Martha Bigley was in charge of the program following, when everybody had a general good time playing games and chatting.

The committee in charge of last evening's successful event was composed of Misses Ellen Woods, Helen Moseley, Nettie M. Clarke, Martha Bigley, Mrs. James Elmore, Mrs. William Wagner, Mrs. E. B. Hawkins, Mrs. Earl Kyle.

The Queen Esthers are busy with arrangements for a style show and "coffee" which will take place next Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock, in the church. Mrs. Earl Buzard is chairman of this committee.

T. O. T. Club.

Miss Coletta Presiel of Etna street proved a charming hostess when she entertained members of the T. O. T. club in her home.

Miss Estella Wilson and Miss Goldie Householder won card prizes. During the business session, Miss Anna Marion Critchlow was selected to head the flower fund committee. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her aunt Mrs. Blake. The hostess, whose birthday occurred on the same date as the meeting, was presented with a luscious cake by her aunt, Mrs. Blake.

Miss Kathryn Ritchie of Canyon street will entertain the club soon.

Eighth Birthday.

Mrs. J. A. Gillespie of Lutton street entertained 20 little girls on Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock in honor of her daughter Alice on her eighth birthday.

Games proved exciting pastimes for the youngsters, and the serving of the birthday dinner at a beautifully decorated table with a large cake aglow with eight green candles, in the center, was a fitting climax to the day.

Mrs. Gillespie was assisted in serving by Mrs. William Miller, Mrs. Catherine Ferris, Mrs. Celeste Atkinson and Miss Ruth Owens.

Alice received many lovely gifts.

Birthday Honored

At the meeting of the Y. N. W. club Tuesday evening, at the home of Mrs. Pauline Houk, of Dushane street, a shower was tendered Mrs. William Mort in honor of her birthday. Chat and cards were diversions, with Mrs. Muriel McGee winning the favor. Mrs. McGee assisted with lunch.

The next meeting will be on April 9, at the home of Miss Olive Hoover of the Graceland road.

I. Q. Club

Mrs. James Maurc of Oak street, had as guests Tuesday, members of the I. Q. club with Jennie Paudla as hostess. The event was in the form of a pajama party, with dancing, a "Mock Trial" and a period of utensil band playing, being features.

A menu was served later in the dining room, colors of blue and gold being used in the decorations.

The next regular meeting will take place March 27, with Vida George, Home street, as hostess.

G. T. E. Club Change

Members of the G. T. E. club will meet with Mrs. Cecil Logan on Brooklyn avenue Thursday evening, instead of with Mrs. Earl White of Croton avenue, as previously planned.

Birthday Surprise

Friends numbering 30 gathered, surprise fashion, on the evening of March 16, to honor the 20th birthday of Miss Pearl McConnell, at Volant. The hours were enlivened with music and games, everybody having a general good time.

The honored guest's mother, Mrs. J. W. McConnell, assisted by Misses Helen and Mary Sankey, Miss Elizabeth McNulty and Miss Helen Swartz, served a dainty lunch. The honoree received many lovely gifts from the guests which were expressive of sincere good wishes.

Skippy Sunshine Club

The Skippy Sunshine club will meet Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the home of Polleen Miller on Vine street.

On Court House Hill

Notary Public commission for Edward E. McConahy has been entered at the register and recorder's office.

County Treasurer William O. Pitts reports that county funds are running low, and it will soon be necessary to do some more borrowing in order to tide the county over until the 1935 taxes begin to come in.

County commissioners are of the opinion that it would be a good thing if the legislature would add an extra tax on heavy trucks coming into Pennsylvania from other states. These big trucks are very hard both on bridges and the roads, and do not pay their share of upkeep.

Practically all of the jurors who attend court spend their nights at home unless tied up on a jury. This is made possible by the automobile and good roads. In the old days when farmers had to depend on Dobbin and dirt roads, jurors were compelled to remain in the city during the entire week of court.

County commissioners clerk, William A. Eakin and assistants are making good progress in their work of figuring out the amount of tax which is due on each property in the county. Already the work has been completed in eighteen townships and boroughs. After the tax is figured out the books are all rechecked for errors, before the duplicates are made up for the county treasurer's office. The boroughs and townships were taken up first for the reason that all of the books were in from these districts. Some of the city assessment books are not yet in. There are thirty four districts in the county. It is figured that by the first of April the taxes will be figured up in all of them, except the city. It will probably be around the middle of April before the city is completed. County treasurer William O. Pitts will then be given the duplicates and will send out tax statement cards to every property owner in the county.

Archieves of the court house received an addition today from the office of Alderman O. H. P. Green, who is moving his office to another location. Under an act of assembly the old records of aldermens offices must be turned over to the prothonotary. When the books and records arrived Prothonotary R. M. Campbell scratched his head and wondered what he would do with them, since his office is already crowded so badly that the cockroaches have to sleep two in a bed. Janitor Clifford James suggested that the basement would be a good place to store the records since there is not much likelihood that any of them will ever be needed. This proved to be the solution of the matter and now the alderman's cherished records are sharing the dust mantled basement with accumulations of other generations.

It was a new experience of jurors on the James Mitchell murder case to sleep with strange bedfellows Monday night. As there were both men and women on the jury, it was necessary to have both male and female apartments and some very good ones were found at a local hotel. The women jurors, three in number, were chaperoned by Mrs. Winifred James, librarian at the law library, who enacts the dual role of librarian and tipstaff in time of stress. Henry Mershimer had the men in charge. The rooms occupied by the male jurors had to be connecting ones so Mershimer could see if they said their prayers, and the same was true of those in charge of Mrs. James. Previous to going to the hotel the jurors spent their time in a jury room until 10 o'clock. Jurors took their meals at a restaurant during the trial where they also did their eating under the eyes of the tipstaves.

"STRONG ARM" TAX COLLECTION TABOOED

(International News Service)

READING, Pa., Mar. 20.—Berks County residents who are unable to meet their county tax payments need have no fear that their property will be sold from under them.

That is the assurance of County Commissioner Nathaniel Gring, made in a statement in which he also threatened with dismissal any tax collectors found guilty of using "strong arm" methods in the collection of overdue county accounts.

HIS IRON "TONIC"

The surgeon examined him and operated immediately. From the boy's inside he took 98 screws and nails of varying lengths and sizes. The boy has completely recovered and shows no ill effects from his "iron tonic."

Safer Stopping

THAN POLICE ASK OF ANY BRAKES by more than 40%

Rotary-Equalized Brakes on new Hudsons and Terraplanes Amaze Traffic Experts

HERE'S WHAT HAPPENED IN PUBLIC DEMONSTRATION SUPERVISED BY DETROIT POLICE DEPARTMENT

BEFORE YOU BUY ANY 1935 CAR— SEE IF IT CAN STOP LIKE THIS

Car Speed (with 5 adult passengers)	Police Figure for Perfect Brake Condition	Average Stopping Distance of Hudson-built Terraplane
20 m. p. h.	18 feet	10 feet, 8 inches
40 m. p. h.	71 feet	40 feet, 1 inch
50 m. p. h.	111 feet	67 feet, 4 inches

Brake requirements are severe in Detroit. Yet this Hudson-built Terraplane, a stock model carrying five adults, beat by more than 40% the stopping distances Detroit police call perfect! Did it again and again—at 20, 40 and 50 miles an hour! Stopped smoothly—all four wheels tracking straight ahead!

Before you buy any new car, see if it can match this safe stopping record. Test them all. Compare other features, too, with what Hudson and Terraplane offer—then decide.

What "BUILT BY HUDSON" Means

Rotary-Equalized Brakes. The same new-type, safety brakes that set these sensational stopping records. Five years' brake advancement in a single year. Quicker, smoother, straight-line stopping. Equal pressure at all four wheels at the same instant.

The only cars with bodies all of steel . . . bodies that reinforce the chassis, while the chassis reinforces the body . . . giving greatest strength, yet eliminating hundreds of pounds of useless weight.

That's why bodies designed by Hudson engineers have helped make Hudsons and Terraplanes the world's greatest performing stock cars.

Proof of this in scores of official A. A. A. records, including new world records made at Daytona Beach last month, with Sir Malcolm Campbell at the wheel.

Ruggedness proved in the recent 175,000-mile Ruggedness Runs.

The ELECTRIC HAND

And Look at the Prices!

Mercantile tax duplicate for 1934, audited by Controller Earl Wimer, shows: original assessment, $14,510; later assessments added by the treasurer, $917.50; collected by the treasurer, $9,092; balance turned over to delinquent tax collector for collection, $6,335.50; later assessments added by the collector, $780.44, and of the total of $7,115.94 there was collected by the delinquent tax collector up to January 6, 1935, $6,245.94. The present mercantile collector is James Mayberry. Up to July of each year the tax is paid to the city treasurer and after that time Mayberry assumes the role of collector.

Schedule of assessed valuations and taxes for the year 1935 is shown on a chart prepared by the controller. He shows the valuations into what fund the taxes go. The personal valuations amount to $2,575,870, real estate at $48,256,570 and the total of $50,832,440 is divided as follows: general revenue, $457,491.96; sinking fund, $101,664.88, and library, $25,472.17 or a total of $584,629.01.

Certificates of indebtedness outstanding January 1, 1934, had a face value of $255,030.64. During that year there were issued other certificates at a value of $39,043.58 which made a total of $294,079.22. The amount redeemed was $19,363.73 with interest of $10,193.11 . The balance when the city's fiscal year started in January amounted to $274,715.49.

Telephone service cost the city of New Castle $1,916.32 during 1934, according to a report made for the last fiscal year. The telephones in the council offices cost $127.13. The charge for the telephones in the fire departments amounted to $412.77. Included in the $1,916.32 were toll charges of $169.35.

WHEN QUIVERING NERVES WON'T LET YOU SLEEP

Doesn't the night seem an eternity? You toss and turn—try to find a cool spot on the pillow—hear the clock strike downstairs. Today's excitement and tomorrow's worry are beating through your brain. You count sheep frantically—but outraged nerves refuse to relax.

Mrs. Batchelder

Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound regularly for a while. It quiets quivering nerves—induces restful sleep—makes life a little easier.

"It Seemed As If Morning Would Never Come"

says Mrs. Emma G. Batchelder of 32 Heard St., Chelsea, Massachusetts. "I was so nervous I could not get to sleep. My husband works hard at engineering and needs his sleep but I kept him awake too. I heard about the Vegetable Compound and tried it. Now I sleep better than I ever have and I feel fine."

THE JUGGERNAUT

(International News Service)

SALIDA, Colo.—Roger Nelson, 40, was killed by his own truck ran over him. He was standing at the rear adjusting a canvas when the heavily-loaded trucked rolled backward. He was knocked down and one of the wheels passed over his body. Nelson yelled to his 14 year old nephew Jack Campbell, who was with him, to apply the brakes. The boy, in attempting to stop the machine, threw it into low gear and it again ran over Nelson.

X-RAY DETECTIVE

(International News Service)

BOMBAY—Use of the X-Ray enabled police to outwit an ingenious jewel thief. An elegantly dressed man entered a jeweller's shop and asked to see some valuable rings. During the inspection, he cleverly substituted a fake ring from his pocket for one of them. The shop assistant's suspicions were aroused and police notified. The ring, however had mysteriously disappeared. The man was X-rayed and the ring was discovered inside his stomach.

Grass Fires In County Call Out State Wardens

Residents of Lawrence county's rural districts today were warned that they may be held wholly responsible for any damage that may result from ravaging grass fires in their localities.

The warning came from Ralph F. Davis and Owen Penfield Fox, state fire wardens for the county.

Davis and Fox both spent a sleepless week end because of menacing fires that developed in scattered sections of the county. No serious damage resulted, they said, from the fires. They responded to night and day calls for help and, with hurriedly-mustered volunteers, extinguished the blazes.

"This is the time of the year," Mr. Davis pointed out, "when grass fires—bad ones—break out. It is up to the residents to use the greatest of caution at all times."

Davis reported that a grass fire in the southern part of the county at 4 o'clock Sunday morning, fanned by that morning's heavy wind, caused him great concern for a while. It was finally conquered.

STATEMENT FROM THE ELECTRIC CONSUMERS LEAGUE

Since the organization of the Electrical Consumers League about one year ago, there has been considerable talk in which "The League" is coupled with a proposed hydro electric development on the Slippery Rock river.

This propaganda comes from the Penn Power and its friends and has been put out for the purposes of misleading the public and for a smoke screen to obscure the real issue.

These propagandists declare that there is no general complaint about electric rates here, in New Castle, and that the issue is not between the people of New Castle and the Penn Power Co., but rather between the power company and a few selfish persons interested in the development of the hydro electric project, and who hope to sell power to New Castle.

The executive committee of the league desires to state most emphatically to the public that there is no connection whatever between the league and the proposed hydro development. The executive committee holds that New Castle is under no obligation to purchase power from any particular electric company and there is not now, and never has been, any understanding between the members of "The Consumers League" and those interested in the Lawrence Hydro Electric Company as to there being any obligation either way.

If the hydro shall at any time have power to sell, it must find its own market. It is under no obligation to sell its power to New Castle and we are under no obligation to buy from it.

Further, the executive committee of the "league" desires to state that there is a very clear cut issue between the people of New Castle and the Penn Power Co., and that there is a very general and a very great dissatisfaction with the electric rates here.

The league is now composed of the vast majority of the voters of New Castle and stands four square for city ownership of distribution of power. We are satisfied that any rate cut received from the utility company will be merely temporary and will not in any case be half of the saving to be gained by purchasing wholesale power and distributing it over city owned lines.

The league stands for the purchase of wholesale power from the lowest bidder. That may be the Penn Power or the Duquesne Light Co., with service this side of Beaver Falls. It might be the West Penn Power which comes to Portersville. It might be the Associated Gas which gets part of its power from the Clarion river. The only way the Lawrence Hydro can sell current to New Castle would be to underbid the other companies.

The above facts are submitted to the public by the executive committee of the league that they may be correctly informed on this subject.

Signed,
WALTER S. REYNOLDS,
President.

WRIGHT'S COMMENT

Editor News,
Dear Sir:

I see by the papers that the Thayer Company are moving to collect their bill of $24,000, plus a few dollars and cents for preparing plans and specifications for a new court house, that the commissioners were determined to build; were only blocked from doing so by the overwhelming opposition of the taxpayers; backed by a just judiciary. This opposition from the taxpayers was in evidence from the first, in protests from good citizens, granges and the taxpayers' leagues. It seems to me that the commissioners with these protests in view, should have incorporated in their contract with Thayers, this clause: "In view of the uncertainty of human events, should this building project have to be postponed or abandoned at any time, the Thayer company will be paid only as far as they have gone, or only for services actually performed," or something similar. But I doubt if anything has been done to prevent Thayers from collecting every penny of this money. It seems to me, if my surmise is correct, the decent thing for the commissioners to do, would be to resign.

STOMACH DISTRESS CAUSED BY DEEP-SEATED IMPURITY

The Stomach Lining Is a Series of Small Pits. Impurity Cling Deep in These Pits, Often Causing Serious Disorders.

There has been a notable discovery for the relief of stomach distress. Not a cure-all, not a "patent" medicine, but a new, scientific formula that works with the sufferer's food, known as Indo-Vin now being introduced to crowds daily here in New Castle at Eckerd's drug store.

G. H. MOSBY
Originator of Indo-Vin

It was first introduced in New Castle a few weeks, ago, and has become a complete sensation, and druggists and public alike state that it is helping people who had never been really helped before by ANY medicine, bringing relief in some of the worst cases of stomach trouble found in this city.

What It Is

Indo-Vin is made from natural Plants, and taken shortly after meals it mixes with the food in one's stomach, thus throwing off the poisons that foster stomach troubles and permitting the kidneys and liver to function properly. It acts within 10 minutes to stop acid risings, bloat and belching and will bring out awful gases and impurities (frequently from the first dose) which may have been inside of you a long time, contaminating your blood and inner-organs.

Indo-Vin clears out old fermented substances, half-digested food and other impure "matter". Such impurities half-fill the stomach and intestines and form a coating on the lining, thus causing stomach "trouble". Cleansing out these impure substances permits freer flow of the digestive juices, makes the digestive organs sweet and clean and gives complete relief from indigestion, heart palpitation from gas, spitting up of food, shortness of breath, lump in stomach and dyspepsia. Likewise, it has a great action upon the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, and thus it cleanses and improve the whole system in general.

This is no mere tablet or pill, and not a powder, syrup or capsule, and it does not contain alcohol or a single habit-forming drug, but it is a scientific LIQUID mixture from 22 Medicinal Plants, all blended into one remarkable compound. It is vastly different from any previously known formula, contains perhaps more ingredients than three ordinary medicines put together. While it is being introduced in New Castle every suffering person can try it at the small cost of only a few cents a day. So if stomach affliction, or even some little digestive difficulty, is bringing you misery it would certainly be a mistake not to try it.

Indo-Vin is now being introduced to the public daily here in New Castle, at the Eckerd's drug store. Also being sold in all the nearby towns by every good druggists throughout this whole New Castle section.

Would Transfer Income Tax Suit To New York City

Movement Started By Mellon Forces To Shift Hearings To New York

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 20. — A movement, started by Mellon forces, to transfer hearings in the three-million dollar income tax battle between Andrew W. Mellon and the federal government from Pittsburgh to New York was underway before the U. S. Board of Tax Appeals here today.

Frank J. Hogan, chief Mellon counsel, has requested the board to adjourn hearings here Thursday afternoon and reopen them in New York next Tuesday. Hogan desires this change so that testimony of Eugene G. Grace, president of Bethlehem Steel Corporation, and three art experts may be taken.

May Not Oppose

Government counsel have not indicated whether they will oppose or approve the move.

Grace's testimony will concern the merger of McClintic-Marshall Corporation, a Mellon-controlled concern, with Bethlehem Steel in 1931. In its fight to collect $3,089,261 in additional taxes and penalties from the former secretary of the treasury, the government claims Mellon netted a $6,000,000 profit on which he paid no taxes from this deal. Mellon claims the transaction was a merger and tax-exempt and asks a refund of $139,045 on his 1931 tax payment.

The art experts are expected to testify concerning treasures Mellon gave the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation in 1931.

Joseph Tanner Of R. D. 6 Injured When Accident Occurs

Joseph Tanner, R. D. 6, city, received sprains and bruises about midnight last night when a car he was operating toward New Castle in Coaltown was forced off the road and struck a tree. Highway patrolmen hope to locate the alleged hit-and-run autoist.

Tanner was operating his auto in the direction of the city line and the other auto was going toward New Wilmington.

After Tanner was forced off the road and his car had struck a tree, the other autoist stopped then turned his machine toward New Castle.

He drove his car toward the point where the accident occurred, but instead of stopping to render assistance increased his speed and sped toward New Castle, it was reported.

Tanner's car was damaged.

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—Chosen by lot from 26 qualified candidates, Miss Lucille Thopson, a pupil in the Tidioute high school, today was delegated to represent Pennsylvania in the good citizenship pilgrimage to Washington, D. C., on April 11, to be conducted by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

One girl was selected from each of the 48 states to participate in the demonstration. Miss Irene Adans, of the California, Pa., high school, was chosen alternate.

Allege Brewery Violated Code

Many Are Indicted By Federal Grand Jury In Session At Erie, Pa.

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., Mar. 20.—Charged with cutting prices below the code of the industry, the Belmont Brewing company, Martins Ferry, O., today stood accused on four counts of an indictment alleging violation of the brewing industry's code of fair competition by a federal grand jury sitting here. The case will be tried at the next term of court in Pittsburgh.

A total of 52 true bills were returned by the jury. These included:

Lucy S. Hilliard, indicted on nine counts of impersonation and fraud. She was charged with impersonating a CWA investigator, treasury operator and post office inspector in Sykesville, Falls Creek and Wilkinsburg and through her operations with obtaining $497.

Many Indicted.

Victor Smith, Portage, and Rosario Palmintera, Monessen, indicted on charges of passing spurious bills.

Indictments under the postal laws included: Edward Camp and Walter G. McKim, Wilkinsburg, for taking $12 from a letter; Joseph Morgan, Pittsburgh, for the theft of a $3.60 relief check from a mailbox; William Bowman, Pittsburgh, for the theft of a parcel post package; Paul J. Colt and Ralph Dippo, Pittsburgh, for alleged forging of a $25 government check.

A total of 20 true bills were returned in alcohol cases from all sections of western Pennsylvania. All were for operating small "wildcat" distilleries.

"Parsifal," one of the great German music dramas by Wagner, has an English story, Parsifal being the German for Percival, one of the knights of King Arthur's round table.

Senate Studies Views On Bills

"Full Crew" And "Train Limit" Bills Are Cause Of Public Hearings

BOTH SIDES OF ARGUMENT GIVEN

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—Controversial views on the so-called "full crew" and "train limit" bills were studied today by the senate judiciary special committee after a public hearing at which the measures were both assailed and praised.

Sen. Charles W. Staudenmeier, Schuylkill, committee chairman, said his committee will act on the bills next Tuesday. They have already passed the house.

E. W. Scheer, of the Reading Company and the Central Railroad of New Jersey; C. W. Gallaway, of the Baltimore and Ohio, and C. W. Clement and F. J. Fell, Jr., of the Pennsylvania, all vice presidents, attacked the bills as injurious to railroads and coal, steel and other industries and asserted they would decrease safety and employment.

Rep. Peter R. Reising, Beaver Democrat; George W. Rowand, spokesmen for railroad workers, and John A. Fox, Harrisburg, of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, asserted the bills would increase safety and promote employment. Fox attacked salaries paid railroad officials.

Fell said the bill for larger crews would cost the railroads $8,640,000 a year while the smaller train measure would add another $26,790,000 to operating expenses.

"The motive behind these bills is to secure increased employment for a preferred class," Clement charged, asserted "a very small number of employes" would be benefited.

"SPEEDER"

(International News Service)

STOCKHOLM—In Sweden, if you are drunk and sit behind the steering wheel of a moving automobile, you are arrested, whether the engine is running or not. An intoxicated chauffeur released the brakes of a truck, without starting the motor, and let it coast down a street a few yards, before the machine stopped by itself. He was given a month in jail.

Italy Protests To Abyssinians

(International News Service)

ROME, Mar. 20.—A new Italian Somaliland border incident today resulted in the filing of a further formal protest by Italy with Abyssinia.

The incident, which further strained Italo-Abyssinian relations, as the alleged raiding of an Italian encampment near Agable, in Somaliland south of Uebishebeli, by an armed band of Abyssinians who reportedly stole 100 camels.

Italian troops refrained from pursuing the robbers across the Abyssinian border, whence they fled, Italian authorities reported.

Money Order Record Set By Post Office

February Figures Show 11,376 Were Written In Month Of February

Shattering all money order-writing records at the New Castle post office, the month of February, it was disclosed today, witnessed the writing of an all-time high of 11,376 orders.

The 11,376, it was pointed out, was approximately 2,000 more orders than have been written here in any one month.

The post office attributed part of the increase to the demand for orders with the renewal of state auto operator's licenses which comes each February.

Distinguished American Journalism Figure Dies In New York Hospital

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 20.—Louis Wiley, 75, business manager of the New York Times, and one of the most distinguished figures in American journalism, died suddenly today in the Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center. Death was caused by a cereberal thrombosis.

Wiley underwent an operation at the hospital on March 1.

Effort To Return Highway Maintenance To Supervisors Hits Snag

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—Responsibility for maintaining 48,500 miles of second class township roads for the rest of the year today became an issue in the legislature, already involved over an extensive new tax program.

While Democratic efforts to rush legislation returning the system to township supervisors struck a snag, the Bennett bill providing the entire mileage be taken over permanently by the state was expected to be returned to the Senate Highway committee. This would place both suggestions for caring for the roads before the committee.

At the same time committee chairman Fred T. Gelder, Susquehanna, scheduled a meeting for today to consider emergency house and senate resolutions backing up the legislation to return maintenance to supervisors and slice up the $4,400,000 unspent Parkinson act funds among townships. "We're not going to be stampeded into action," he warned.

The resolutions pledge the legislature to enact the Shugarts bill returning the roads to the supervisors and authorize supervisors to set their 1935 tax rate which must be fixed next week in anticipation of state aid. Administration support was thrown behind this procedure by secretary of highways Warren Van Dyke. The house resolution has already been passed and sent to the senate.

In refusing to act hurriedly Gelder pointed out the resolutions provide for distribtuing the Parkinson act funds on a basis of mileage while the Shugarts bill specifies allocation on the basis of mileage and population. Gelder has sponsored a bill making mileage the base for computing the distribtuion of funds.

SMASHING LOSS

FALL RIVER, Mass.—A 100-year-old stained glass window in the home of Mrs. Anna Wallace was smashed by snowballs thrown by boys of the neighborhood. The window made of red glass, was imported from England over a century ago when the house was built. It was the only one of its kind in the country.

Student Stabbed In Pittsburgh As Initiation Occurs

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 20.—Stabbed beneath his heart during an altercation following a "bow tie club" initiation, Richard R. McClelland, 37, was in Allegheny General Hosptial in serious condition today.

The alleged fight occurred at a Northside restaurant when a group of youths began cutting off the neckties of persons in the "initiation." Before it was over, eight persons were arrested, including William Sullivan, 23, charged with the stabbing of McClelland.

"Good Neighbor" Policy Exploited

Roosevelt Falls Back On Home Honored Policy In Explaining Position

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—President Roosevelt fell back today on the "good neighbor" foreign policy to explain this country's attitude in the European crisis.

Asked at his regular press conference today concerning this government's position in the present situation, Mr. Roosevelt replied that we propose to properly maintain the policy of being a good neighbor to the rest of the world, and hope that this same policy will be extended to Europe and made effective in settling its problems.

The president indicated no decision has yet been made as to whether the United States will formally protest Germany's re-arming, which is a violation of the treaty of Berlin with this country.

Use Of Schools Will Be Denied

Unpatriotic Associations In Pittsburgh Denied Schools As Meeting Places

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 20.—Use of city schools by unpatriotic organizations is banned in a new ruling of the board of public education, effective today.

The ruling, aimed at groups seeking "to promote propaganda against our present form of constitutional government, "was adopted unanimously by the members, who also passed a resolution requiring that all public gatherings in the schools be opened with the singing of the national anthem.

Policy Outlined

The policy of the board was outlined by the following:

"Members of the board of public education, as public officials, are sworn to support, obey and defend the constitution of the United States and the constitution of the State of Pennsylvania. For them to permit the use of school buildings for meetings where the form of government outlined in these fundamental laws is subject to attack, would constitute a violation of this oath of office."

Diversified farming is being urged by government agents in Hawaii.

International News Service Staff Correspondent

(Copyright, 1935, by International News Service)

CALLANDER, Ont., Mar. 20.—Happily oblivious of the world-wide interest in their younger sisters, the famous Dionne quintuplets, five other Dionne children live in a humble homestead across the roadway from the Dafoe "hospital" where the "quints" are receiving expert attention from Red Cross nurses and Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, the celebrated country doctor.

The five older Dionne children range in ages from eight years, down to two years of age. They are Ernest 8, Rose 7, Theresa 5, Daniel 3, and Paugine 2. Three girls and two boys.

This correspondent, after visiting the quintuplets at the Dafoe nursery, paid a call at the Dionne home across the roadway. The Dionne home, a yellow painted story-and-a-half, seven-room structure is a typical Canadian farm homestead and offers a sharp contrast to the spic and span "hospital" where the quintuplets are quartered. The furniture is extremely modest and the rooms anything but modern. But the home is famous. For here it was the quintuplets were born last May 28.

Inside The Home

When I knocked at the door I was asked to come in by the father of this big family—Oliva Dionne. Once inside the door you saw a fairly large sized room, with a big stove on one side of it. To the left was a small room, containing a piano. Just back of this room, on the main floor, is the bedroom where the quintuplets were born.

Dionne, father of the quintuplets, sat near the door. He is a slender, medium height man with dark hair, dark eyes and a small black mustache. He was friendly. Over near the stove sat his wife, mother of the quintuplets. The father is 31 years old. Mrs. Dionne is only 26, which is remarkable, considering the fact she is the mother of ten children.

She is a dark-haired, rather plump woman with a ready smile and a dimple in her left cheek. She is French and has little to say when the conversation is in English. Her name was Elzire Legco, before she was married and she was raised in Callander.

"I was born right here," said Dionne, proudly.

He explained they have 300 acres of land, forty-five acres of which is clear for cultivation. He described it as "the old homestead." He said he bought it from his father, Oliver Dionne. His father had a fair-sized family—six children, three boys and three girls.

Made Tour

Dionne and Mrs. Dionne had recently returned from a trip to the United States where they had appeared on the stage. They visited Chicago, Detroit, Indianapolis and South Bend, Ind. It was reported they made $3,000 on their three-week tour. They were accompanied by Leo Kervin, of Callander, adviser and manager of Dionne, and Mrs. Georgina Rochon, of North Bay, Ont., a relative of Mrs. Dionne. The Dionnes said they enjoyed their trip and were treated splendidly.

When they appeared on the stage, Dionne explained, Mrs. Dionne bowed to the audience in response to applause when she was introduced and said a word in thanks in French. Then Dionne, in English, thanked the people of the United States for the kindness they had showed to them and their children.

Although the Dionne family made it plain they would like to have all their children—the quintuplets included—to themselves, under one roof, the Canadian government has taken steps to insure that the famous "quints" will not be exploited and would be taken care of properly and in the best of fashion until they are eighteen years of age.

Wards Of King

A bill, designed to safeguard the material, physical and spiritual welfare of the quintuplets was introduced in the Ontario legislature by Hon. David A. Croll, Ontario minister of public welfare and municipal affairs, making the infants wards of his majesty the king until they are eighteen years of age.

The bill was given its third reading in the legislature the other day. It was to become a law upon signature of the lieutenant governor.

Control of the person and estate of the quintuplets is vested in Minister Croll. One specification of the bill is that the children, Yvonne, Annette, Emilie, Cecile and Marie, shall be reared in the religion of their father (Roman Catholic), and that all money belonging to them shall be held in trust by the minister of public welfare until they attain their majority at the age of eighteen.

The cabinet, under provisions of the bill, was empowered to appoint a board of guardians, with authority over the finances, education and physical well-being of the children. Any guardian appointed would be directly responsible to Minister Croll, whose approval would be essential to all contracts.

Canadian officials were determined that there would be no exploitation of the famous babies and that everything would be done to safeguard their future from all angles.

AMISH FARMERS MAY BE GIVEN A BREAK

(International News Service)

LANCASTER, Pa., Mar. 20.—Because the Amish religion bans the signing of contracts, federal officials are reported to be considering an amendment to the Kerr-Smith tobacco acreage reduction act to exempt members of the cult from this stipulation.

Although willing to reduce their acreage, many Amish farmers have refused to sign contracts because of their "conscientious objections." The sect's religion teaches that an Amish man's word should be as good as his honor and, in the light of the church, all Amish men are honest.

The death rate for the month of November, 1934, throughout the registered area of the United States, which has just been compiled, proved to be exactly the same as for November, 1933, namely, 8.4 deaths per 1,000 persons.

U.S. TO MAINTAIN "HANDS-OFF" POLICY

Delay Protest On Decree By Hitler

Will Await Outcome Of Simon-Hitler Conference At Least

CONFERENCE SET FOR COMING WEEK

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

(Copyright, 1935, by International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—The United States has reached a tentative decision to maintain a strict "hands-off" policy in the European political crisis pending clarification of the situation.

In accordance with this policy, the State Department will refrain from making any protest to Berlin against German rearmament pending the outcome of the forthcoming conference between Sir John Simon, the British foreign secretary and Chancellor Adolf Hitler. Sir John is due to confer with Hitler early next week.

Watchful Waiting

The decision to maintain a watchful waiting attitude was reached following two White House conferences between President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull. The conferences also were attended by Ambassador Norman H. Davis, America's disarmament expert.

With France and Great Britain at odds over the attitude to be adopted towards Germany's rearmament and confusion reigning throughout Europe, the view prevailed that this government should avoid any move that might involve the United States in the Old World political embroglio.

The State Department wanted to let Berlin know that this government considered Germany's rearmament a violation of the separate American treaty of peace. Several methods of approach by which this might be done were discussed. However, it finally was decided that representations could not be made at the present time without the risk of dragging the United States into the European political aspects of the affair.

May Forego Protest

Therefore, it was decided to wait at least until after the Simon-Hitler meeting. If the outcome of their conference augurs well for European peace, this government may forego any protest to Berlin.

The decision was left tentative in case any unforeseen developments arise which might warrant some action by this government.

The one paramount factor uppermost in the minds of the State Department diplomats was the desire to avoid any move that might commit this country to taking sides pending clarification of the situation.

With this view in mind, both the White House and State Department were maintaining official silence concerning the government's attitude.

Company K Has Drill On Tuesday

Commissions Are Presented To Officers During Evening By Captain

K Company, Sons of Union Veterans held their regular drill-meeting last night on the third floor of the city hall. The drilling began at 8 o'clock with twenty-five men reporting in the ranks. Captain Partington turned the company over to Sergeant Raymond Gilbert for a short drill period.

Following this Captain Partington called the company to attention and presented Samuel Rick with a commission of lieutenant. He also presented Gerald Criswell with the warrant sergeant. Harry Powell was also presented with a warrant of sergeant, and Edward Gillest with that of a corporal. Both the warrants and the commission were from the Regimental Headquarters at Johnstown, Pa., and were signed by Major Ross M. Ascomb.

The remainder of the evening was spent in instruction and practicing of interior guard mount. The next meeting of the company will be on Tuesday evening, April 2, in the city hall.

Female frogs lay from 600 to 1,200 eggs, which they deposit in heaps about six inches in diameter in still, shallow water.

What Are Hitler's Plans? Ours Should Be Simple. What Explosives Do. An Easy Sum.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.

HERE, as on the eastern side of the continent, and north and south, Americans ask:

What does Hitler MEAN, what will Europe DO?

On one point all agree: Whatever Europe and Hitler may do, they must do it with no help in manpower or financial power, from this country.

No official would commit political suicide by dragging or pushing this country into war, and if any official were so foolish, he would soon hear from the people: Thanks, but we do not care to go.

FRANCE AND England, worried, reap the reward of their selfish foolishness, expressed in the Treaty of Versailles. Hitler tears up that treaty, and France and England look on, only praying that nothing worse may come.

Hitler's job, as dictator, is unlike Mussolini's. The latter shares, as Italian ruler, in the Allies' victory. His people are content to have him sit and rule. Hitler finds on his hands the hard job of wiping out the disgrace of defeat, and, according to Russian opinion, he is driven to action by increasing economic difficulties, as well as by the natural craving for revenge.

Nations usually wait longer for revenge. France waited more than forty years, from the war of 1870, to the big war, before taking back Alsace-Lorraine. Hitler, apparently, if he really means war, feels that he cannot afford to wait.

WHAT HE really wants, he alone knows. The change from an Austrian house-painter to dictator of a great nation is a difficult change. After what has happened, anything may seem possible to him.

Whatever is to come is the affair of Europe. This nation might well say to others:

"The United States looks upon this earth as an aggregation of continents. We feel responsible for this continent, as regards any conquests in South America, forbidden by the Monroe Doctrine, or any aggression in North America.

"We have, and propose to keep the friendship of Canada and Mexico. We shall look after this continent. Let Europe and Asia attend to theirs."

ALREADY EUROPE suggests of course this nation must play its part, if war comes. It must, and will, play its part, by staying at home, keeping out intruders, and attending to its own business.

FRANCE AND England look to Russia to play an important, anti-German part, if there is to be war. Fascist Germany despises bolshevik Russia, and Hitler has said so, officially.

Stalin does not like being despised. He does business with England, has a close treaty with France, as in the czarist days, France wisely overlooking Russia's unpaid debt of six billion dollars.

Russia has a great air fleet, nearly a million trained young fighters, with ten or twenty millions more if needed. Today's Russia is not the Russia of feeble czars, "mad Rasputins," gambling grand dukes. Today's Russia has power.

THIS NEW air war, that will see tens of thousands of planes in the air, enough to wipe out every city, town and village in Europe, will be a new war.

One nation, striking first and swiftly, through the air, destroying cities, poisoning whole populations, might frighten others into submission, as one hold-up man, with his pistol pointed, frightened a room full of men taken by surprise.

What will happen no one knows, especially to this country, if war should turn our way. A child in its crib is not more completely unprepared and undefended against kidnaping than in this country against war.

CONSIDER for a moment one of the great steel towers, seven hundred feet high, that will support steel cables, holding up the giant bridge soon to be thrown across the Golden Gate, the gate that leads from the great bay of San Francisco and Oakland, out into the Pacific Ocean.

Through that gate, the water, in a narrow passage six hundred feet deep, rushes with terrific speed and power.

TO ESTABLISH the wide footings for the bridge, repeated small charges of high explosive are used to make a small hole in the rock below the water, a hole, the engineer tells you, "about as big as a chair."

In that hole a "big 200-pound bomb" of TNT is exploded. That 200-pound bomb blows a hole in the solid rock about twenty feet wide and high and forty feet long.

GENTLE, unprotected fellow citizens, here is a "sum" for your boy, or your little Congressman:

If one 200-pound bomb can blow a hole twenty by forty feet in solid rock, what do you think a FIVE THOUSAND POUND TNT BOMB would do, dropped in the heart of San Francisco, or at the corner of Broad and Wall Streets in New York City, or close to the left ear of the bronze Indian that stands on the Capitol dome, overlooking Washington, D. C.?

WHAT WOULD 100 such bombs do, scattered over the crowded district of a city? They would crush and topple the tallest buildings, send crowds rushing into the streets, there to breathe in deadly poison gases that would follow the first bombardment.

Poison gas could easily kill one million human beings in New York within an hour. You would not like to be responsible for this country's unprepared condition, if that should happen.

Youth Quickly Starts His Term

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Mar. 20.—Today, Henry Winkler, 19, self-confessed assailant of 74-year-old Monroe Coulter, local farmer, was on his way to Huntingdon Reformatory to serve an indeterminate sentence. The youth slugged the farmer, for whom he formerly worked, early Saturday morning at the farm north of town because, as he confessed to officers, "he needed money for cigarettes."

It was one of the quickest cases of justice in county history. Young Winkler was arrested Sunday; plead guilty before Judge McLaughry Monday and was sentenced to the Reformatory. He told the judge he lay in Coulter's haymow from 3 a. m., Saturday until 6 a. m., when the aged farmer entered the barn to do his chores. Then he hit Coulter on the head with the handle of a hammer and, frightened ran away without robbing his victim. Mr. Coulter was not seriously hurt, despite his age.

GIRLS LEG CAUGHT IN WATER PIPE

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 20.—Two-year-old Esther Swerdlow and two Philadelphia fire companies know how far Esther's tiny legs will go into a water vent.

The girl was playing on the sidewalk and thrust her leg into the vent. It went in as far as her knee, but refused to come out.

Neighbors tugged vainly for half an hour and then summoned firemen. While the emergency crew sped to the scene, a passerby twisted the leg a little to the side, freeing Esther.

MURCIA, Spain—A tiny baby girl found abandoned in an ice box with fish has been given a warm welcome by foster parents. After the child had been taken to an institution, the news got about and a man and his wife offered to provide a home for the infant.

Three Hundred Police Officers Patrol Harlem

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 20.—More than 300 heavily armed policemen patrolled Harlem in pairs today as a precaution against a possible resumption of race riots which threw the fabled "black belt" into a turmoil last night and resulted in the probable fatal shooting of one man and injury to many others.

Lyman Quarterman, 34, a negro, was reported in a critical condition in Harlem hospital early today with a bullet wound in the abdomen, suffered while the rioting was at its height. It was reported over the police teletype system shortly after 1 a. m. that Quarterman had been killed, but this was subsequently found to be false. Meanwhile police were conducting an investigation to determine who shot the negro. Several other negroes were shot and slightly wounded at the same time.

UNHURT IN FALL

(International News Service)

NEW BEDFORD, Mass.— Her mother gasped as she watched the railing on the second floor porch collapse and saw 14 months old Aileen Senna fall into space. She rushed down the stairs and found the baby playing uninjured in the snowbank into which she had fallen.

The young flounder has eyes on opposite sides of his head, and swims vertically, but as he grows the eyes both arrive on the darker side, and he swims horizontally.

THEY'RE RIGHT ABOUT IT

THEY'RE all right about it. The Ford V-8 for 1935 is a car for men and women — for youth and age . . . it's the "Universal Car."

It's a man's car because of its power . . . because of its snappy get-away and stamina on long drives. And also because the man who has to foot the bills appreciates Ford economy of operation and freedom from repairs.

It's a woman's car because of its beauty . . . its trim contour . . . its luxurious upholstery . . . its modern appointments. Because of the ease with which it answers the lightest touch. Because brake and clutch pedals respond to little pressure.

It's a car for older folks because of Center-Poise — a feature that gives front-seat comfort to back-seat riders. Grandmother always gets the back seat. And from now on, she's going to love it!

It's a car for the children, too . . . because it's modern. And it is safe. They ride surrounded by all-steel body and Safety Glass . . . protected by bigger, stronger, faster stopping brakes . . . by a new ease of driving and alert power to meet any emergency.

The Ford V-8 for 1935 is a car for all the family — a balanced car for a balanced budget.

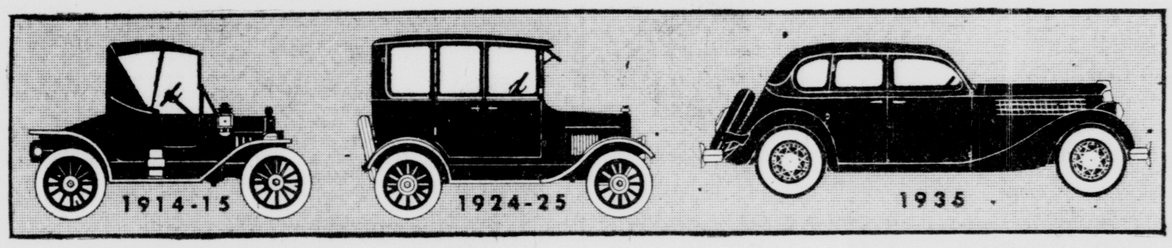
We are in A New Automobile Era!

Cars built since 1931 have twice the power and speed of ten years ago!



Continental offers you better lubrication for modern cars —an *Alloyed Oil with twice the film strength of other oils!

IT'S hard to realize how improved cars of the '30s are over those we drove ten years ago. We are in a new automobile era! Power and speed have almost doubled in a decade, with little increase in motor size.

Increased power has brought enormous increases in bearing pressures and crankcase temperatures. In making motor parts that will stand up under these severe conditions, car manufacturers have turned to new alloy metals of extra strength and durability. For the same reason, you must have oil with enough extra oiliness and film strength to protect your motor under extreme pressures!

Yet motor oils generally have no more oiliness and film strength now than they had ten years ago. New refining methods have recently come into use to make oils free from carbon and sludge. But these new refining processes have actually lowered instead of increased oiliness and film strength!

There is one exception—Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil. It, too, is free from carbon and sludge troubles, as its users know after millions of trouble-free miles of driving. But more important, Timken machine tests prove that the new Germ Process* puts into this oil 2 to 4 times the film strength of any straight mineral oil! That extra film strength protects your motor under the most extreme pressures and heat.

Germ Processing gives other valuable advantages. Because Germ Processed Oil penetrates and combines with metal surfaces, a "Hidden Quart" stays up in your motor and cuts down starting wear. Germ Processed Oil gives longer mileage with greater motor protection, as proved by the famous Indianapolis Destruction Test.

Plain mineral oils were all right ten years ago—today they are becoming obsolete. Say "O.K.—Drain"—fill with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil and drive with the comfortable assurance that your oil meets your motor's needs!

★ Alloyed by the Patented Germ Process

Just as the metallurgist adds small amounts of other metals to make special alloy steels, so we add small quantities of concentrated oily essence to highly-refined, paraffin-base motor oil. This Germ Processing, discovered and patented by Continental scientists, gives Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil lubricating qualities no other oil has.

From the diary of a couple who had a grand time—

"The Conoco Travel Bureau at Denver sent us a complete plan of our trip—everything we needed and all of it free."

"There were road maps of every state with road conditions and best routes marked, and booklets about scenic and historic points. Hotel and camp directories, too."

"Friendly Conoco service wherever we stopped made it a grand trip, too. You can apply at any Conoco station for this free Travel Bureau service."

Representatives Of Chain Stores Offer Testimony

Senate Finance Committee Hears Attacks On Proposed Store Tax

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—The senate finance committee of which Sen. John J. McClure, Delaware, is chairman, today reviewed testimony submitted by representatives of "chain stores" in opposition to the administration measures levying a graduated tax on such establishments.

Testimony given the senate committee at a lengthy hearing followed closely that submitted to the ways and means committee of the house which passed the $4,000,000 measure, part of Gov. George H. Earle's $203,000,000 program.

The proposed tax was attacked as "dictatory and arbitrary" by Charles H. VonTagen of the Pennsylvania Grocers' Association. He asserted the bill would give the commonwealth "absolute control" over retail stores.

Kern Dodge, former public safety director in Philadelphia, expressed opposition of the Philadelphia board of trade. Representatives of gasoline and oil companies requested that filling stations be exempt from the bill.

Joseph Gilfilan, Philadelphia, director of a grocery "chain", said his company would be forced to close 173 stores and Henry Weis, Sunbury, said his organization would be obliged to shut 35 stores if the bill passed.

FOUND GUILTY ON ASSAULT CHARGE

John Cwynar, Jr., was found not guilty on three charges Tuesday afternoon in court room No. 2, and guilty only on the charge of assault. He was tried on charges of attempted rape, assault and battery with intent to commit rape, assault and battery, and simple assault.

Clement Testifies On State Railroad Bills

Pennsy Vice President Scores Proposed Measures At Senate Hearing

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—Testifying for the Associated Railroads of Pennsylvania, in opposition to "Full Crew" Bill No. 304 and Train Limit Bill No. 311, before the judiciary special committee of the Senate of Pennsylvania in Harrisburg late Tuesday afternoon, Vice President M. W. Clement of the Pennsylvania railroad declared "that the effect of this traffic increase in costs, in wages and materials could only result in a very heavy increase in the cost of transportation."

"Now," Mr. Clement told the lawmakers, "what will be the result of such laws, as far as employment is concerned? What will be the result to these very men for whom you are asked to enact such laws?

"The very effect that these bills will have on employment and on the cost of transportation is being felt by these men right now. The great volume of merchandise freight that had been the back-log to the railroads in periods of industrial depression is now being trucked over the highways. The loss of that business is reducing employment by rail carriers, and employment of these men particularly, and to a far greater extent than could possibly be offset in the fulfillment of the hopes of these men through the enactment of this legislation."

The two bills are the so-called "full crew" and "train limit" bills.

Parent-Teacher Associations

AT ARTHUR McGILL SCHOOL

The March meeting of Arthur McGill P. T. A. will take place on Thursday evening, at 7:30 in the school auditorium. The meeting will be featured by an address on the World Court by Rev. Philip C. Pearson of Trinity Episcopal church. Students will present shadow pictures illustrating highlights of the Revolutionary war, and Jean Fox will give two appropriate readings. The usual business session will precede the program.

HEAR MRS. COSEL

"The Price of Peace" was the subject of an address by Mrs. W. L. Cosel, of New Castle, which proved of intense interest at a meeting of the Union Township P. T. A. Tuesday evening.

"Have we learned nothing from the last war? Are we again to permit an 'incident' to ignite the bombs we are preparing?" Mrs. Cosel asked. She pointed out that "in spite of the astonishing revelations of the senate committee investigating the munitions industry, showing the excessive profits made in preparations for war, we have swallowed the billion dollar Vinson bill."

The business meeting which preceded the address was in charge of Mrs. S. A. White. The association re-nominated the Boy Scout troop committee members as follows: Arnold Barnsley, chairman, Morris Cox, W. A. Keller, Archie Davies, Winifred Diamond and J. Harlen. The scoutmaster is J. Arthur Turek the first assistant, Zygmund Gierlach; and the second assistant, Teddy Colnot.

Prayer was offered by Mrs. Morris Cox. The song service was led by Mrs. Helen Bloomquist.

A committee was appointed to look after the improvement of the school grounds.

News Briefs From City Hall

Unsettled weather of the past few days has caused sickness among city hall folk. Mrs. Jennie Sankey, assessor's clerk, is ill as are Detective Thomas Lynch and Patrolman Frank Reynolds. Several other employes have severe colds but are continuing their duties.

Cruiser car operators last night sped to the intersection of County Line and Walnut streets where a burglar was said to be attempting to enter a store. No trace of a burglar was found.

Crowds of young men gathered at the intersection of Cascade street and Croton avenue and also at the intersection of Clearview avenue and Lutton street last night. They were dispersed by scout car operatives.

Police are investigating the theft of a bicycle from 1208 DuShane street, according to a report at headquarters.

Police have reported several times about a water nuisance at East Washington street near West avenue.

Five persons faced the mayor in police court today on a charge of drunkenness. All were set free after four of the five received a castor oil sentence. The fifth, not being a habitual drinker, was not given the oil.

Clifford S. Heinz Dies In California

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 20.—Funeral arrangements were being completed here today for Clifford S. Heinz, director and a vice president of the H. J. Heinz Company, who died yesterday at Palm Springs, Cal., following an attack of pneumonia.

Heinz, who was 52, was a brother of Howard Heinz, president of the company and had held executive posts in the organization since 1917. He went to California for his health in December.

He was a co-donor of the Heinz Memorial Chapel, now being completed on the University of Pittsburgh campus, and a trustee of Lafayette College. His wife, brother, three children and one sister survive.

Two Automobile Reports Received

Ned C. Chapman, 218 Hillcrest avenue, reported to city police last night that a car driven by Frank Dute, 301 East street, had struck his car which was parked in Highland avenue.

According to Chapman, Dute did not stop immediately and Chapman followed him. After Dute stopped, his car again struck Chapman's auto when it was started. The accident occurred at 7:15 p. m.

L. C. Frey, 105 South Walnut street, parked his auto on Falls street near Beaver street and claimed in his report to police that a car driven by Joe Bartberger, North Locust street, ran into the side of his auto about 8:30 o'clock last night.

Landslide Occurs Along The Narrows

Street department employes were sent to The Narrows this morning to clear away debris which slid down the hillside some time last night.

A report received by the police department was relayed to the department of streets today.

According to attaches of the latter department some ties which supported part of a rear yard in Neshannock boulevard gave way.

The street department attaches reported that the landslide did not occur where RWD employes removed stone some months ago.

Boston Red Sox Have Confidence

Believe Manager Joe Cronin Can Make First Division Team Out Of Red Sox

Depends On Grove's Trusty Arm, Red Sox Are Hustling In Training Camp

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

BRADENTON, Fla., Mar. 20.—The outlay, roughly speaking, has been the sum of one (1) million dollars, although generally I manage to speak gently and with considerable refinement in the presence of anything over a dollar and a quarter. The intake, the inlay, the income or call it what you will has been represented so far by the biggest gates Fenway park has known since those roaring, roistering days when Mayor Curley wore a second-story hat and sang "Tessie" in tremulo with the band and championships were a commonplace.

Plenty Of Power

It also is represented by plenty of runs—on both sides; fourth place in the American league last year—and no ball club. At least, in my vague, non-essential reasoning, I would say that anybody who had one-quarter of a pitching staff, one half an infield and two-thirds of an outfield has almost no ball club.

That, in a few, ill-chosen words, is the Boston Red Sox who came in here today for a practice game with the Cardinals. These are all practice games down here; they don't count. The Red Sox, in other words, know what they're doing. They're just practicing.

Having made that crack, I suppose they'll go out and win the American league pennant, just to be unreasonable. As a matter of fact, almost anybody can.

"If Grove can come back . . ."

Depends On Grove

That's what they all say on this club, meaning that if this gentleman can have one of his 25 game years, he'll make up for all the other liabilities the Boston management has carefully purchased. But I notice that Grove had an 8-game year in 1934 and that he's 34. You don't come back at thirty-four. In fact, you generally stay away by request.

These are general observations, not especially directed at the spend-your-way-into-money policy of Tom Yawkey and Eddie Collins. As a matter of fact, their trouble is that they've not spent too much but not quite enough. After all, they started with nothing except the right idea and a second mortgage.

Cronin Manager

Mr. Joe Cronin is the new manager and thinks well of the club's chances. He probably thinks better of the club's shortstop who happens to be Mr. Joe Cronin. There is a distinct improvement here, owing to the fact that the Sox formerly had nothing at shortstop and are now playing one of the best in both leagues—at what seems to be a fabulous price.

The third baseman, Werber, is good, very good and a great base stealer. The best of the infield, meaning the right side, is something that ought to be kept under glass. Max Bishop will probably be the second baseman. He has been a probable second baseman for years. The first baseman is Ellsworth Dahlgren, from the San Francisco missions.

Needs Convincing

He has been doing well down here but hit only .301 in a hitters' league.

I don't want to condemn the young man in ten easy lessons but I'd like to see more of him, just as I would wish to be convinced about recruit pitchers like Roger Hanlon, a right hander from Reading; Bill Hickle, another from Joplin; John Merena, a left hander from Syracuse and Hiliary Zummer, a right hander from Joplin.

Hanlon won five and lost five for Reading; Hickle twelve and twelve for Joplin; Merena seven and ten for Syracuse and Zummer three and two for Joplin. The only exception is Byron Humphreys, right hander, who won 18 and lost 15 for Joplin.

Sportsmen Of County Organize

Various Sportsmen's Club Affiliate With State Wide Organization

Representatives of seven different sportsmen's organizations in Lawrence County met last evening in the Y. M. C. A., where a Council of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's clubs was formed. This is a unit in a statewide organization which takes in all sportsmen's clubs.

The officers elected were as follows: president, James Croft, of Ellwood City vice president, John Boyles, of New Castle; secretary, W. L. Anderson, of New Wilmington; treasurer, James Wiesen, of Bessemer. C. B. White, of New Wilmington, was named representative to the state body.

The organization has been formed for the purpose of fostering a wider interest in different branches of sport, and it is expected that they will have a greater influence in state-wide sportsmen's interests.

The clubs which compose the local council, are: Bessemer Rod and Gun Club, of Bessemer; Mahoning Valley Sportsmen's Association, of Hillsville; West Pittsburgh Sportsmen's Association, West Pittsburg; Shenango Valley Sportsmen's Association, Pulaski; Ellwood City Rod and Gun Club; Lawrence County Sportsmen's Association, of New Castle; and the Lawrence County Coon Hunters Association.

Slovak A. C. To Meet Tonight

Slovak A. C. baseball team will hold a meeting tonight at the Slovak hall at 7:30 o'clock, the meeting will be presided over by Steve Gonda. All of the 1934 Slovak players and any others who are interested in the 1935 team are asked to attend the meeting. Plans for the coming baseball season will be discussed.

Church Golfers Enthusiastic At Meeting Tuesday

Plans Being Made For Ten Teams In Church Golfing League This Season

New Castle church golfing league bids fair to being bigger and better this year as shown by the enthusiasm and interest taken in the meeting held at the Elliott-Waddington store last night by the managers and officials of the various teams.

That two more teams will be in the league this year, making it ten churches, is almost a foregone conclusion, with the three Mahoningtown churches planning a combined team. Plans are also under way to have the east side churches combine a team, the churches being Epworth M. E., Second U. P. and Third U. P.

President J. B. "Jack" Waddington had charge of the meeting last night and called upon Charles "Bugs" Walther, general chairman of the league banquet committee, for a report, and after a few remarks Sam Lewis, chairman of the program committee, gave a short tentative description of the entertainment plans. Russell Magill, chairman of the menu and ticket committee, reported, and passed out tickets to each of the managers for distribution.

The banquet will be held at the First Presbyterian church on the night of Thursday, April 4. Plans are being made to take care of 100 church league golfers.

Following the business meeting the managers and officials of the league enjoyed a putting and driving contest with Ralph Davis being the winner of the driving contest, and Dr. R. C. Gilmore proved to be the best putter. The following attended the meeting last night: President Waddington, Vice President Ralph Davis, Secretary-Treas. Dr. R. C. Gilmore, Sam Lewis, W. J. Offutt, John Clark, Paul Bush, Mont Magill, Rus Magill, Dr. Heess, Dick Hitchcock, Fulton Magill, Jack Hope, C. H. Clark and C. P. Walther.

South Side Soft Ball Managers To Attend Meeting

South Side softball league managers and officials will gather tonight at the Humbert hall for an organization meeting, it was announced by Fred Marcella today. Frankie Ross, president, will have charge of the meeting.

It is planned to open the league on April 30. There will be four teams, composed entirely of the Italian element. President Ross is trying to find sponsors for the teams this week. The games will all be played at the B. & O. field. There will be two games played each league night, of seven innings each.

The following should attend the meeting tonight: Fred Marcella, Frankie Ross, Charles Landolph, Pete Capitola, Fred Fabian, Buddy Marino, Joseph "Flash" Petrucci, Al Scarazzo, D. Ross, Tip Richards, Tex Richards and Bill Ross.

Pulaskis Will Play Lakewood

K. Pulaskis will play the strong Lakewood Titans at the Pulaski floor Thursday night, it was announced today. The Reserves of both teams will play the preliminary game, which starts at 7:30 o'clock. The Pulaskis hope to upset the Lakewoodians, as they hold a victory over the First Baptists.

Coach Walter Sniezek will send his strongest lineup against the "Lakers" tomorrow night.

St. Michaels At Ohio Tonight In Battle For Title

St. Michaels Can Win Penn-Ohio League Championship By Topping Lansingville

St. Michaels church basketball team will go to Youngstown, Ohio tonight to battle the Lansingville, Ohio, church team for the Penn-Ohio league championship. The two teams are tied for first place, and the winner will take the toga.

Coach Michael "Jake" Babosky and Charles Dluganski will start the strongest possible lineup in an effort to ascend to the throne of champions. "Shimmy" Balla has shaken his "jinx" and will be out to top the scorers tonight, with Walter Chernyasky and Andy Motsko counted upon to play their customary great games. The Slosernick brothers Johnny and Mike will take care of the guard posts, along with Hnat and Mackiewicz a couple of clever performers. St. Michaels hopes to hit the stride tonight that carried them to the pinnacle in the early part of the season, when they were unbeatable.

Three Games In City League

Three games will be played in the City basketball league at the Humbert hall tonight. The first game will start at 7:30 o'clock and will have the Gersons and Kirppus tangling. The second game will find the Boyds pitted against the National Pants quintet. The third game will have the Perelmans and Johnson Bronze teams hooking up.

Polish Falcons Defeat Gersons

Take First Leg Of County Championship Series By Score Of 45 To 12

KAWA AND REIBER STARS

Polish Falcons playing the best brand of basketball they have shown this year took the first leg of the Lawrence County Independent championship series from the strong Gersons last night at the Humbert floor 45 to 12. The Polish boys were rated the underdogs in the battle with the City League champions. Russ Kawa was high scorer in the tussle with 14 of the Falcons points.

The Falcons assumed the lead in the very first minute of play when Budai tipped one into the hoops and at the end of the first period were leading 5 to 2. The end of the first half found the Ostroskymen ahead 20 to 8, with Kawa and Budai doing most of the scoring for the Miller avenue boys in the first half. The Gersons did not register a field goal the entire first half, and only made one the entire game, with Huff flipping one through the hoops. Lester "Bus" Reiber was held to five fouls. He could not score against the Falcons.

Falcons Increase Lead

The Falcons continued their fast attack in the third period and led 35 to 12 after holding the Gersons to four fouls. The Falcons scored 10 more points the last period, with the Gersons being held scoreless. The defensive game put up by the Falcons was commendable. The offensive attack in the hands of Russ Kawa, Budai and Augustyn was very fine. "Ratsy" Kendra kicked in with five points when used as a sub late in the game.

The Polish Falcon victory was one of the biggest upsets that has occurred this year in New Castle. The highly touted Gersons simply could not click against the fast cutting Falcons. The Gersons played without either of their regular centers Hutchison or Vondereau but do not use this as an alibi.

Meet Again Sunday

The two teams will meet at the Falcon hall on Miller avenue on Sunday March 24 at 1:30 o'clock. This will be the second game of the series. The Falcons hope to make it two straight over the Gersons. Kolodjeski, Sniezek and Brownie Ostrosky get a lion's share of the credit for the Falcon victory, as it was the guarding of this trio that held the Gersons in check.

The biggest crowd of the year jammed into the Humbert floor for the game, it was estimated at about 700 fans.

Answering the question, "Where's Elmer?" here he is, in person, in Hot Springs, Ark. The Elmer in this case is the elder brother of Dizzy and Daffy Dean, and he says he will pitch for the House of David team this year.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

The third annual West Virginia open golf tournament will be held in Parkersburg either in June or September, dependent upon the desires of members, Secretary Frank A. Knight, said at Charleston, W. Va., today.

George Henry Sauer, former University of Nebraska fullback has signed a contract to play with Green Bay's professional football team, Coach E. L. Lambeau announced at Green Bay, Wis.

A new baseball league is being formed at Franklin. Material will be secured from Emlenton, Greenville and Daugherty. Efforts will be made to make the circuit a six club loop.

Fred Barth, 64, veteran sportsman, died at his North Side, Pittsburgh, home yesterday. He was well known in bowling, harness racing and wrestling sports for 30 years. Barth had been ill for a long time.

Radiators Will Meet On Friday

National Radiator softball players and officials will have a meeting Friday night at 7:30 o'clock at the office of McCormick & Christofer on South Beaver street. Plans for the coming softball league season will be taken up for discussion. All of the Radiator players of last year and any others interested are asked to attend the meeting. The Rads won the championship two years straight and hope to win it the third time and keep the Wignall trophy cup in their possession. Ralph Bolsinger will preside over the meeting on Friday night.

Glassport High Will Play Here

SPORTS FESTIVAL BEING OUTLINED

Ralph H. Gardner, faculty manager of Senior High announced today that Glassport High School football team champions of Class B, W. P. I. A. L. in 1934 will play the New Castle High School "Red Hurricane" football team at Taggart Field this city, in a spring night game Friday, May 3.

The scheduling of the stro Glassport High team will complete a round-robin of the champions of three divisions of the W. P. I. A. L. last year. New Castle already has contracted Scott High Class A champions for a night spring game here Friday, May 10. New Castle won the Class AA championship.

Sports Festival

The announcement that Scott and Glassport will play here has met with instant approval of the fans.

In conjunction with the football game on Friday night, May 3, a huge Sports Festival, similiar to last year is being mapped out by Ralph H. Gardner, of Senior High, Miss Sara McGown of Senior High, Dan Carroll of Washington Junior, and Emmett Gillaspie of Franklin Junior High. It is likely that all manner of athletic maneuvers will be undertaken. The famous Ben Franklin tumbling team will perform again.

It is probable that the New Castle High School football team will start spring practice in a week or two, as soon as the ground dries up.

City Soft Ball Meeting Thursday

There will be an important meeting of the City Soft Ball league at the "Y" Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, with President Walther in charge of the meeting. Plans for the coming season will be discussed. All teams desiring franchises this year, are asked to have representatives at the meeting.

The Ellwood City Millers are invited to attend and also to join the league again this year. The Tolans have joined the league, making it a faster league. The West Side Merchants have signified their desire of joining the league.

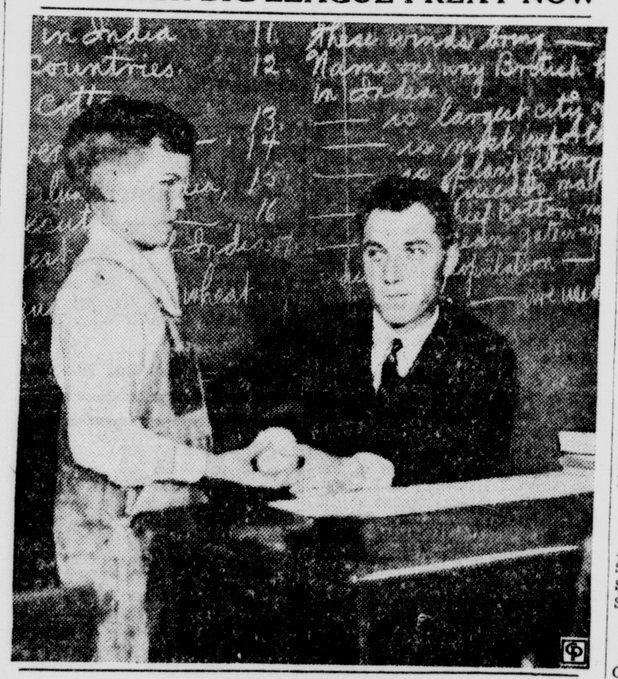
TEACHER BIG LEAGUE PREXY NOW



Twenty years ago Ford C. Frick was teaching in a small school in Walsenburg, Colo. Now he is president of the National league. The other day he went back to Walsenburg where he is shown handing an autographed baseball to a pupil, and sitting at the same desk he occupied in 1915. Frick first won notice by remarkable coverage of the 1921 Pueblo flood from a tramp airplane. Frick took pictures from the rickety plane, and wrote colorful dispatches. Soon after he was called to a bigger newspaper job in New York, from which he was graduated to the top baseball job.

Rankin Tops Fifth Avenue

Conquerers Of Beaver Falls For W. P. I. A. L. Crown, Advance To State Finals

(International News Service)

Allentown and Rankin today were pitted against each other for the state scholastic basketball title to be determined Saturday night in the University of Pennsylvania palestra in Philadelphia.

The two teams shot into the finals last night by crushing their respective opponents in the final regional play. Allentown's Canaries downed Berwick in the last three minutes of play at Pottsville 30 to 28, and Rankin squelched a last minute rally by Fifth Avenue of Pittsburgh, to win, 37 to 27, at Pittsburgh.

Rankin Wins 37-27

Rallying in the third period, the Bulldogs erased a 21 to 14 advantage held by Allentown at the half and evened the score at 23-all as the period closed. With Smith, the Berwick mainstay, taken out on personal fouls, the Canaries rallied and clinched the game in the final minutes.

Rankin led 23 to 13 at the half and practically put the game on ice in the third period when they ran the score up 34 to 16. Fifth Avenue piled up 11 points in the last stanza but the effort came too late.

Carbon Loses To De La Salle Club

Five Game Series To Be Decided Next Week

De La Salle club beat the Carbon Limestones in a basketball game played at Hillsville Monday night and the series now are deadlocked two-all. Gorenz socred 12 points for the winners and L. Coppola caged 13 for the Carbon team.

Carbon took the first two games 40-38 and 24-20 and De La Salle club captured the second two games, 61-53 and 55-44.

The De La Salles' passing featured with Plevnic, Vlah and Gorenz leading the attack. Coppola and Flora played a good game for the losers.

The fifth and deciding game will be played next week.

Captain-Elect Of Notre Dame Team Is Dead

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 20—Death early today claimed Joseph Sullivan, captain-elect of the 1935 Notre Dame university football team.

The gridiron star died in New York hospital to which he was rushed from South Bend, Ind., a week ago last Friday to undergo two operations for mastoiditis and an abscessed condition of the brain.

Numerous blood transfusions failed to save him.

Sullivan, 22, was the son of Police Lieut. Timothy Sullivan of Queens.

He played tackle on the Notre Dame eleven for two years and was a great favorite on the South Bend campus.

Keystone A. C. Meets Tonight

Keystone A. C. will hold a special soft ball meeting tonight at the club rooms on South Jefferson street. The following are members of the sports committee: Rocco P. Viggiano, James Bartlett, Tom Malelle, Stan Coprowski, and Vincent Gallagher.

All soft ball players are asked to be present at the meeting. Plans will be made for a Keystone A. C. soft ball league. The teams will be known as the Reds, Blues, Whites and Greens. Managers and captains will be elected tonight. The Keystones will also sponsor a fast team in the City Soft Ball league.

Sandlot Notes

RANGERS TO MEET

The West Side Rangers will have a baseball meeting Sunday afternoon at the home of Bob Hill at 2 o'clock. All of the 1934 players are asked to attend the meeting. Plans for the coming baseball season will be discussed.

MERCHANTS TO MEET

West Side Merchants will hold an important practice session Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock, it was announced by Charles J. Kelly today. All of last year's team and any others interested are asked to attend the meeting.

The first outbreak of smallpox in the Western hemisphere was in 1507 in the West Indies.

THE SPORT PATROL

THE CHICAGO WHITESOX

The optimists among the baseball followers are selecting seventh place as the final resting spot for the 1935 edition of the Chicago Whitesox. The majority, however, can see nothing but another season as the occupants of the basement of the American League.

Wherever the Sox finish, it shall be a different roster from that of last season which will do the ball playing in Comiskey park. Only the infield is a close resemblance to the 1934 outfit.

Zeke Bonura, Winter Hayes, Luke Appling and Jimmy Dykes will again be stationed in the inner garden. Bonura should be an improved player after a season of major league experience. Hayes is good when his physical condition is satisfactory, but the frail second sacker has always left doubt as to his ability to go through the 154 game grind.

They say Luke Appling is the most improved player in camp and he has been good enough the past two years to hold his job unmolested. Manager Dykes is 37 years old but he'll continue to play third until someone better shows up.

Marty Hopkins, obtained from St. Paul about the middle of last season, will be utility man on the left side of the infield. Glenn Wright, the same man who formerly starred in the National league with Pittsburgh, can fill in satisfactorily at first, second and short. Marshall Mauldin, a southern Irishman who played last year in the Evangeline League, will be farmed out, probably to Dallas of the Texas league.

Luke Sewell will do the bulk of the receiving with Bob Fenner, a newcomer from St. Paul, acting as his understudy. Muddy Ruel is listed as the third string receiver but his duties will be chiefly as a tutor for the yearling pitchers.

Fans will again recognize Al Simmons in the outfield but they'll have to look in center instead of left field. On each side of Al will be an American Association rookie. Vernon Washington of Indianapolis in left and Ray Radcliff from Louisville in right.

Washington batted .367 in the Association last season and on his spring work is now being likened to the great Shoeless Joe Jackson. If he's half that good, Windy City fans will make no complaints and they really shouldn't. Even his most enthusiastic backers realize he is none too flashy afield, but they hasten to add that while he runs from the knees down, he gets around speedily in his own peculiar way. Georgie may make good, but if he does it will be on his hitting ability, and due in no way to fleetness or fielding skill.

Radcliff has been up twice before first with the Whitesox and later with the Athletics. Ray has always been known as a dangerous slugger though he has had difficulty getting established at any one position.

On his first trip to the majors he was hailed as a cinch to become the first baseman for the Sox. He upset the dopesters completely by not only drifting back to the minors but by playing in the outfield. Connie Mack gave him a trial last spring as an outfielder but he was sent to Louisville before the season started and Ray again became a first baseman. Now Radcliff gets a trial as an outfielder on his ability as a minor league first sacker.

Mule Haas will be the fourth gardener, while Dan Hafey, a nephew of the famous Chick, will fight it out with the veteran John Conlon for the other berth. Beauford Rhea and Paul Donovan will be let out before the team reaches home.

The pitching staff is a mixture of vets and youngsters and just how many of the old boys do steady work depends upon the ability of the rookies. Ted Lyons, Sam Jones, and George Earnshaw are the grandpas of the staff and they're pretty good ones too.

Les Tietje's 1934 record wasn't impressive but he is being hailed as a future star. Vernon Kennedy, Lee Stine, Joe Vance, John Whitehead and Johnny Michaels have been showing up well this spring. Ray Phelps, a veteran who formerly pitched for Brooklyn but toiled last season at St. Paul, is up for another chance.

Whitlow Wyatt has been in the majors for some time but his position now is very tottery. Ed Durham on the voluntary retired list in 1934, is an uncertainty. Dungan Rigney, Dick Bock and Monty Stratton will be farmed hither and yon to reap experience.

Wants Rules To Protect Referee

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Mar. 20.—There are rules and again there are rules in the world of sports, rules aimed to protect the boxer or the wrestler. Now comes one, Edward McCloskey, chairman of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission, with some laws to protect the lowly referee.

"I am empowering referees to fine and administer suspensions to any wrestlers who try to show how powerful they are by hurling the referee from the ring or who strikes him. The same goes for boxing bouts, too. The world must be made safe for referees," said the athletic sage.

Pirates Defeat White Sox 14-4

(International News Service)

PASADENA, Cal., Mar. 20.—The Pittsburgh Pirates were well started today on their long series of exhibition games with the Chicago White Sox here, by virtue of a 14-4 triumph in yesterday's opening contest. Collecting a total of 18 hits, the Pirates were led by Babe Herman who drove out two home runs.

Development Of Local Hospital Told Kiwanians

Dr. C. Z. Bell Is Principal Speaker At Weekly Meeting Tuesday

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 20.—Members of the local Kiwanis club heard an interesting account of the development of the Ellwood City hospital at their weekly meeting in the Trinity Lutheran church last evening.

The prnicipal speaker on the occasion was Dr. C. Z. Bell, prominent district welfare worker. He told of the development of the local hospital from a private institution operated by Dr. Drake on Seventh street and Crescent avenue in 1913. The first unit of the hospital on Border avenue was dedicated in 1918 and had 25 beds. In 1928 the second unit was dedicated and making it a total of 63 beds.

The valuation of this entire property is $168,000. There are 21 employes in the institution, who draw a monthly salary of $3,000. Dr. Bell stated that the hospital has a very good surgical staff who work in two operating rooms. There is a splendid laboratory and modern X-ray equipment. Ninety per cent of the ills of the community can be cared for here. Visiting experts have said that the local hospital is one of the best equipped small hospitals in the state. It had 920 patients last year and 108 babies were born here.

Next week the club will witness a demonstration of short wave radio by William Charles of this city. On Friday of this week the club is sponsoring a motion picture show in the Lincoln auditorium for the Junior Stamp club.

Brotherhood Has Meeting Tuesday

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 20.—President A. J. Dambach presided at the regular meeting of the Brotherhood of the Trinity Lutheran church Tuesday evening in the church basement.

Plans for a dinner for the next meeting were formulated at this time. This will include all members of the organization and their wives. A special speaker will be secured for the occasion.

The program for the meeting last night was in the form of a question box. An interesting two hours discussion was held. Fred Gregor was in charge of the devotions on this occasion. The Brotherhood will meet again on the fourth Wednesday of April.

Stories Conflict At Hudson Trial

John Hudson Flatly Contradicts Evidence Given By Mrs. Elizabeth Kuhl

Conflicting stories were told by Mrs. Elizabeth Kuhl and John Hudson, both of Ellwood City, before Judge James A. Chambers at Lawrence county court this morning in a case in which Mrs. Kuhl is charging Hudson with adultery. Mrs. Kuhl claimed that she had been employed in the Hudson home on two separate occasions, one of them about eight years ago. The more recent employment extended from May, 1934, to December 8 of the same year.

On December 8, Mrs. Kuhl claimed that Mrs. May Hudson, wife of the defendant, and her three sons had gone out of the Hudson home and that she was alone arranging a bedroom, when Hudson came to it about 11:15 a. m. and committed the offense alleged. She admitted that during all the time she had worked at the Hudson home, on both occasions, Mr. Hudson had always acted the gentleman toward her. She denied that she had offered to settle at the alderman's office. There were no other witnesses for the commonwealth.

Mr. Hudson took the witness stand in his own defense. He not only denied the charge brought by Mrs. Kuhl, but also her story that she was alone in the house with him on December 8. He said that his wife and sons were in the house at the time alleged by Mrs. Kuhl. He told of a man named Shipley of Beaver Falls, who had come to him some weeks before December 8 and threatened what he would do if Hudson did not stop taking Mrs. Kuhl across a bridge to her home. Hudson said that Mrs. Kuhl was slightly lame and that at the suggestion of his wife, he had taken her home on several occasions in his car. He also claimed that Shipley had told him that he loved Mrs. Kuhl and expected to marry her. After Shipley had registered his objections, Hudson said that he never took Mrs. Kuhl home again.

December 8 was Saturday. One week from the following Sunday Hudson said that Shipley and Mrs. Kuhl had called at his home in a car, and Shipley had called him out, saying he wanted to talk to him. Hudson got into the rear seat of the car. Shipley, he said, informed him of Mrs. Kuhl's story and threatened that if he did not pay he would tell his wife. Hudson jumped out of the car, and Shipley, shedding his overcoat, made a pass to strike him, but Hudson ran to the house and escaped. Mrs. Kuhl on the following day made an information before Alderman Mantz against Hudson. Hudson also claimed that at the hearing, Shipley made an argument to the alderman to hold him for court.

In corroboration of Hudson's testimony, his wife and sons testified that they had been at home on the Saturday at the time that Mrs. Kuhl had testified that they were absent. Sons of Hudson gave similar testimony. An array of character witnesses were called to show that Hudson has always borne a good reputation in the community. The case is still on trial.

KOPPEL

MRS. PRONESTI ENTERTAINS

Mrs. Jerome Pronesti of Third avenue was a pleasing hostess to members of the Merry Makers Card club at their regular meeting on Thursday evening.

Three tables of 500 were the diversions of the evening and at the close, Mrs. Raymond Labate, Mrs. Anna Colaizzi and Mrs. William Petti were awarded the high score favors.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, with a green and white color motif, appropriate to St. Patrick's Day, being carried out in the appointments. The club's final meeting before disbanding for the summer months will be held at the home of Mrs. Anna Colaizzi, Fourth avenue, in two weeks.

Stock Market Firm But Dull

Utility Shares In Fair Demand, Power And Light Favorites Gain

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 20.—The stock market was firm but dull today although utility shares were in fair demand with North American, Public Service of N. J. American Water Works and other power and light favorites scoring fractional gains.

Rails were moderately firm and Atchison, New York Central, Pennsylvania, and Lackawanna advanced slightly.

Steel stocks held generally steady as did the motors. General Motors and Chrysler were around their previous closing levels.

Tobacco shares were heavy with American Tobacco down a point. Liquor shares were irregular, while mail order and farm implements were quiet and firm.

Oils, aviations, specialties and food shares marked time in dull trading.

Louis Howe Is Growing Weaker

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—The condition of Louis McHenry Howe, the president's secretary, who is ill at the White House, was described as "extremely critical" in a physicians' bulletin issued today.

"His strength is gradually failing," the bulletin added.

Gasoline Tax Being Checked

MANY ARRESTS ARE BEING MADE

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—Working in plainclothes, state highway patrolmen are engaged in an extensive state-wide campaign to tighten up collections of the state's gasoline tax which nets $3,000,000 a month, it was learned today.

Evasions are being ferreted out and action, both civil and criminal, is being taken. Auditors are working along with the patrolmen to speed the drive, according to Deputy Secretary of Revenue, Clyde Sheaffer.

Many Are Jailed

Results already have been reported from the drive. In Warren county, two distributors were sentenced to four months in jail and fined $2,000 each on their guilty pleas to operating as liquid fuels distributors without a permit. A refining company, Sheaffer said he was informed, was fined $25 for attempting to transfer its license to the two men. Civil actions are to follow, he added

Another allegedly unlicensed dealer was to be given a hearing in Bristol today. Sheaffer would not reveal the man's name pending outcome of the case.

Slayer Of Woman Guilty Of Murder

(International News Service)

MEDIA, Pa., Mar. 20.—The law today had won its fight to doom Clarence Thompson, 38, whose life medical science saved.

Thompson was found guilty of the murder of Mrs. Vivian Hoopes, 26, of Linwood, by a jury. The verdict carried a sentence of death.

Mrs. Hoopes was shot to death when she discovered Thompson burglarizing her home early this year. Thompson was seriously wounded in an exchange of shots with Thomas Truitt, a neighbor of Mrs. Hoopes.

These two women lawyers, Dr. Anna Hochfelder and Frieda Hennock, New York, uphold breach of promise and alienation court actions against the demand of the bar association that such suits be hurled into the ash can as archaic rackets. Says Dr. Hochfelder, "People who have suffered should have remedies in a court of law." "Not less but more damages," declares Miss Hennock. "Women who have been shabbily treated should have the right to sue."

A vivid half-hour tale of life in barren Labrador, a strip of land described as twice the size of Pennsylvania, was brought to the Lions Club's weekly luncheon on Tuesday by Dr. Ralph Sheldone, Greenville dentist, who returned last year after spending six years in the frozen north with the famed Sir Wilfred Grenfell party.

Dr. Sheldone was introduced by Lion William H. Fenton, Jr., a life-long friend.

The country, the Greenville man told the club, is inhabited today by about 700 Eskimos in the north and by 700 Indians in the south. Their rugged life was pictured most interestingly.

The exactions of the tax collectors in the Near East are notorious but the Egyptian of last century really made a record hard to beat. In one year he squeezed $75,000,000 out of the Egyptian taxpayer while the whole officially recorded revenue only amounted to $50,000,000.

Wolves Hear Chief Haven

Chief Of Police Tells Of Safety And Local Radio System

At the regular dinner meeting of the Wolves club Tuesday evening in the Elks club, Chief of Police John F. Haven of the New Castle police department gave a most interesting address on "Safety and New Castle's Police Radio System".

After a luscious fish dinner, President Angelo Casacchia turned over the meeting to Carm Sacco, who introduced the dinner speaker. Chief Haven stressed slow driving in the city as a means to protect youngsters. "Thirty miles an hour is fast enough for any motorist to drive in the city. Last year 33,000 persons were killed in automobile accidents in cities in the United States. Think how this number could have been reduced if motorists would have been more careful," Chief Haven stated.

Although the state law states that an autoist must not exceed the 20-mile speed limit in cities, Chief Haven said that autoists will not be molested if they drive about 25 to 30 miles an hour here. "Many citizens protest about our campaign against speeding. These drives cut down the amount of accidents considerably," the speaker cited.

With the aid of RWD employed men, the cost of the police radio system here cost the city of New Castle only $750, Chief Haven said. He also told how the city and county are covered by means of the radio system. "If New Castle had the present system when the Schroeder-Dague crime took place, the two criminals would have never gotten out of the city," Haven stated. In closing, Chief Haven brought out the fact that through their finger print department, all undesirables are kept out of the city. The Wolves club was pleased with the able address.

President Angelo Casacchia and Frank Summers complimented the New Castle police department for its efficiency.

The next regular meeting will be held on Tuesday evening, April 2.

A "Who's Who" of criminals compiled by the Department of Justice contains the names of more than 3,600 known extortioners, racketeers and kidnapers.

Vocational training was given last year to 2,340 British soldiers before leaving the service, and 1,997 of them found employment at once.

HERE'S WHY GIRLS GO WITHOUT BREAKFAST

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—Not because they want to reduce but because they sleep too late in the morning, that's the reason Harrisburg high school girls go without breakfast.

Horace G. Geisel, supervisor of physical education, who made a study of girl students in Harrisburg high schools to find out why they went without breakfast, reached this finding. He said he found only one girl who went without breakfast because she thought she was overweight.

About 14 per cent of all high school girls were found to be missing breakfast rather regularly.

Why You Should Never Cut a Corn

If you are troubled with corns or callouses, do not run the risk of blood poison by paring them. Statistics show that many infections have occurred from this seemingly innocent practice of paring corns.

Simply go to your druggist and get a few cents worth of Ice-Mint, rub a little on any painful corn or callous. Immediately the pain will disappear and in a short time the corn or callous will loosen and lift off easily with the fingers—root and all—leaving the surrounding skin in a healthy normal condition.

This, together with the fact that Ice-Mint overcomes such affections as sore, tired, aching, puffed or burning feet and makes them cool, easy and comfortable, is probably responsible for the hearty endorsement given it by druggists.

To rid one's feet of every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes or painful callouses in such a pleasant and safe way, makes it seem the height of folly for anyone to pare a corn and people are warned to stop it.
